Village departments prepare for move

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

With almost 75 percent of the remodeling completed at the newly purchased Moose Building, several Village of Antioch departments prepare to move into their new offices. In less than two weeks, the remodeling work has progressed substantially.

Antioch Chamber of Commerce, downtown development offices, and Illinois Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis' Antioch office will be the first new tenants of the building.

The village paid $150,000 for the old Moose Lodge building which is next to the village hall and police station. With over 6,000 square feet, the building should address space needs for the village for quite a while.

"It's nice," said Antioch Village Administrator Tim Wells. "It (the remodeling) was done almost completely by the public works department in two weeks."

The old paneling has already been covered by sheet rock and the carpeting, from Fountain-head Carpets and Interiors, gives the old Moose Building a new lease on life. The color schemes make the rooms appear much larger and more airy.

The middle of the building provides a fairly large meeting area, which will offer relief from the meeting conflicts of the various village committees. The large open space can be split in half with a sliding wall when smaller groups need to meet.

Prayer service to help in national healing

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

On May 4, National Day of Prayer, a non-denominational community prayer service will be held at the pavilion at Williams Park. All area churches are participating.

The National Day of Prayer is held every first Thursday in May. However, in light of the Oklahoma City bombing, this year's event may be more important than those of the past. While the nation is grieving over the loss, Americans of all denominations are coming together in prayer.

"The tragedy has started to bring us together," said Antioch's National Day of Prayer coordinator June Pimpo. "It has brought down the barriers between denominations. It has helped us to see what is really important."

Pimpo feels tragedy has more citizens looking towards their faith for comfort. "People aren't blaming God," explained Pimpo. "People are putting their hope and faith in God to get us through this."

In Antioch, many local ministers will be representing their churches and leading in prayer. The Antioch service will be held from noon to 12:25 p.m. and everyone is encouraged to attend. The community prayer service is sponsored by the Antioch National Day of Prayer Committee.

Many areas quiet on sewer study

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

While a large number of homeowners and subdivisions have sent letters either in support or against a proposed sewer feasibility study, there are still some not heard from. The proposed study would evaluate costs, types of systems needed, and even the workability of a sewer system in the unincorporated areas of Antioch Township.

"Work is continuing on the sewer study," said President Carol Jonites of the United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA). "There are numerous areas which we have not heard from."

These subdivisions include: Blunt Beachwood, Channel Lake Shores, Channel View, Canoaks, East Loon Lake, Edgewater Manor, Groveland, Indian Point, North Fox Lake Heights, Petite Lake Gardens, Rosing, Sabrina Manor, Settlers, Shaw, Wedgewood, and Woodland.

Jonites encourages residents of these subdivisions to contact their subdivision officials so that "their voices can be heard." She said if there is no official association in a particular area, individuals can send letters regarding the study.

The study, which would be conducted by an outside contractor for the Lake County Public Works, would evaluate the costs and possibility of sewer service to the Antioch Township area. Lake County Public Works Director Al Galantha has told residents in an earlier UHAUA meeting, the feasibility study would not obligate homeowners but is "simply a study." He said the study would be paid for by user fees.

If approved by the Lake County Board, the study would include all of the unincorporated Antioch Township. However, it is not known if all areas could receive sewer service.

For more information, call 395-7371. A copy of a sample letter will be mailed to anyone interested.

Vehicle strikes Rescue Squad

Gurnee and nearby fire department ambulances were called to the scene when an automobile struck an Antioch Rescue Squad vehicle.

Those involved, including the patient in the Antioch ambulance, were transported to Condell Medical Center or St. Therese. Departments responding included Gurnee, Waukegan, Newport and Zion. The incident took place at the Route 41 and 21 intersection.

In other calls:

A 36-year-old North Chicago resident was found dead on April 20 after a passer-by reported a man slumped over in his car. Park City Police officer Mike Luff and a resident tried to perform CPR on the man, who was pronounced dead at St. Therese Medical Center. Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath said there was no way of knowing how long the man was dead.

Nine persons signed medical refusal releases after someone released pepper mace at a Gurnee McDonalds April 19. The restaurant was evacuated for a short time.

A car fire causing $1,000 in damage was incurred at Marquardt Olds in Park City on April 19. The car was a 1979 Lincoln Continental.

There were four minor injuries reported from an accident April 22 at Westbrook and Hunt Club Road.

Cable marks success of program

US Cable General Manager Paul Ashley announced that in the last 30 days, the cable company has not had to issue any free installations or credits under the guidelines of the On-Time Guarantee program launched March 1.

"The success of this program lies in the teamwork of the staff, who have really pulled together," said Ashley. He added, "Our customers have been receiving top-notch, on-time service which is what they deserve, and we're happy to provide it for them."

Rte. 59 work will last all summer

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

It's the season for road construction. West Lake County residents will be faced with major road work on Rte. 59.

The $3 million project began in December and won't be finished until mid-October. The work runs from Wilson Road all the way to Grand Avenue. The majority of the work is expected to be complete by Aug. 31, according to Al Zanzola of Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT).

Residents will have to deal with traffic delays during day hours when there will be only one lane where construction is ongoing. During evening hours two lanes will be open.

A "dry" bridge is being rebuilt. People aren't aware of the bridge which is over a section of soft ground. Concrete barriers have been placed where the bridge is.

On the positive side, the new format should permit better traffic flows. For the first time, Rte. 59 will have left turn lanes.

Left turn lanes will be added to 20 side streets along Rte. 59. Among them are Orchard Drive, Lincoln Avenue and Monaville Road. There won't be a traffic signal at Monaville and Rte. 59.

There will be a median down the middle of the road and the width increased by a few feet, according to Zanzola.

Also some sewer work will be performed with new culverts installed.

BRIEFS

Opening Day set for April 29

Opening Day for Antioch Youth Baseball is set for April 29 at 11 a.m. at Williams Park. Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug will throw the first pitch to celebrate the start of the baseball and softball seasons for Antioch Youth Baseball.

Bowl-A-Thon

The Antioch Community High School National Honor Society and Antioch Bowl is sponsoring a Bowl-A-thon on May 11 at 4, 6, and 8 p.m. The event is to help Beth diRivera of Lake Villa offset some of her medical costs for treatment of muscular dystrophy and anorexia. Registration and pledge forms are available at Antioch Community High School and the registration fee will be $5. The Bowl-A-thon is open to the public. Registration forms must be returned to the school by May 8.

New addition

The Lakes Region Historical Society would like to announce a new arrival. Their 1890 Silver Edition Studebaker Carriage has finally been reconditioned. The carriage received 21 coats of lacquer, genuine wool cushions and naugahyde dash. The work was done by Bob Christenson and the original donation of the carriage was made by Marlene Miller.

Pientka retires

Thomas Pientka, former president of the Lakes Region Historical Society, has retired from his post. He will, however, continue his membership and participation in the group. A great big thank you, Tom, from everyone in Antioch for all of your fine work.

Recycling seminar

What happens to our garbage and recyclables after we toss them out? What products are made from recyclable materials? Find out at the Northern Illinois Conservation Clubs next education program. Leisa Niemotka of the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County will be on hand to provide information about recycling on Saturday, April 29 at 9 a.m. Call 395-NICC for more information.

Plant sale

If you are looking for the perfect Mother's Day gift or just to spruce up your yard after this long, chilly spring, the Antioch Lower Grade School is the place to stop. On Saturday, May 13, the PTO will hold their annual Spring Bedding Plant Sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Hanging baskets and bedding plants from S & S Landscaping will be on sale. The profits will also be going to a great cause - a computer lab for the school.

Keep May 29 open

On May 29, Brigadier General George Oliver Hillard III, Air Force Colonel Ross, Navy Captain Hugh J. McCullum, Senator Adeline Geo-Karis, State Representative Robert Churchill, State Treasurer Judy Barr-Topinka, as well as local officials will be on hand to help Antioch dedicate the new Veteran's Memorial. The festivities will begin at 10:30 a.m. and will include music by Antioch Community High School and Antioch Upper Grade School Marching Bands and a host of others to dedicate the new tank. More information should be available soon.

Irish American Dance

A dance held by the Irish American Club will be held on April 29 from 6:30 p.m. to midnight at the Lake Villa VFW. Ticket cost is $25 per person and includes dinner and entertainment by the McNulty Dancers and the Donnybrook Band. The public is invited to attend. Call 395-3942 or 395-4644 for ticket information.

Emmons to blast off in May

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The mission of the Emmon's Kaboom... To the Moon Shuttle is scheduled for blast off May 10 and 11. In this space simulation, students will learn about shuttle flight life and life aboard a space station.

Emmons is one of the many schools which participate in this real time experiment. Students at "mission control" will be linked by radio and computer to other schools participating.

The program is directed through the Lake County

Business and Industry Education Consortium.

Parents and students are in the process of constructing self-contained habitats to house the student astronauts. Connected through radio and computer, students in the habitats will be in continual contact with mission control, which is also staffed by students.

This is the fifth year Emmons School has participated in the program. Included in the May 8-12 mission dates will be Millburn School, North Chicago High School, Allendale, Novak King, Shiloh Park and West.

The media and public officials will be touring the Emmon's facilities on May 10 and 11 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. On May 12 at 1:30 p.m. a press conference and reception will follow.

The students involved in the Emmons blast off will be in the fourth and fifth grades.

"We have worked hard to prepare for this special event," said student Chris Kocinski in a letter of invitation. "To prepare, we study things such as life in zero gravity and life in a space station."

AUGS teacher wins competitive stipend

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Chris Bryant, a sixth grade social studies teacher at Antioch Upper Grade School has been selected to receive $2,825 to attend the National Endowment for Humanities Summer Institute. The seminar, "Three Historic Trails: Socrates, Joan of Arc, and John Scopes" will be held at Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minnesota.

AUGS Principal Debbie Kerr-Carpenter sent a glowing recommendation of Bryant to the selection committee. "Not only does Chris do an exemplary job in his teaching, his students 'live the ages' and experience the ancient civilizations in a contemporary context," said Kerr-Carpenter.

Bryant has been teaching at Antioch Upper Grade School for over five years. He is a member of the district social studies curriculum team, and sponsors the school's geography bee.

According to Kerr-Carpenter, Bryant enthusiastically reads "out loud the Greek tragedies which motivates his students to learn and positively shapes their attitudes about the significance of history."

Students in Bryant's classes have many opportunities to share what they know through the completion of projects, hands-on type assignments and demonstrations.

The seminar Bryant will be attending will be held June 26 - 28.

Scholarships available at College of Lake County

May 1 is the deadline to apply for several scholarships available at the College of Lake County. Applications are available in the financial aid office, Room B-114.

The following scholarships are open to CLC students:

The Orville Redenbacher's Second Start Scholarship Program will award 25 $1,000 scholarships to adults who are re-entering college or beginning for the first time at CLC in the 1995-96 school year. Applicants must be at least 30 years old at the time of application and enrolled full- or part-time in a degree program at CLC.

The Illinois Northeast Chapter of the Institute of Management Accountants will award a $300 scholarship to students pursuing an associate degree in accounting at CLC. Applicants must be Lake County residents who are enrolled at CLC at least half-time and have completed a minimum of 30 credit hours.

The CLC Foundation will award academic achievement scholarships to full-time students pursuing an associate degree at CLC. Recipients will receive full tuition and fees at the in-district rate up to a maximum of 63 credit hours within three years as long as they maintain a 3.25 grade point average (GPA). Applicants must have a 3.5 high school GPA if they are new students. Current CLC students who apply for the scholarship must have a 3.5 GPA and have completed at least 15 credit hours.

The ESL College Opportunities Award by the CLC Foundation is open to students who have completed English as a second language instruction. Recipients will receive full tuition and fees at the in-district rate up to a maximum of 63 credit hours within five years as long as they maintain a 2.0 GPA for the first 15 hours and 2.5 thereafter. Applicants must be admitted as a student at CLC and must enroll in six credit hours each semester.

The GED/High School Completion College Opportunities Award, funded by the CLC Foundation, is available for students who have earned a GED or high school diploma, or completed a GED certificate program or high school completion classes. For complete details on scholarship requirements, call the financial aid office at 223-3610.

School Briefs

Burke goes to Girls State

Antioch Community High School announced its delegate to Girls State. Junior Lauren Burke has been chosen to attend the week long simulation program where junior girls from high schools throughout the State learn about the functions of government. Girls State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Lauren has been active in school activities and has been chosen as Editor-in-Chief of the school newspaper, the Tom Tom, for the 1995-96 school year. She is the daughter of Cathy and Daniel Burke of Antioch. Tracy Virag has been chosen as the alternate for Girls State and is the daughter of Theresa and Steven Roddy of Lake Villa.

PTO meeting

The Antioch Grade School PTO will meet May 1 in the school's library. All parents are encouraged to attend. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m.

Dinner dance

Antioch Upper Grade School eighth graders will be gathering May 31 at 7 p.m. for their annual dinner dance. This years theme will be Medieval Times. Tickets cost $10 per student, but the cost can be offset by selling raffle tickets. A DJ will provide the evenings entertainment including a video screen, balloons, and fog machines.

Count down

Good news for students at District 34, bad news for parents. There are only 30 days of school left in the year as of April 28. The last day of school will be June 12.

Spring play

Antioch Community High School is presenting "Up the Down Staircase" on April 28 and 29. Performance begins at 7:30 p.m. and the public is encouraged to attend.

Police Beat

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Brawl at restaurant

A brawl broke out at Las Vegas Restaurant on April 23 at 11:30 a.m., which resulted in the arrest of John Zielnik, 24, of Lindenhurst and Jeffrey T. Fogal, 21, of Lindenhurst. Police were called after the men entered the restaurant, allegedly intoxicated, and began yelling at a waiter. After being asked to leave, Zielnik reportedly cursed and flipping over a table, causing it and the dishes on top to break. Zielnik also reportedly struck the waiter in the stomach. According to the report, Fogal then began yelling profanities, at which time, several "unknown" customers attempted to rescue the waiter. This effort resulted in even more tables being knocked over and dishes broken all over the floor. In addition, Fogal was hit in the face by an unknown rescuer. Zielnik was charged with criminal damage to property, battery, and released on bond. Fogal was charged with disorderly conduct and refused medical attention.

Broken toilet bowl

On April 21, Sarah R. Labus, 18 of Fox Lake and Ernest Slavik, 18, of Antioch, were arrested after an altercation at D & C. Both, minors had reportedly consumed some alcohol when they went into the men's restroom. According to a report, Labus and Slavik entered the restroom to argue. Labus told police she kicked the toilet bowl, causing it to break. Water began to spill over the floor. Slavik was charged with consumption of alcohol by a minor and released on bond. Labus was charged with consumption of alcohol by a minor and criminal damage to property. Both told police they were not as for identification by the bartender.

Order of protection violation

Thomas J. Quinn, 29, of Antioch, was arrested and charged with violating an order of protection. Quinn denied making phone calls despite caller identification evidence to the contrary. He was released on bond.

Suspended license

Russell J. Turock, 47, of Silver Lake, Wisconsin, was arrested and charged with driving on a suspended license on April 15, after police stopped him for traveling 52 mph in a 35 mph zone. Turock was also charged with speeding and released on bond.

Studio One performs at regional competition

Antioch's Studio One Dance Troupe attended the Regional Showstopper Dance Competition held in Aurora. This was their first competition and they brought home many medals.

Each individual dancer in the group brought home a medal for her solo: Becky Clarke, third place; Brandi Cresson, second place; Colleen Monks, second place; Erin McMenamin, second place; Megan Beemer, honorable mention; and Jenny Lindemann, honorable mention.

stated, "They did a wonderful job at their first competition!"

Studio One Dance Troupe also performed at the Alden Terrace Healthcare Center in McHenry, doing their solos and group dances. Connors stated, "It's always a pleasure bringing smiles to the faces of the people your group is performing for." In this case, it was for her father's birthday, who is a resident of the healthcare facility, and for the many others who reside there.

Antioch's Studio One Dance Troupe will be attending another dance competition in Rockford next month. For more information about Studio One Dance, contact the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. at 395-2160.

Well, congratulations to all, and Elaine, be sure and buy an extra paper and send it to Melinda. I am sure she will want to show this announcement to everyone in Romeoville and humiliate Kelli in her hometown as well. Don't fret, Kelli, I promise when I publicly wish you a Happy 21st Birthday, I won't print your weight!

Domino's does deliver

Sounds like a bad movie, doesn't it? But Domino's does indeed deliver, as was the case at the Grass Lake School Kindergarten Easter parties. A big thank you goes out to Patti and Dave Brooke of Antioch's very own Domino's Pizza! What a team they are.

While Patti was attending to her librarian duties at St. Peter's, I questioned her about getting some pizzas for the Kids' Easter parties. She quickly tracked down hubby Dave and after some whispering into the phone (I couldn't help but overhear "but Dave, she writes a column now"—ah, the power of print), Dave agreed to open shop early and get the pizzas made.

When I went in Friday at 10:15 to pick up the pizzas for the morning Kindergarten's party, I inquired into the possibility of having the afternoon Kindergarten's pizzas delivered. Dave graciously said that would not be a problem, and lo and behold, Dave himself delivered those pizzas right on time and right to the teacher's desk. What service!

The party was a huge success and the kids thoroughly enjoyed the change from the regular party fare of cupcakes and cookies. One little guy, who had pizza smeared all over his face, told me how delicious the pizza was, "but Mrs. Pringle, it would be even more delicious if it had pepperoni on it." That about says it all. So thanks Dave and Patti, you made us room moms look real good!

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"...don't forget to call 395-6364.

LETTER TO THE Editor

Prayer day

Editor:

Last week after the bombing took place in Oklahoma City, I was stunned by the images of a sliced-apart building, rescuers sifting through rubble and tossing aside a twisted tricycle, and glazed-eyed people wandering the streets with photos of their lost family members. It is gut-wrenching to see a handful of radicals who believe they are upholding our country's constitution, thereby guaranteeing our freedom, so tragically and ironically remove it from so many.

But over and over, out of faces twisted with grief, I heard people talk of God and of prayer. And I thought about how appropriate that in a time of crisis and sorrow that people cling to what is really important—their relationship with their creator.

On May 4, a non-denominational community prayer service will be held at Williams Park in Antioch at noon in honor of the National Day of Prayer. The National Day of Prayer was established in 1952 by Congress and was permanently designated as the first Thursday in May in 1988. Now, more than ever, we need to be praying for our country and our community. I hope to see you there.

The spotlight's on — Antioch's Baskin-Robbin

Congratulations to Baskin-Robbin of Antioch, winner of the Marketing of Excellence Award for the third year in a row! In March, Gayle and Larry Mondie attended the national Baskin-Robbin convention which was held in Las Vegas. There they were awarded this prestigious award for the third consecutive year.

This award was based on local community involvement and participation in Baskin-Robbin programs. Larry and Gayle are staunch supporters of the Lake County PAD shelter, located in Antioch. Besides being generous with "tasty donations," they also operate as a clothing drop-off location for PADS. For several months this past winter, Larry actively solicited winter clothing donations for PADS throughout the Antioch community.

In addition to the Marketing of Excellence Award, they were honored with the Extra Mile Award. This award was presented based on going above and beyond the expected. Projecting a positive image and focusing on personal service won the Antioch store this award. They were selected from among 4,400 stores across the country. Only five of these awards were given nationally this year, which is proof of the small-town commitment and service that Antioch prides itself on.

While Gayle and Larry were receiving their awards in Las Vegas, their Antioch store was under renovation. When you stop by, you'll notice a new floor, door, windows, tables and chairs. All part of the "above and beyond" image that they strive to maintain.

Their new renovations enable them to increase the number of cake and pie orders they take and still provide the same great service. Keep this in mind as Mother's Day approaches. New products are always popping up at Baskin-Robbins. Some of the new treats in store for you are: Fortune Cookies (filled with ice cream and drizzled with chocolate); Pizza (ice cream pizza with a delicious brownie or cookie crust!); and soft service ice cream.

On the lighter side, health concerns are a topic of everyday conversation. At Baskin-Robbins, they've listened to these concerns and offer a variety of "health conscious" items, including sugar-free ice cream and yogurt. You'll still find the same great taste, but without the extras.

Next time you're in town, stop by and congratulate Larry and Gayle. It's a great way to let them know all their hard work is appreciated. Can you imagine the talk in Las Vegas when the Antioch store won the Extra Mile Award from among 4,400 stores? Everybody was probably saying: "Where's Antioch?"

Studio One performs at regional competition

This was their first competition and they brought home many medals.

Each individual dancer in the group brought home a medal for her solo: Becky Clarke, third place; Brandi Cresson, second place; Colleen Monks, second place; Erin McMenamin, second place; Megan Beemer, honorable mention; and Jenny Lindemann, honorable mention.

The dancers also brought home two medals for the group dances: Tap, third place; and jazz, honorable mention.

Instructor Anna Connors

stated, "They did a wonderful job at their first competition!"

Studio One Dance Troupe also performed at the Alden Terrace Healthcare Center in McHenry, doing their solos and group dances. Connors stated, "It's always a pleasure bringing smiles to the faces of the people your group is performing for." In this case, it was for her father's birthday, who is a resident of the healthcare facility, and for the many others who reside there.

Antioch's Studio One Dance Troupe will be attending another dance competition in Rockford next month. For more information about Studio One Dance, contact the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. at 395-2160.

Audubon Society holds presentation

Vicky Ranney, noted author and vice president of Prairie Holdings Corporation, will make a presentation to Audubon Society members and guests on May 1 at 8 p.m. in the lower lecture room of Cook Memorial Library, 413 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

She will detail the founding concepts and current progress of the Prairie Crossing development, which realizes the dream of late Audubon member Gaylord Donnelly and his wife, Dorothy, who "envisioned a residential community where people live in harmony with the land and where they sustain and enjoy the environment."

The public is urged and welcomed to all meetings.

The purpose of WINGS is to encourage women to seek elective and appointive office, to educate women about leadership roles and the political process, to promote their participation in public affairs, to afford a forum for women to address appropriate issues, to stimulate research about women and their role in and impact on government, and to provide an educational clearing house for information in governmental issues and women's political participation.

ABWA honors student of month

The Grayslake/NE Ill. Chapter of the American Business Women's Assn. (ABWA) will have its May 11 meeting at the State Bank of the Lakes in the community room in the bank. Our networking time is at 6 p.m. with a light supper and business meeting at 7 p.m.

The educational committee has announced that the student of the month is Jaclyn Pieczkiewicz from Woodland School. The student of the month will receive a Student of the Month ABWA ribbon, a certificate and a U.S. savings bond. The bond will be presented by Max Lamperuer, manager of Office Max, Hunt Club Rd., Gurnee. Office Max is the business sponsor of the month, which will award a U.S. savings bond to the May student of the month. The student is then eligible to become Student of the Year. All students, sponsors of the month and women of the year at a 46th anniversary on Sept. 22.

A monthly feature of the chapter is Member's Minutes. This month, the company representative is Honeywell, and their employee is Colleen Blom, a charter member of the Grayslake/NE Ill. Chapter of ABWA.

The chapter has been chosen as a benefactor for the Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics. By buying a ticket to the concert from a member, money will go to the scholarship fund. The show to be presented at the Libertyville High School on May 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. will be the Rollicking Romantic Rhythms. Tickets are being sold at Zeigfield's Beauty Shop, Greenwood and Jackson in Waukegan. Call fundraiser chairwoman Casia Holmgren at 566-0709 or call Marge Keenan-Denniston at 223-3146.

The speaker of the evening is Dr. Bruce Hamming. The topic will be "Coping With Carpal Tunnel Syndrome," with a question-and-answer period. Guests are welcome, but a reservation must be made. Call Sue Massarin at 623-8692 or membership chair Maggi Banick at 244-2995.

Applications for new members are being accepted, and information can be obtained by calling Marge Keenan-Denniston, charter president, at 223-3146. Membership is open to business workers, executives, self employed and business owners.

ABWA is a professional business association with national offices in Kansas City, Mo. and over 90,000 members and 2,100 chapters. Members hail from Barrington, Mundelein, Libertyville, Vernon Hills, McHenry, Waukegan, Zion, Winthrop Harbor, Kenosha, Antioch, Round Lake, Lindenhurst and Grayslake.

Author visits ACHS

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Alden R. Carter, noted youth author, visited Antioch Community High School last week. The 850 English I and II students learned about the writing process as well as the difficulties of writing about a deeply personal subject. Carter weaved the two, seemingly unrelated topics, together.

The students had read a book called "Up Country" by Carter, which deals with the issue of parental alcoholism. The book focuses on the difficulties of a teenage boy as he tries to pull his life together after his alcoholic mother is arrested.

Carter first explained to students where to find ideas for books. "If we keep our eyes open and our ears open, we can find good stories," said Carter.

"I do a lot of research in the beginning," said Carter. "It is my obligation to get the facts right."

He told the students after he got the idea to write "Up Country" he did not believe he would need to do much research. "I'm a child of an alcoholic. My father died when I was 17," Carter explained. Carter said he was sure he knew everything about the subject.

However, after reading only one book on the subject he learned differently. "I realized I didn't know anything about being a child of an alcoholic," said Carter. He advised, "It is very hard to understand a problem when you are standing in the middle of it. How could I have missed the whole picture?"

Carter went on to explain "Up Country" is not an autobiographical novel. "But," he said, "I share with Carl (the boy in the story) the rage and the journey."

He went on to say, "I know that a lot of you out there this morning come from alcoholic families. Do not wait 25 years to get a handle on this problem. This is not your fault. Do not blame yourself."

With six award winning novels, and 20 books of nonfiction for young adults, Carter is quite knowledgeable in the publication process. He encouraged the students to write, and explained how to handle editorial corrections from teachers.

"In five to six months, I send in a manuscript. I send it to New York and it is perfect," said Carter. Perfect, that is, until the editorial corrections come back. "I grind my teeth for 36 hours," admitted Carter, "but 90 percent of the time she (his editor) is right."

Carter encouraged students to begin writing now. "This is a profession where you can achieve at an early age," he explained. He offered tips to the students about how to write well, focusing on setting aside enough time and "rewrite, rewrite, rewrite."

Student interest changes play plans

Antioch Community High School's spring play, "Up the Down Staircase," a comedy about the trials of a first-year English teacher in a New York City high school, has been cast and the students are hard at work bringing this upbeat piece to life.

Originally, Director Jenny Sliker had selected "Cheaper by the Dozen" for the spring production, but when 50 students came to the auditions, she decided a play with more characters would allow her to better utilize the talent she had. Thirty-five students were cast for "Staircase" and "Dozen" is now slated for the fall play next school year.

"There were so many good seniors and talented students who had never tried out for a play, I just couldn't cut that group down to 16," said Sliker.

Sliker adds that high school theater is an educational experience and as many students as possible should be included.

Several performances are scheduled for the end of April. Senior citizens in the community are invited to attend the dress rehearsal as part of the Sharing is Caring program in conjunction with Student Council. The Student Council puts on a free dinner prior to the show. Upwards of 150 are expected to attend.

Students from area grade schools will be attending a school day performance on Friday, April 28 at 12:30 p.m. Fifth through eighth graders from Antioch Upper Grade and Emmons Grade School will be in attendance. Over 1,000 students came to the children's shows this fall and 300 are expected on Friday.

Public performances are set for April 28 and 29 at 7:30 p.m., and April 30 at 6 p.m. in the high school auditorium, 1133 Main St., Antioch. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for students and seniors.

Club learns about child abuse issues

The Antioch Jr. Woman's Club held their meeting at St. Stephen's Church. At that meeting, representative Kelly Arnold from the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center, made a presentation.

This center was formed in 1985 and its primary goal was to address the rapidly growing problem of child sexual abuse. The center is a cooperative effort between the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services, the Lake County Sheriff's Police, the Waukegan Police Dept., State's Attorney Office and local law enforcement agencies.

Historically, children were subjected to multiple, independent interviews, causing further trauma. The center's multi-disciplinary and single interview approach is designed to diminish this additional trauma. Upon disclosure, center staff immediately establishes social and legal support structure, which is essential to ensure the child is not revictimized. Sensitive and thorough investigations are conducted by a highly trained staff. A social worker provides crisis intervention and court advocacy for child victims and families. Social service referrals are provided for ongoing treatment. The center is located in Waukegan and does an invaluable service to these children. A donation of $75 was given to the center by the Antioch Jr. Woman's Club.

After the speaker's presentation, there was social time and refreshments with the business meeting following. A new slate of officers for the 1995/96 club year was presented and elected. They are: Sharon Oldenburger, president; Patti Antonelli, vice president; Vickie Axton, treasurer; Terry Korom, recording secretary; and Amy Graesser, corresponding secretary. The members wish to thank the outgoing president, Terry Korom, for two years of leadership and wish her a full and speedy recovery.

Volunteers needed for fund raiser

On Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6, the Lake County Society for Human Development (LCSHD), 3441 Sheridan Rd., Zion, plans to kick off their sweetest fund-raiser ever. Supports of LCSHD will be located throughout Zion accepting donations in exchange for lollipops. Volunteers are needed to cover various shifts. It is a great opportunity for families, clubs and businesses to give back to their community. LCSHD's goal is to raise $10,000 and in order to do this, they are counting on the community to give generously of their time and/or financial support.

Anyone interested in volunteering or donating should call Arlene Demb or Carol Curi at 872-1700.

Move

"This will be a nice community room," said Wells. "And, if there is a request for handicapped access for a village board meeting, we can always move over here."

A kitchen off the meeting room will allow access to a coffee maker and will also be used as a break room for the building department.

The back part of the building will house the building department, including an office for Bob Silhan, village planner. In the far easterly corner, plans are in the works to expand the police records department. This area is already closed off to the rest of the building.

The front part of the building has been finished first, to permit those departments currently housed in the United Methodist Church building to move before the May 1 lease expires.

"Claude's (LeMere) office carpet and trim should be finished today," said Wells. "We'll be moving him in Thursday or Friday at the latest."

Kids keep safe on lakes

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Sheriff's Marine Unit in conjunction with McDonald's will be promoting safety and sunbaths by offering rewards to kids who don their life jackets this season.

Captain Willie Smith of the County Marine Patrol gladly accepted 15 pint-sized orange life vests from the Lake County Riverboat L.P. last week in a promotional effort to increase child safety on the Chain O' Lakes.

The personal flotation devices (PFD's) will be available as loaners on a daily basis for those in need of them.

Normally, when the marine patrol observes a child on a boat without a life vest, the driver of the vessel would get ticketed at around $50 for each offense.

But with the new program, sheriff's officers will loan the vests for the day, with a deposit such as a driver's license which would be collected and held until the return of the PFD.

The Fox Lake McDonald's, the only one of its kind on the Chain O' Lakes, is giving a special award certificate for a sundae to each child who receives a vest from a County Marine Patrol officer.

Pat Olsen, representative of the Fox Lake McDonald's, explained when the Riverboat people and the County sheriff's approached them with the idea, they thought it was a great project and they didn't hesitate to participate.

Lake County Board Member Ed Fojtik praised the project. "There's nothing worse than coming out for a day of fun, and getting a ticket. Most of all, the safety factor for the kids is number one," he said.

Frobel's foot found in Bristol

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

A dismembered foot of Stacey Frobel was found in Bristol, Wisconsin over the weekend. The right foot was reported found only 400 feet south of where one of Frobel's hands was found last month.

"The foot was in an advanced state of decomposition," said Lieutenant Larry Zarletti of the Kenosha County Sheriff's Department. Kenosha just got confirmation the foot indeed belonged to Frobel Wednesday morning.

"It is the foot of Stacey Frobel," said Zarletti. "We just got that confirmation."

Both the hand and foot were found in the 8800 block of 184th Street (Highway D) in Bristol. This is roughly 5 miles from the state line, and 6 miles from the location where Frobel's legs and skull were found by dogs.

Frobel, 24, had been missing since Jan. 4, when she left her home in Carol Stream. Her car was found later in Hanover Park on Feb. 10.

Frobel leaves behind a husband, Jeffrey, and a son. Susan Eblery, Frobel's mother, has custody of Frobel's 5-year-old son.

The Lake County Sheriff's Department is in charge of the case since Frobel's severed legs were discovered in Lake County. The Lake County aspect of the case began on Jan. 16 when a family pet brought home a portion of Frobel's severed leg. On Jan. 21, the same dog brought home the left leg. Police were able to determine both legs belonged to Frobel. Later, a skull was found in the same area as the legs.

"We are cooperating with whatever Lake County needs are," said Zarletti. "It is their case."

However, Zarletti admitted residents in Kenosha County feel a little "uncomfortable."

Antioch community cop selected

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

A new police officer has been added to the Antioch Police Department roster. Keith Zupec will join the force, freeing up another officer to launch the community policing program in Antioch.

The Antioch Village Board applied for a federal grant under the COPS FAST program in late December of last year. The program, which had become available to smaller municipalities, offsets a percentage of the cost of hiring a police officer for community policing program.

The community policing program in Antioch will use an officer in various capacities including heading up the DARE program as well as establishing an office at Antioch Community High School.

"We're going to use him to promote a relationship between the Village, the school, students and parents," said Lieutenant Charles Watkins. "He will meet periodically with the Dean of Students to discuss any problems at the school." Watkins said Officer Ronald Nauman has been selected as the community policing officer.

Nauman has been with the department for seven years and is currently involved in the DARE program.

Village Manager Tim Wells told the Antioch Village Board in December he had spoken with officials at the high school. He was told the school board would be willing to pay a percentage of the officers salary each year. Watkins will be meeting with administrators Thursday to discuss the financial arrangements.

The community policing officer will spend 4 days at the school and 1 day in the DARE program. Nauman will make presentations to parents, students and PTO organizations promoting safety and good citizenship. In addition, Nauman will act as a liaison and advocate for the village, police department and school.

Having an officer at a school is not a new idea, and is covered by the federal grant. Waukegan currently has four officers at their school. Both Wheeling and Mundelein also have police satellite offices in schools.

"We have spoken to schools in the area which have tried this kind of thing," said Watkins. "It has worked out quite well in other communities."

Waterway wants opinions on dredging, raking plans

The Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency wants to dredge and rake 51 sites for maintenance purposes in the public waters of the Fox River and Chain O' Lakes in Lake and McHenry counties, the Ill. Dept. of Transportation has reported. The agency has applied for the pertinent permit from the department's division of water resources.

Interested persons, either favoring or opposing the proposal, are invited to send written comments.

The sites are between the Algonquin Dam and the Wisconsin state line. The proposed dredging and raking is a continuation of the existing channel maintenance program.

The work is required to maintain boat access to public channels and to reduce the suspension of sediments caused by boat traffic. The dredge spoils are to be removed to various upland sites outside of wetlands.

Inquiries, written statements and request to review plans should be directed to the Northern Area Office of the department's Division of Water Resources, 201 W. Center Ct., Schaumburg, IL 60196; 705-4341.

A box lunch is offered for all who are interested at a cost of $3.50. Call Leslie Banchak at 356-6648 in advance to reserve a lunch.

Public Notice

Proposed Issuance of Air Pollution Control Permit to NuWay Speaker Products Inc., Antioch, IL

NuWay Speaker Products Inc. has requested a federally enforceable state operating permit for its cone coating and drying ovens at its plant located at 945 Anita Ave., Antioch. NuWay Speaker Products currently has a state operating permit. The company voluntarily requested federally enforceable limitations that will require it to operate as a non-major source. Operations at this facility consist of dipping cones, which are speaker components, in the cone coaters and then drying the coating in the drying ovens.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (Agency) has reviewed the permit application and has concluded that the application complies with applicable state and federal air pollution control laws and rules, including the Illinois Environmental Protection Act, the Federal Clean Air Act, and Illinois' Rules for Air Pollution, 35 Ill. Adm. Code: Subtitle B.

The proposed permit limits the production and emission rates of this plant and requires NuWay Speaker Products, Inc. to comply with applicable state and federal regulations. The permit includes monitoring, and record keeping and reporting requirements to demonstrate that production and emission limits are being met. The proposed permit would enable these requirements to be enforced by the USEPA, as well as the Agency. These requirements will assure that the plant will be operated as a non-major source.

Persons wanting more information may review the Agency's project summary and draft permit and the permit application at the Agency's offices at 1701 South First Ave., Maywood, IL, and 1340 North Ninth St., Springfield. Copies of the documents will be made available upon request.

Comments are requested on the proposed issuance of this permit. Comments must be postmarked by midnight June 12, 1995. If sufficient interest is expressed in this permit, a hearing may be held. Requests for information, comments, and questions should be directed to Syed Rizwan, Division of Air Pollution Control, Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, PO Box 19276, Springfield, Illinois 62794-9276, phone 217/782-2113, TDD phone number 217/782-9143.

Eagles open season with win

The Lindenhurst Royal Eagles flew off to a great season opener, playing the Inverness Red Devils and coming away with a 4-2 victory.

The game had 12 minutes gone when Brian Walsh intercepted a pass and took it to the net. Nine minutes later, Ryan Jordan fed a perfect pass to Tommy Woodruff, who hammered it home.

The second half started with the combination of Walsh setting up another Woodruff goal. With five minutes remaining in the game, Brian Halvey picked off a pass and took it all the way for the score.

Adam Jordan had an outstanding day in the net with 17 saves. Other standouts included David Calvert, Kaleb Barrett, Erik Carlberg, Christian Chebny, Ramesh Kumar, Kevin Beaudry and Adam Placko.

Opening Day set for April 29

Opening Day for Antioch Youth Baseball is set for April 29 at 11 a.m. at Williams Park.

Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug will throw the first pitch to celebrate the start of the baseball and softball seasons for Antioch Youth Baseball.

Rockets start season with win

The Rockets started their spring season with a 2-0 win over visiting Elmhurst. Goals were scored by Stephanie Willding and Lauren Cole. Kristina Gopp assisted on Willding's goal. Strong mid-field play and good defense also contributed to the win.

The Rockets were not so fortunate with their second game. They lost to Lake Forest by a score of 2-1. Miranda Korbal scored the Rockets' only goal. Erin Peacy and Gopp assisted on the goal. The Rockets were unable to convert many of their scoring opportunities.

The Rockets will travel to Elgin on April 29 for their next game.

Sequoit baseball praying for better weather

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Like the spring season, Antioch's baseball team has been as fickle as the weather.

For the most part, it has been a stormy spring for the Sequoits, but then again there are times when the Sequoits break through the clouds and shine brightly.

Antioch put to rest a seven-game losing streak with an 8-7 win over Fenton.

"We've been playing pretty good baseball, but we haven't been able to get the wins," said Coach Paul Petty.

Eric Eckenstahler returned to the mound for the first time in more than two weeks to gain the win in the make-up game against Fenton.

Eckenstahler gave up one run on two hits, struckout nine and walked four in five innings

"He came in and did a good job, especially after being off for so many games. That was encouraging," Petty said.

A number of key bats came alive as well to support Eckenstahler's pitching performance.

Craig Curtis was perfect at the plate with a 4-4 effort, including a triple and two RBIs.

"He was sort of thrown from the frying pan into the fire," Petty said of his junior first baseman who has stepped up and has assumed his role during his first year on varsity.

Justin McRae and Josh Zeller went 2-3 and 2-2 respectively.

"We bunted and hit at the right time," Petty said.

Junior shortstop Eric Campbell also collected two hits during three trips to the plate during the Fenton victory. His hits produced two RBIs.

"Eric Campbell is starting to hit the ball a little bit better," Petty said. "One more person hitting can make a difference."

Four fielding errors kept the game close, Petty said.

"The hay definitely wasn't in the barn until the last out," Petty noted.

The Fenton victory improved Antioch's record to 3-9, 1-3.

But then, Antioch squared off against perennially tough Stevenson Tuesday night and was defeated 9-3. The Patriots pounded out 13 hits, while Antioch could only manage three.

The Sequoits will travel to Stevenson for the rematch Thursday before going to Warren for a Saturday doubleheader.

The Sequoits are hoping for another sunny day.

Boys track makes history at Lake Forest

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

For the first time in 30-plus years or for as long as memory serves, Antioch's boys track team came away sole winners of the Lake Forest Invitational.

Antioch coasted ahead of the nine-team pack with 136 points. Glenbrook South edged Carmel for second place 105-103.

"This is the first time we won this in 33 years," said an elated Coach Norm Hahn. "I've been here 29 years and I don't remember winning it, so this is a big win for us."

As has been the case so far this year, the Antioch relay teams dominated.

The relay foursome of Matt Fasana, Brad Rubash, Joe Earl and Jon Schultz captured both the 400-meter and 800-meter relays with winning times of :45.1 and 1:34.8 respectively.

Dave Lawrence and Mark Mazur then teamed up with Fasana and Earl to finish first in the 1,600-meter relay with a time of 3:35.9. The same relay team was edged by Carmel in the 3,200 relay.

"Our relays are strong because we're pretty senior dominated," Hahn said. "I have had some of these guys for four years. This could be their year."

Rubash also showed what he could do individually as he tied another 30-year school record in the high hurdles with a :14.9 mark. He also gained first in the 300 intermediate hurdles with a :40.50.

"He tied a school record, so now we're looking for him to beat the record," Hahn said of Rubash.

Kevin Erickson also gained a first in the 800-meter run with a 1:59.3. Kevin Fasana took third in the long jump (20'7.5") and second in the triple jump (41'3.75"). John Migalla finished with a second-place honor in the discus (138'3").

After making history at the Lake Forest Invitational, Antioch dominated a home meet against Mundelein and Lake Forest. Antioch defeated Mundelein 134-7 and Lake Forest 111-34. With the exception of the high jump and the pole vault, the Sequoits took firsts in every event.

"Even though I changed some of the positions, we dominated pretty well," Hahn said.

Lawrence registered his best throw of the year in the shot put (46'6").

Antioch now boasts a 4-1 record in North Suburban Conference duals, and will travel to the Crystal Lake Central Invitational Friday.

Despite Antioch's early season success, the Sequoits will not compete at the Lake County Invitational May 5 due to the school's prom. For more on that story, see Sports/Leisure in Section C.

Girls track offers mix of senior, young talent

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

To use baseball terminology, Tricia Keefe was a perfect 4-4 during the double-meet at Lake Forest.

Led by Keefe and long-distance runner Megan Durney, the Antioch girls track team defeated Mundelein 89-44 and Lake Forest 72-61 to post a 3-3 conference dual record.

Keefe finished first in the 100 high hurdles (16.5), in the 300 low hurdles (50.0), in the high jump (5'1") and the long jump (14'5").

"She's just a wonderful athlete. I think she can take first or second at the sectional," said Track Coach Cathy Kelly.

While Keefe is pacing Antioch in those events, junior runner Durney is trying to shave off about 3 seconds of her 2-mile run to qualify for state come sectional time.

At the Waukegan Invitational, Durney ran a 11:47.7 for first place in the two-mile event which is 3.7 seconds off the 11:44 state qualifying mark. In the mile she posted a 5:34. At Lake Forest, she placed first and second respectively.

"She's lowering those times pretty good and could qualify at the sectional," Kelly noted.

Freshman prospect Chrissy

Hammer earned a first in the open 400 with a time of 1:03.7 at Lake Forest.

"She's been bringing her times down, too. I'm looking for her to lead us in the future," Kelly said of hammer.

Jenny Cardis, another freshman, is making strides in the 800-meter event. "She's our No. 1 800 runner, and she can also qualify for state as a freshman," Kelly said.

Sophomore Jeanna Miller went on to take the discus honors with a 28'7" throw at Lake Forest.

"We started winning and things started to click, and then everyone started winning. It's catchy," Kelly noted.

The track coach is also optimistic with the team's "mix" of senior leadership and underclassman prospects. The girls track team travels to the Woodstock Invitational Friday.

Antioch netters sweep Grant

Antioch's boys tennis team swept Grant 5-0 in a non-conference match and defeated Mundelein in a conference contest.

At No. 1 singles, Dusko Babin cruised by Dave Pedersen 6-0, 6-1.

Corey Cleghorn defeated Vinnie Pesceki 7-5, 6-1 in No. 2 singles action.

In doubles play, Mark Bonovitz and Chris Phillips teamed up at the No. 1 slot and battled to the 6-4, 2-6, 7-6 victory over Joe Russo and Toby Miller.

Tim Wateridge and Steve Hovey defeated Ryan Weeks and Roy Roldan 6-3 and 6-0. Chad Anderson and Jeff Fleshman beat Beau Schogren and Sam Wold to complete Antioch's sweep.

Against Mundelein, Babin and Cleghorn captured the victories at the No. 1 and 2 singles. Each of thees were decided by a third game.

Bonovitz and Phillips were defeated at No. 1, while Wateridge and Hovey were edged at No. 2 doubles.

Anderson and Fleshman gained the doubles victories for Antioch.

The match wins improved Antioch's record to 4-2, 1-1.

Lindenhurst Power girls end season 2-1 in tourney

The Lindenhurst Power concluded indoor play by going 2-1 in the end-of-season round robin tournament at Club 41 in Highland Park.

The Power was a bit tentative in their opening game, losing to Team Evanston, who went undefeated in both regular season and tournament play, by a 2-0 score.

The Power got back on track in their next game against Lake Forest with a 2-1 victory. It took Erin Hall just 22 seconds to score off a pass from Teri LaRoche. The rest of the game was played pretty even and physically until Lake Forest was able to score with 52 seconds left to go in the game. Not to be denied, the Power took the ball down the floor and kept the pressure on the Lake Forest goal until Hall tallied her second goal with 1.8 seconds left to play.

The third game was a hard-fought 1-0 victory over Gurnee. The goal was scored by Sarah Richardson, coming off some nice passing from Katie Anderson and Kristen Gamlin. The defensive play of Kristen Hungarland, Luran Beatty and Cara Robinson, and the goal keeping of Jamie Wismer and Jenny Porter helped to fend off the attack of the Lake Forest and Gurnee teams.

Power trounces Lake Forest

The Lindenhurst Power defeated the Lake Forest Seiche 6-2 in their IWSL match up.

The Power opened the scoring when Sarah Richardson broke through the Lake Forest defense and was able to put in her own rebound when the Seiche goal-keeper could not handle the first shot. Lake Forest then answered with two goals in the next five minutes to take a 2-1 lead.

Just before half time, Tracie Foster earned the tying goal when her corner kick deflected off a Lake Forest defender into the net.

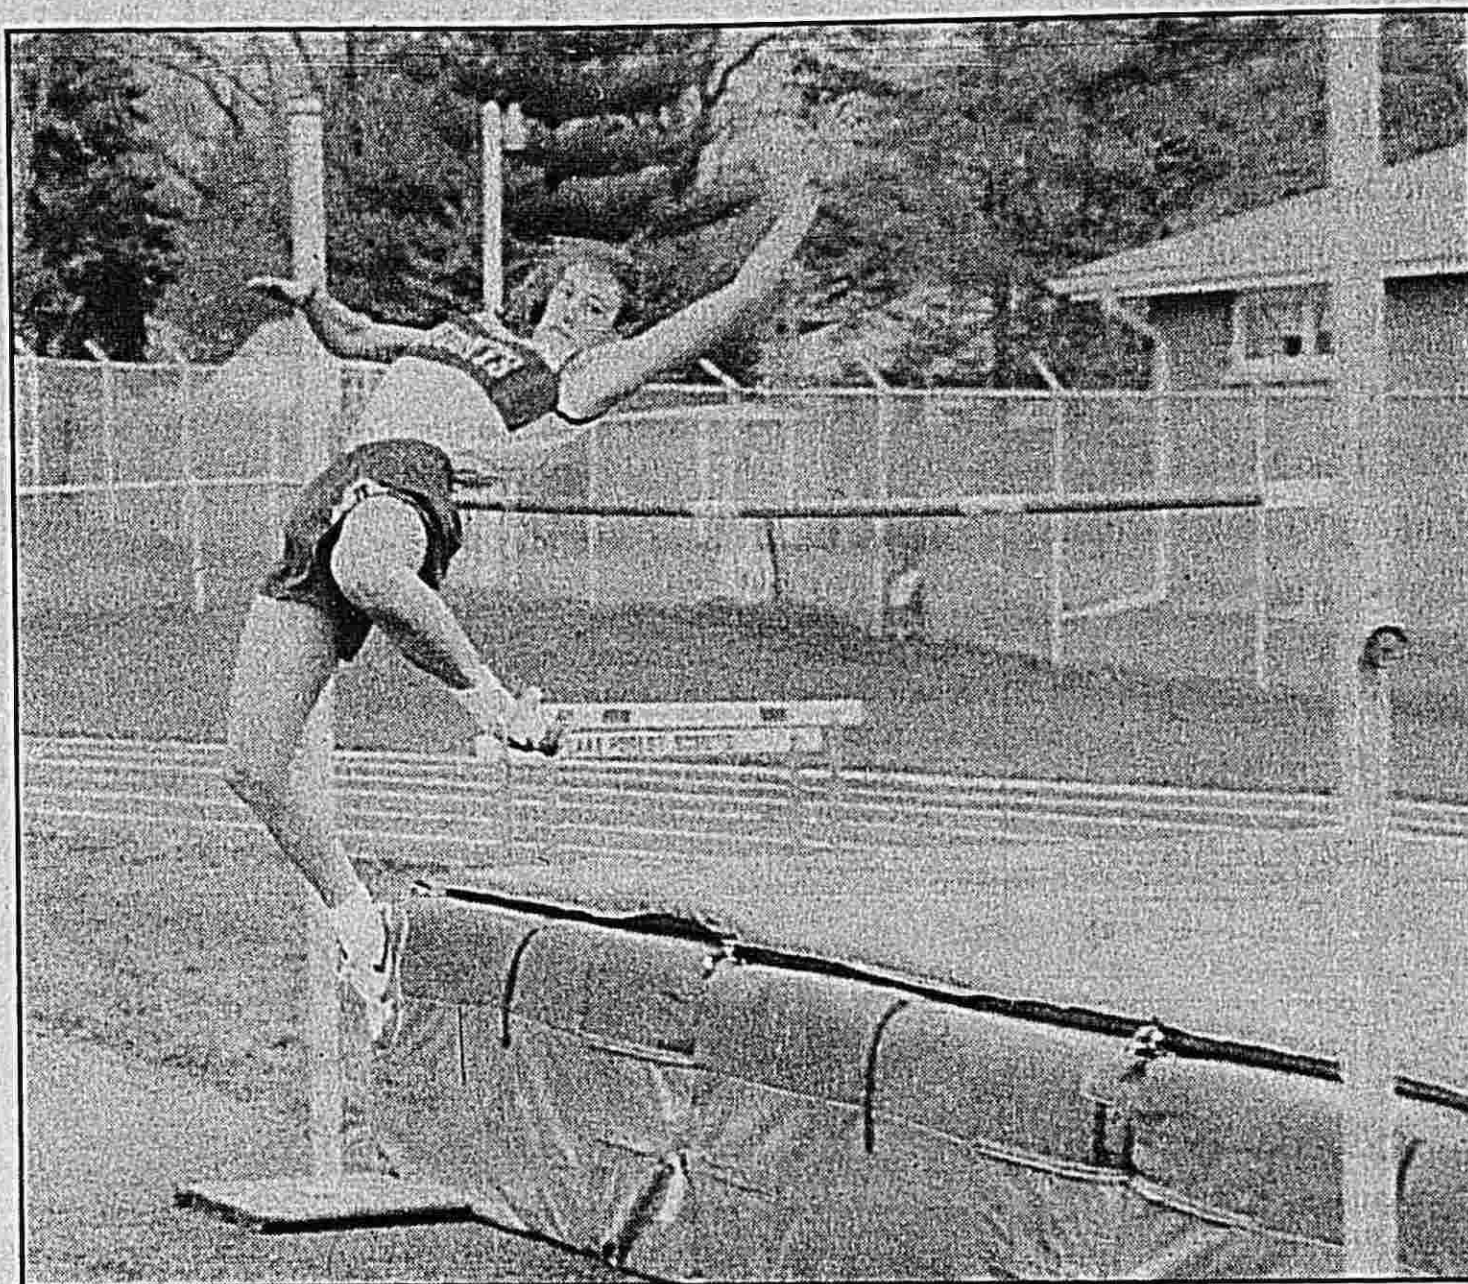

The second half was all Lindenhurst, which scored four unanswered goals. The first came when Teri LaRoche was able to bang home a pass from Lauren Beatty. Richardson scored her second goal on a sliding finish of a crossing pass from Jamie Wismer.

LaRoche then scored her second goal of the game when Wismer was able to serve up another assist.

The scoring was closed out when Kristen Gamlin was able to tap in a crossing pass from Richardson.

Some solid defensive play by Katie Anderson, Jourdan Phillips, Jennie Porter, Cara Robinson and Esther Scheurer kept Lake Forest off balance and prevented them from mounting any serious attack in the second half.

Silarski returns for second half

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

As the Antioch girls softball team enters the second half of the conference season, the Lady Sequoits feel they have their backs against the wall.

There is a bright spot, however. Sophomore starting pitcher Jamie Silarski has been given doctor's approval to return to the mound after suffering a muscle injury.

Since her placement on the injury list, another sophomore pitcher Stephanie Haenchen has been forced to pick up the slack.

"Now that Jaimie got the clearance and with her back it will help Stephanie's confidence," said Antioch Coach Judy Smithheiser.

Haenchen started when the Sequoits lost to Stevenson 6-3 in a conference game. She spotted Stevenson three runs in the first inning.

Antioch then roared back with three of their own in the fourth. Stephanie Montgomery hit a double and Courtney Konrath connected for a homer to lead Antioch's offensive attack.

"We fought back and held them, but then we couldn't get the bats going," Smithheiser said.

The loss ended a temporary three-game winning streak and put the Lady Sequoits at 7-6 overall and 2-5 in the North Suburban Conference.

Before facing Stevenson, Antioch swept struggling North Chicago over the weekend 10-0 and 21-1.

In addition to the offensive production, the highlight in the North Chicago contests was a rare triple play.

Right fielder Jessica Schmitt snatched a flyball, fired to Kelly Periman at first base for the force who then gunned the ball to Katie Fetting at second base for the third out.

The Lady Sequoits also snagged a 6-5 non-conference win against Waukegan Monday night.

Outfielder Megan Sosnowski proved to be the hero at the plate and in the field during the Waukegan victory. She collected two hits, including the game-winner in the bottom of the seventh.

Smithheiser also noted, "She save a lot of runs in left field. Waukegan was hitting the ball all over, and she was running all over the place to make the catches."

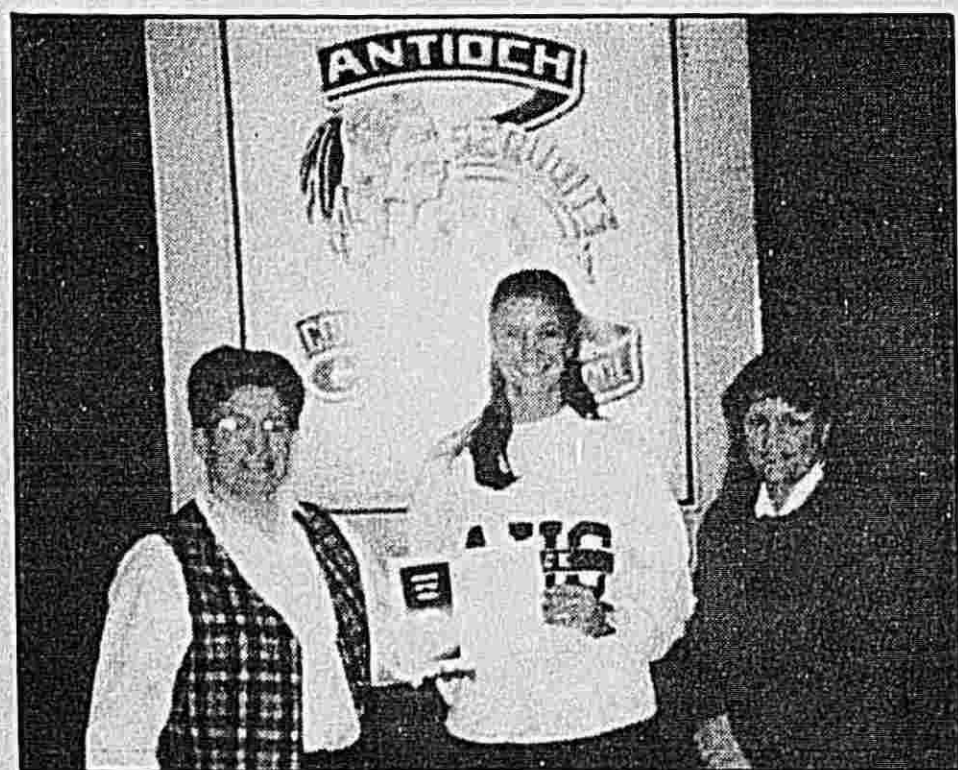

The coach described the first half of the season as a "roller-coaster" ride.

"The bats have been somewhat sporadic," Smithheiser said. "One game we're hitting. The next we're being one-hit."

She looks forward to the second half of the conference season.

Antioch hosted Stevenson for a rematch Thursday before hosting Warren Saturday for a conference twinbill.

"This is going to be an important week for us conference-wise," Smithheiser noted.

Athlete of the week

Tricia Keefe of Antioch High School Girls' Track Team was named the First Chicago Bank/Thelen Sand and Gravel Athlete of the Week. Keefe placed first in all the following events: high jump, 4 foot, 10 inches; long jump, 14 feet, 8 inches; 100 hurdles, 16.4 seconds; 300 hurdles 51.9 second (first ever run). Keefe was nominated team captain. With Keefe (center) is left, Track Coach Cathy Kelly and far right, Rose Steinburg from the First National Bank of Chicago-Antioch. A donation to the high school scholarship fund will be made in Keefe's name.

Junior varsity tops Libertyville

The Antioch junior varsity softball team turned the past cool, wet, spring week into a summer festival by notching three north suburban conference victories.

The Lady Sequoits rallied to beat Libertyville 8-7, and then followed with wins over Fenton by scores of 21-1 and 13-9. The Sequoit record is currently 6-3, 3-1.

In the Libertyville game, the Sequoits spotted the Wildcats a 4-0 lead and spent the rest of the game trying to catch up. It wasn't until Laura Deutsch scored the tying run in the sixth inning and Sarah Rockow scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning that the Lady Sequoits could enjoy the win.

Liz Koeck, DeAnne Dalgaard, Sarah Rockow, Stacey Parks and Lisa Murphy played key roles in the game with a combination of hits and sacrifice bunts.

Defensively, Koeck had 10 assists and one put-out at first base, and Dalgaard caught three fly balls in center field. Murphy pitched the entire game, allowing eight hits and five walks with three strikeouts.

The Fenton Bison found the trip north to Antioch from Bensenville to be a long, cold, frustrating afternoon. While the Sequoits pounded out 10 hits, the Bison allowed 21 runs in the four inning game, and could manage only three hits off of Antioch pitcher Murphy.

The Antioch hitting barrage was led by Deutsch, Koeck and Linda DeSalvo, with two hits each. Rockow, Angie Pederson and Kristin Lynch had single hits, along with a triple by Murphy.

During the rematch, it was the Bison who started the afternoon off by greeting the Lady Sequoits with an eight-run first inning. The next six innings Sequoit pitcher Murphy and her teammates scattered five hits and allowed only one additional run.

Rockow (single, triple), Murphy (two singles), Pederson (double) and DeSalvo (double) led the Antioch rally. Individual singles were added by Dalgaard, Lisa Ravagni and Deutsch.

Defensively, the Sequoits were led by Koeck (two put-outs, eight assists), Lynch (two put-outs, three assists), Murphy (one put-out, four assists) and Dalgaard (two put-outs).

Games scheduled for this week include Zion-Benton at home May 2 and Zion-Benton away on May 4.

Based on wet spring conditions, other games may be added and the schedule is subject to change.

Shutout of Waukegan first girls soccer win at WTHS

The first three matches in the history of Warren High girls soccer produced a win and some strong future hopes.

Warren turned back Waukegan 1-0 in a non-conference match.

A defender-stopper scored the first goal for Warren soccer, a direct kick from the left corner from 30- yards out. Tisa Schultz did the honors.

"She kicked it to the left corner of the goal," Coach Bob Tatgenhorst described.

The goal came midway through the second half.

Goalie Jessica Defreese recorded her first shutout.

"I thought she did an outstanding job as goalie. The goalie only does as well as the team and we had control of the ball a good portion," Tatgenhorst said.

Striker Erica Navarro, a sophomore, scored the first goal for Warren's newest sport in a 4-1 loss to Lake Forest. She was assisted by Sarah O'Brien.

"We are playing some younger kids and they are going up against kids two years older and bigger. We got pushed around a little against Lake Forest," Tatgenhorst said.

Delayed two days by cold and rain, girls soccer at Warren High showed some bright signs it will be a promising sport.

The Blue Devils were shutout 3-0 at Mundelein. All three goals came in the first half as Warren was making its debut in girls soccer.

"Mundelein is an outstanding team. We played well and we hope to get better," Tatgenhorst said.

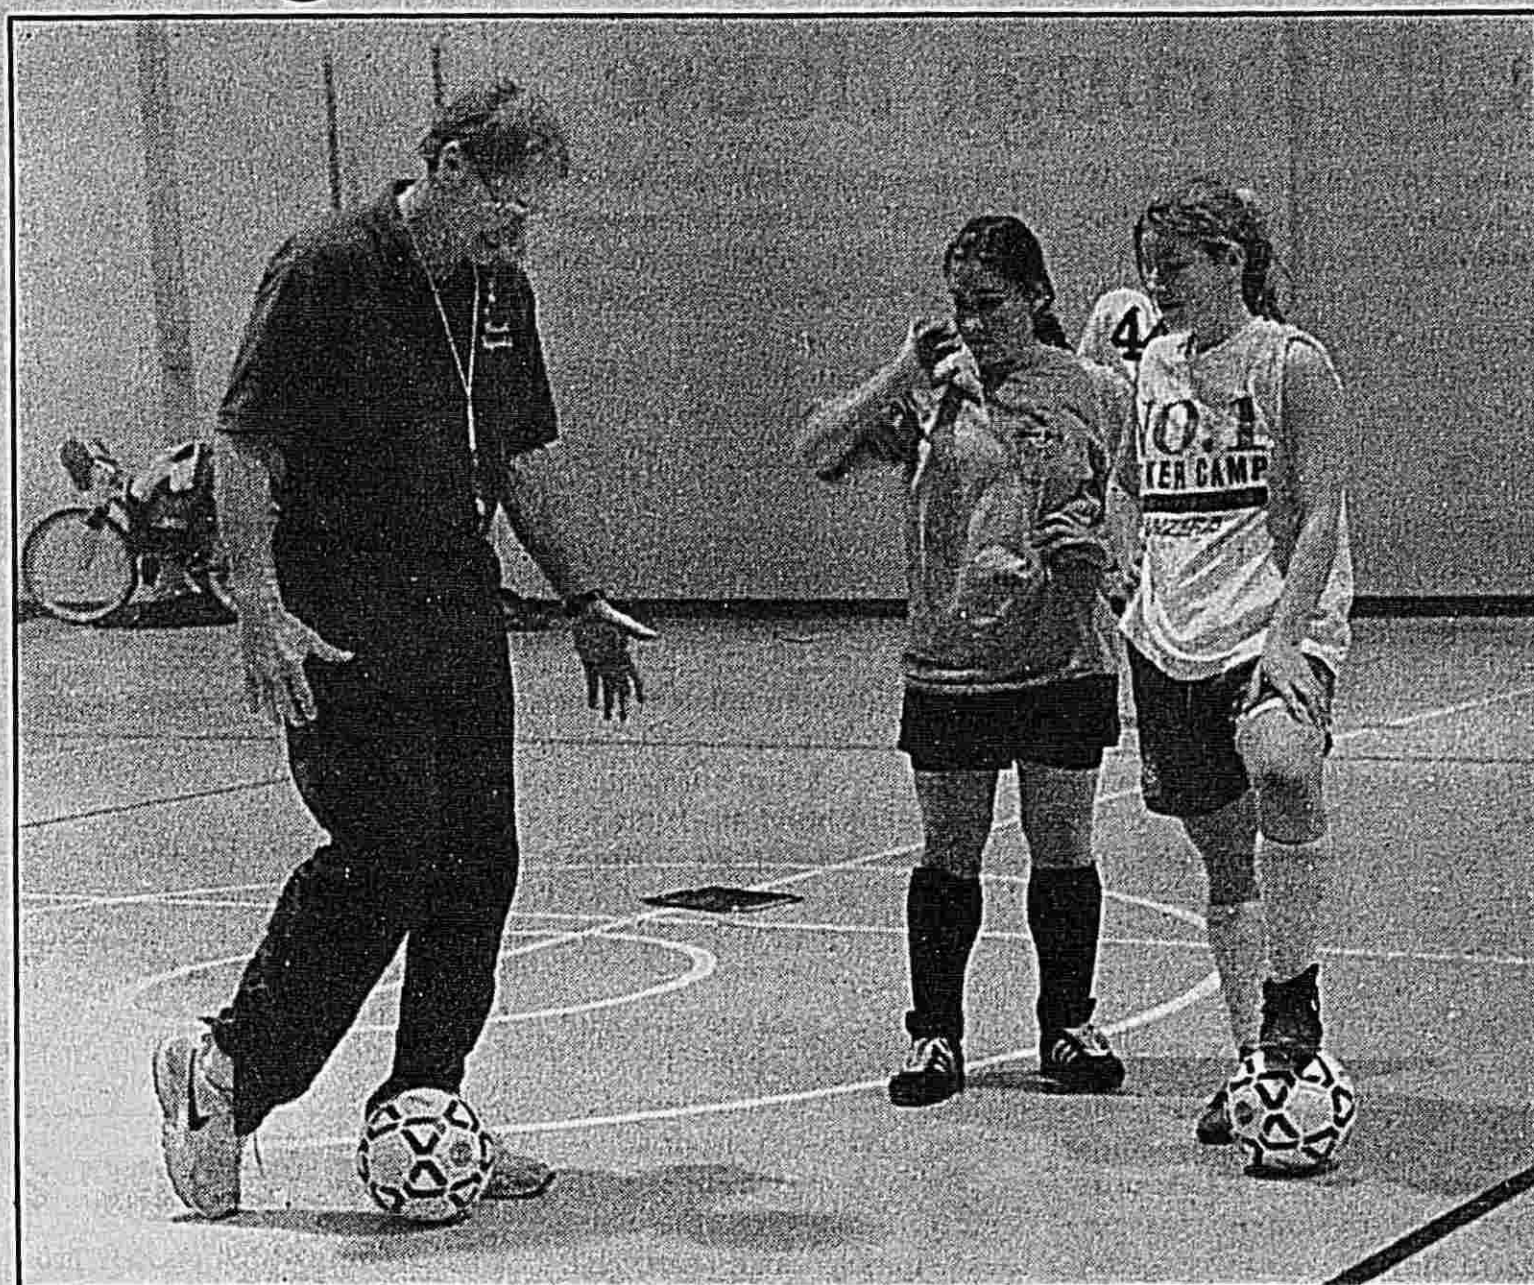

He commented the girls were disappointed when the opener at Waukegan April 4 was postponed due to cold and rain.

"It was 0-0 for the second half as we did some nice things. We got things together," Tatgenhorst said.

O'Brien's play as well as mid-field and forwards Erica Navarro and Vanessa Koehler were highlights for Warren. The defense was led by Elaine Schneider at sweeper, Tisa Schultz at stopper and Jessica Defreese in goal.

"Vanessa started to take control in the second half and O'Brien was a marked player the whole game," Tatgenhorst said.

Mundelein, a North Suburban Conference power who could challenge Libertyville and Stevenson, gained its offense from Sarah Clark, Sue Trahan and Laura DiJoseph.

Warren High girls soccer coach Bob Tatgenhorst gives pointers to Jenny House and Sarah O'Brien. Warren is in its first year of girls soccer. Blue Devils host Grayslake at 4:30 p.m. May 2.

Warren soph makes most of his chance at meet

Making the most of your opportunities is important in life as well as tennis.

Just ask Adam Bruschader.

The Warren High sophomore grabbed the opportunity to play at fourth singles and finished second at the Tremper Invite Saturday in Kenosha.

"This was his first meet of the season and he did well. He is very consistent and gets the ball in play. He waits for the other guy to make errors," Pete Campbell, Warren's tennis coach, said.

Warren finished a strong fifth in the Kenosha meet.

The first doubles team of Jeff Fedor and Dave Moo gained fourth place as they won the opener, lost to the champs from Tremper and lost again.

T.J. Angelos and Frank DeLuca gained fourth at third doubles as they won, then lost two matches.

The second doubles team of Corty Campbell and Jason Roberts won a consolation title.

Warren came out on the short end of a 3-2 decision to Libertyville. The second and third doubles teams won in the North Suburban Conference opener Tuesday.

The second doubles team of Campbell and Roberts improved to 7-3 overall with a 6-7, 6-4, 6-4 win. The third doubles of Eric and Scott McCann won 6-1, 6-2.

"The second doubles team is playing very well," Campbell said. Warren is at the Waukegan meet April 29. Warren won two of the last three Waukegan invites, but Crystal Lake Central is defending champ.

Shutouts give Rams booters momentum

Grayslake High's girls soccer team gained some self-confidence and threw a monkey of sorts off its backs last week.

The Rams posted shutout wins over Marian Central 5-0 and Waukegan 3-0 in gaining their fifth win in six matches.

"The nice thing about the win over Marian Central is that we played 35 minutes of solid soccer. We had five different goal scorers and that means what we were practicing was a great success," Ram Coach Joe Martinez said.

Sherri Kwiatkowski, one of only two seniors on the squad, was in goal both games. "She made a save on a point-blank shot against Marian Central. I do not know how she was able to come up with it," Martinez said.

Marian Central challenged the Rams goalie 17 times.

Tara Jones scored the first goal for the Rams off an assist by Nicole Wright. Wright also had a goal herself.

Becca Bleyer, the Rams freshman among the leaders in scoring, tallied off a sharp pass from Jen Koll.

Rams tennis still top dog in conference

The Grayslake Rams continue to be the top team in the Northwest Suburban Conference boys tennis race.

The Rams completed a shutout of Grant 5-0 and then shutout the Bulldogs in a regularly scheduled match Tuesday. The wins give the Rams a 5-0 record.

The Rams swept the singles sets as each winner won the second set 6-0.

Ryan Bartz had the closest score, downing Dave Pedersen 7-5, 6-0 at No. 3. "He does that all the time. He starts slow then settles down and works on his strokes," Rams Coach Paul Keller said.

Carey Radebaugh downed Joe Russo 6-1, 6-0 at No. 1 singles while Pete Neuberger, who had to complete the previous match, won 6-3, 6-0 over Toby Merrill.

Josh Shipley and Chris Wirsing posted a 6-0, 6-2 win at first doubles and Mark Santos and Jerry Hagen won a hard-fought match at second doubles over Sam World and Ryan Schogren 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Distance ace Tessman makes impact

Although Grayslake High ran away with a Northwest Suburban Conference meet, both teams had some highlights to reflect on Tuesday.

For Wauconda, it was the effort of Majka Majewski and Jamie Weber.

Michele Tessman had some adjusting to do when she reported to track practice at Grayslake High.

For one thing, there was those alleys painted on the track. Tessman was strictly a cross country runner in junior high, but that has not stopped her from becoming one of the top distance runners in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

She won the 3,200 in 13.19 and the 1,600 in 6:10.4 as the Rams crushed Wauconda 98-23 in a league dual meet.

"Eventually, the 3,200 will be her best event as she matures and gets stronger as she grows," Rams Coach Joel Peebles said.

The freshman was in the lead from start to finish in the 1,600 meter run, the last event this meet.

"Coach (Brad) Larson says I need to work on my form and arm motion," Tessman said. "And I have to increase the stride."

Tessman is one of three Tessman children to run track for Grayslake. Older sister Renee is running at the College of Lake County.

Tessman beat out teammate Tina Fish in both distance events

Tuesday.

Other highlights for the Rams this breezy day at home came as they won all but one relay event.

The 800 medley of Nashonda Johnson, Lisa Titus, Julie and Sarah Thorson won in 2:04.9. Also winning was the 3,200 relay of Becky Eiden, Molly Rundle, Annette Melicio and Jessica Schueneman. Schueneman won the 800 meters while Sarah Thorson took the 300 low hurdles.

Robyn Boydston and Jessica Kos took the high jump with a 4 foot effort.

Wauconda did have strong efforts from a relay team and two individuals.

Senior Weber gained first in the shot put and discus. Her best effort in the discus was 102-4 while her shot put was 155.

"Grayslake is a tough team, but we made progress with certain individuals," Wauconda Coach Al Willhoit said.

"Weber specializes in the shot put and likes it more, but has the mechanics to do well in both," Willhoit said.

Majewski won in the 100 hurdles, long jump and was second in the 300 low hurdles. She was anchor for the 400 relay team. Jean Jones, Jeanine Brill, Serena Spencer all ran ahead of her. Brill was a replacement.

Wauconda is at Woodstock April 28.

Grayslake, which easily beat back a challenge from Lake Zurich last week's other dual win, hosted the county meet April 27 and will then look to wrap up a perfect NWSC dual season May 2 at Grant. The conference meet is May 4 at Johnsburg.

Churchill's ethics bill sails through House

Majority Leader Robert W. Churchill steered sweeping ethics legislation through the Illinois House, targeting the elimination of legislative perks.

No-bid contracts, unreported campaign cash, the awarding of legislative scholarships, and a variety of other so-called perks and privileges would be eliminated if House Bill 1498 becomes law.

Sponsored by State Rep. Churchill, House Bill 1498 is designed to dispel the suspicion and mistrust that many people harbor against their elected officials.

"This is about good government—open government," said Churchill (R-Antioch). "These perks only serve to cast doubt in the public's mind on the ethics of state legislators. By abolishing these perks, we reinforce our commitment to the highest ethical standards. HB 1498 prohibits fund raising on session days in Springfield, as well as the acceptance of money for speeches, appearances or honorariums."

"Fund raising for elected officials is often a double-edged sword. It is necessary to get elected, but the act of fund raising is often viewed in a very negative light. By banning fund raising during sessions days and abolishing paid speaking appearances, we can effectively distance our elected officials from the perception of influence buying."

Under Churchill's ethics legislation, Illinois lawmakers would no longer be allowed to collect an allowance for food and lodging if they fail to meet the spring session adjournment deadline. If enacted into law, the change goes into effect on May 31.

"Legislators should not receive an $81-dollar-a-day per diem for work they could not complete on time," said Churchill. "If the legislature can't get its business done on time, taxpayers should not be forced to pay any additional expenses."

The ethics package also abolishes legislative scholarships and reaffirms contract disclosure laws relating to city-run airports.

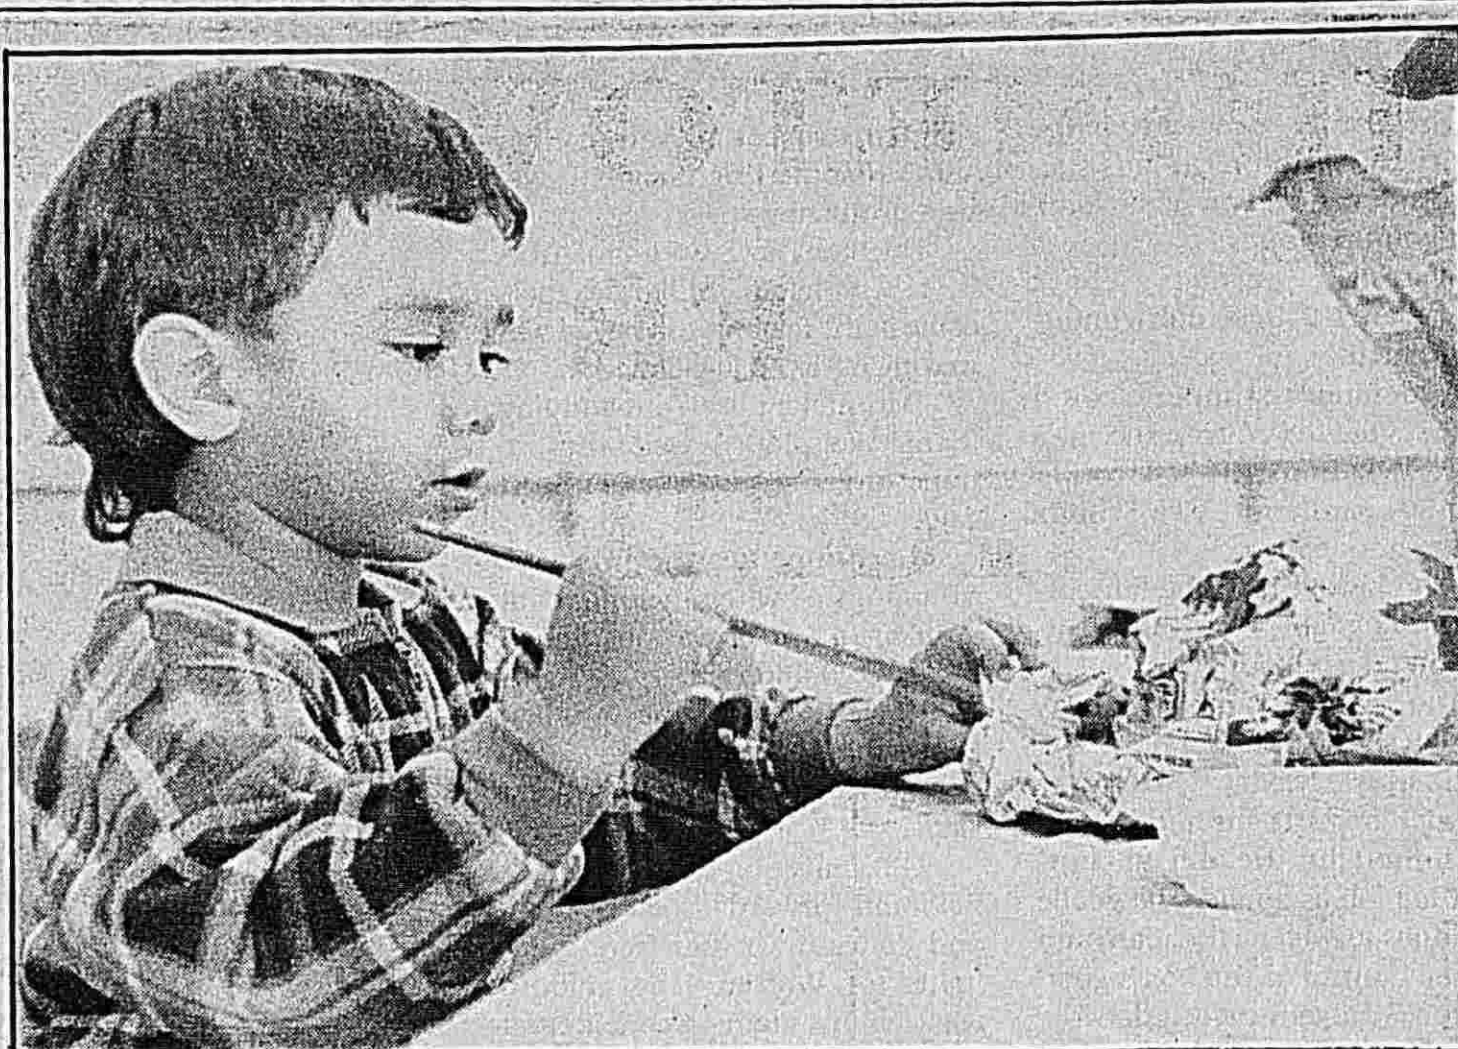

"There is no reason why the State General Assembly needs these perks," said Churchill. "This legislation is designed to remove even the slightest hint of ethical impropriety and rebuild the public's trust in their legislators."

The House Bill 1498 passed the House and was sent to the Senate for consideration.

Stay home and learn another culture

The Univ. of Illinois 4-H program offers several opportunities to host an international exchange for a short three to five weeks this summer.

Two high school girls from Finland will need families for one month from June 25 through July 24. Families with teens are preferred.

The International 4-H Youth Exchanges (IFYE) do not require families with children of a certain age. These young adults (ages 21 through 25) want to learn about the United States—culture, agriculture, homes and families. Host family stays will vary in time from three to five weeks. This year, Illinois will have the following IFYEs: A 22-year-old female from Belgium, a 21-year-old female from the Czech Republic, a 23-year-old female from Taiwan and a 25-year-old male from Costa Rica.

For more information or to apply, contact Susie Soukup at the Urban 4-H Office, 688-0001. All it takes is a warm heart, an open house and a zest for international family living experiences.

ORDER
DOCKET NO. 95-14
In re: Application of John Petschelt for approval of a Restricted Landing Area, to be known as Midland Airport, and a waiver of the side transition, located near Antioch, Illinois.
On March 14, 1995, John Petschelt filed an application for approval of a Restricted Landing Area, to be known as Midland Airport, and a Waiver of the side transition, to be located near Antioch in part of the Southwest 1/4 of Section 3, Township 48 North, Range 9 East of the Third Principal Meridian, Lake County, Illinois.
A waiver of Section 14.665 and Appendix B of the Aviation Safety Rules (92 Ill. Adm. Code 14.665) ("RULES"), as established by the Illinois Department of Transportation, Division of Aeronautics, is requested insofar as they apply to existing objects that penetrate the side transition of the south side of runway 09/27.
On April 6, 1995, the Division served Notice of its intention to enter an Order approving said application, pursuant to Section 60 of the Illinois Aeronautics Act.
No comments have been received by the Division on this matter.
IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED BY THE DIVISION OF AERONAUTICS AS FOLLOWS:
1. Unless the Division grants an extension of time for completion, this Order shall become null and void unless construction is satisfactorily completed within one year from the effective date hereof. If all requirements of the Division are met when completed, a Certificate of Approval for said Restricted Landing Area will be issued to John Petschelt. Applicant shall notify the Division within 30 days after the completion of construction.
2. Said Restricted Landing Area shall conform to all requirements (including written notice of abandonment) of this Division, with the exception that a Waiver of Section 14.665 and Appendix B of the Aviation Safety Rules (92 Ill. Adm. Code 14.665) ("RULES"), as established by the Illinois Department of Transportation, Division of Aeronautics, insofar as they apply to existing objects that penetrate the side transition of the south side of Runway 09/27, is hereby granted.
3. Operations on said Restricted Landing Area shall be restricted to a McCulloch J-2 Gyroplane owned by the applicant.
4. Unless the Department finds that a hearing is necessary or that a longer period is appropriate, this Order shall take effect twenty (20) days after the service date thereof.
5. This Order and Certificate of Approval create no private interest in the applicant or its successors. The Division expressly reserves the authority to revoke or modify said Certificate when in the public interest to do so.
6. This Order and any Certificate of Approval issued pursuant thereto do not pre-empt, waive, suspend or modify any zoning regulations, building code requirements, or local ordinance adopted by local governmental bodies.
7. The Certificate of Approval must be modified or reissued if any alteration or extension is made to the Restricted Landing Area.
Please address any comments or request for a hearing regarding this Order within fifteen (15) days after the date of service to: IDOT, Division of Aeronautics,

Solid waste agency chief outlines goals, plans

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Solid Waste Agency of Lake County officials are hopeful an intermediate processing site for recyclables will be a step forward in the agency's long-term growth.

"We hope it will be in operation in about a year. It is just a partial solution to expand recycling on a guaranteed basis," Andrew Quigley, SWALCO director, said.

SWALCO has purchased land for the facility at Harris Road in the Mallory Industrial Park near Libertyville.

Quigley outlined how the agency has made progress since Lake County came up with the waste reduction plan in 1989. At that time, the plan was the first of its kind in Illinois.

Quigley said the future strategy of SWALCO, which started with six members and now has 35 municipalities, includes: reducing dependence on landfills and to negotiate for capacity at landfills.

The agency hopes to develop a Household Hazardous Waste site where trailers would be available for people to leave their materials. SWALCO and Illinois the Environmental Protection Agency currently run one-day drop-offs. The next one is May 20 at Waukegan Port Authority from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

SWALCO has a fund of $380,000 from Illinois EPA to set up a permanent site.

Goals since 1989 have been to increase awareness of source reduction as a waste management tool and increased emphasis on processing of recyclables and coping with legislative changes from state and federal since 1989.

"The majority of the waste in Lake County comes from commercial and industrial," Quigley told an audience of Gurnee Noon Exchange Club members.

In 1989, the total tonnage for Lake County was 805,405 tons in 2015 it is expected to reach over 1 million tons. Commercial and industrial accounted for 264,496 tons of the 1989 total and that is expected to grow to 387,689 tons by the year 2015. Waste from residential sources was 253,420 tons in 1989 and is expected to be 327,316 tons by 2015.

SWALCO offers a course in "Environmics" aimed at mid-sized companies and it shows how recycling can be the economic way to go.

"Commercial waste is an education process. Some companies such as Baxter have reduced waste for years. The seminar is aimed at companies with 50-100 employee," Quigley said.

Another suggestion is towns place in ordinances where a recycling facility will be.

SWALCO is waiting word for a court decision on whether not Illinois can use a landfill in Wisconsin. A district court had ruled that Illinois can no longer dump waste there. Wisconsin has a mandatory recycling law while Illinois does not.

"That would increase the demand at the Lake County facilities," Quigley said.

That could cut the life of BFI's Zion location and the USA Waste site south of Grayslake from 20 years to 14 years.

SWALCO will vote on the proposal for the construction and service agreement from resource recycling technologies for the immediate processing facility April 27.

Police dog, officer help find victims

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

A dog and her master are resting for a few days, trying to forget, or perhaps to ponder, what may have been their most notable assistance ever.

Helping out in emergency situations has become old hat for a German Shepherd named "Cassie" and Richmond Police Officer Dan Bitton. When federal agents called them the day of the Oklahoma disaster, however, they weren't aware they were about to save the life of one of the last survivors of the catastrophe.

Richmond Police Chief Kevin Bays related the event that brought two of his finest employees out west last week. On April 19, he was contacted by federal agents, asking for the assistance of Cassie and Bitton.

The Chief met with Richmond Mayor Sue Klouda and they immediately agreed to send Bitton and Cassie.

afternoon, and were on the scene aiding other authorities in no time.

Even for a seasoned Vietnam Veteran like Bitton, the encounter was something out of the ordinary. "He stated to me he was not prepared for this," said the chief.

As part of a team of searchers, both Bitton and Cassie were hoisted floors above the ground, and below, looking for any living victims. Lone beams were walked on, and narrow spaces were entered amidst the rubble.

Bays said if it weren't for the intense training Cassie received from TOPS Kennels in Grayslake, performing this type of assistance probably wouldn't have been possible.

Finally, the Richmond duo located and pulled out a teenage girl in the blown out basement of the nine-story federal building.

She was one of the last survivors found by authorities.

On Monday, Officer Bitton and Cassie were in Wisconsin at their home, resting up from all the excitement, according to Bays. Normally after something like this, the Richmond Police Department will give the officer several days off to rest and regroup his thoughts from the traumatic experience. A visit to the police department chaplain is in order as well.

Cassie is truly an extraordinary canine, See DOG page B6

Lake County sending aid to Oklahoma victims

The tragedy of Oklahoma City has been the focus of Americans throughout the county since news of the tragedy. It was the subject of most church sermons this past weekend and many community organizations and schools are participating in projects to assist the victims.

Antioch

Community prayer service in light of the Oklahoma City bombing, Antioch's National Day of Prayer Service, to be held May 4th at noon, has taken on a greater significance to residents as they join together to pray for the nation. The services will be held at Williams Park, off Main Street in Antioch and the public is invited to attend.

Fox Lake

Fox Lake Schools are involved in a variety of ways. Grant Community High School is working on several projects to benefit victims. Details will be forthcoming.

At Stanton School Principal Bill Lomas Jr. suggested all students get involved with the Oklahoma disaster, so the entire student council (grades 4 through 8) are gathering ideas to help which includes either sending donations, or planting trees in memory of fallen victims. Last year the 7th and 8th graders helped the Kobe, Japan victims by collecting monetary donations which they sent to Japan.

Big Hollow students are conducting a letter writing campaign to thank rescue workers and have also made condolence cards for victim's families.

Grayslake

Several local villages are taking collections to aid victims of the tragedy including Somethings Brewing, Inc. whose donations will specifically benefit the day care center. The Grayslake Post Office will hang a banner in the lobby with the words, See AID page B6

Helander appoints Schade administrator

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Reorganization of the County Clerk's office is near complete.

Lake County Clerk Willard Helander appointed Edna J. Schade as the Election Administrator replacing Mary Ellen Vanderventer, who was terminated after 10 years.

In light of the National Voter Registration Act, Helander said the election office will be experiencing a "tremendous amount of time, labor and money to implement" the new legislation. She said the focus of the elections administrator position will be undergoing change to reflect the requirements of the Voter Registration Act.

Schade, who lost her Republican bid for the State Representative seat in the 60th District, will join Martin Paulson and another administrative member to be named later. Helander appointed Paulson in January. Paulson, who is also president of the Lake County Board of Health, lost to Carol Calabrese in the Republican primary for a Libertyville County Board seat.

"It's going to be a sharing of responsibilities with myself, Edna and Marty Paulson. I think we're developing a team," said Helander, who added that she was drawn to Schade's poise during her hotly contested campaign against Rep. Lauren Beth Gash. Schade was also a former County Board member and has helped implement policy at the state level.

"The position is going to take a great deal of time and leadership. Edna has a great ability to stay focused on the job without political interruptions," Helander said.

The County Clerk said she will not replace retiring Gene Bzdawka as the director of tax extension. Wayne Wasylo, a Schade supervisor with the clerk's office, is expected to assume the duties of the tax extension director as a cost-savings measure.

Vanderventer said she has been anticipating her termination since Helander took See SCHADE page B6

Top county officials open doors to new morgue

If you had gone into any of the many rooms the new Lake County Coroner's Facility contains, you may have found a politician, perhaps a judge or a radio personality, visiting the grand opening of the building last week.

Hundreds of notables, as well as residents, came out in droves to view the spacious newly renovated site located at 26 N. Utica St. in Waukegan.

Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke was there to greet visitors on their way into the facility. Depke explained in a statement that the County Coroner's office was previously working out of a renovated gas station where conditions were less than ideal. The new facility offers the coroner's office three times the space as the previous one at the corner of Washington and Utica streets.

"We have had a need for a new facility for years," stated Depke. The building now has been refurbished to meet the current and future needs of the coroner's office at a cost of a little more than $1 million, making it "one of the best such facilities in the state."

Lake County Public Building

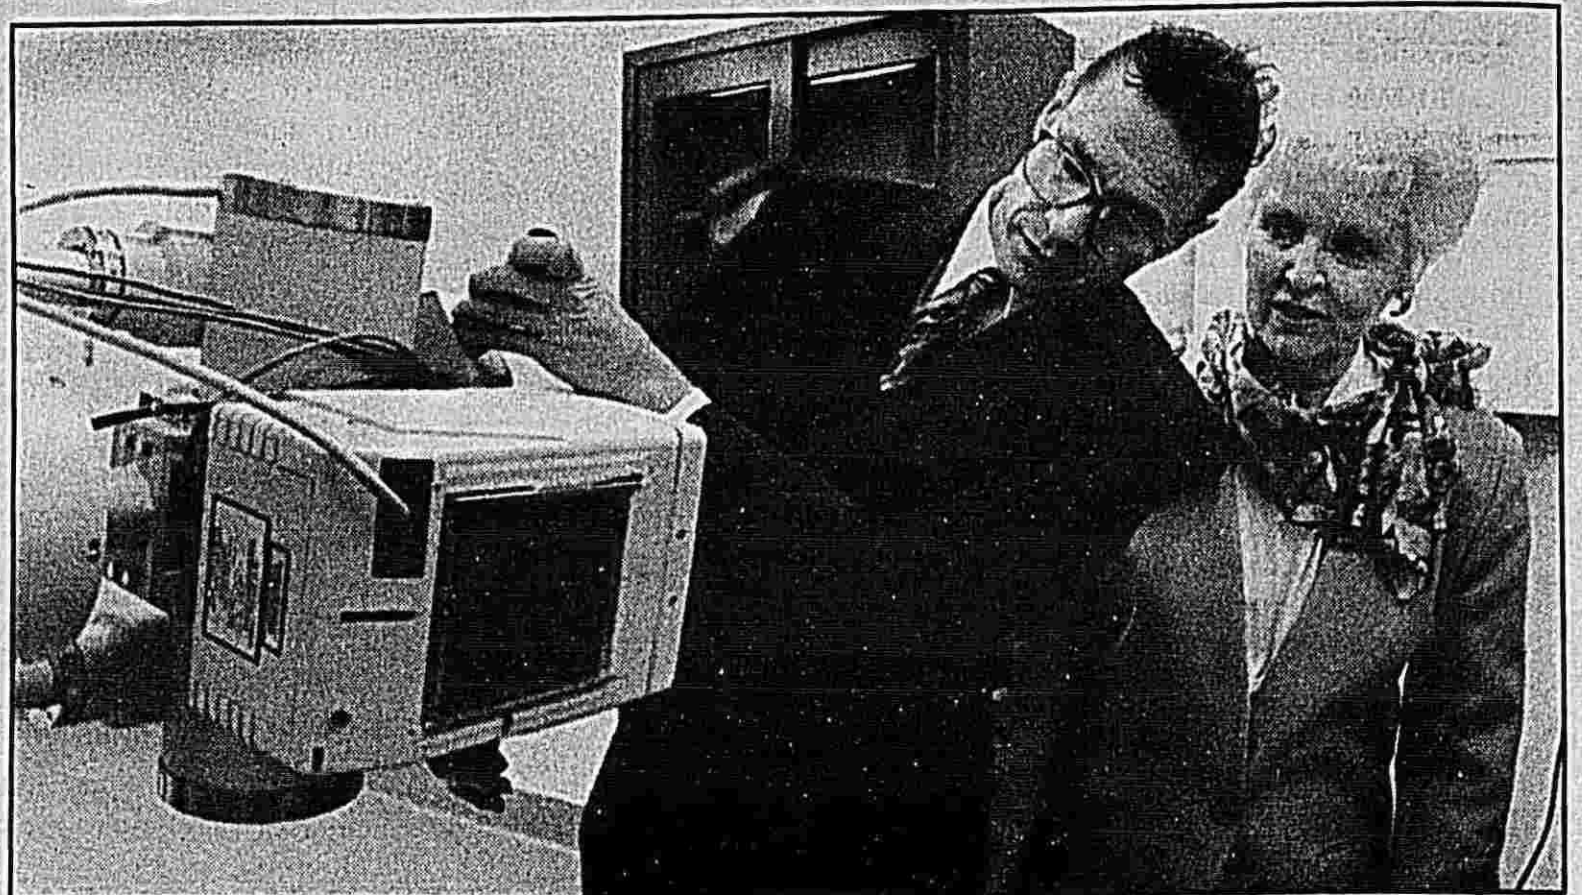

Commission Chairman Esper A. Petersen stated the Commission owns and insures the property and the county rents from them.

The renovation was paid for by using partial proceeds from revenue bonds. The remodeling was done by using existing funds, stated Petersen.

The staff of eight individuals that provide 24-hour service, including Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson are excited about the new facility. For the first time ever, all functions of the office will be under one roof, making the office more efficient.

"We wanted to try and meet the needs of lots of people and lots of different agencies," said Chief Deputy Coroner Jim Whipper. "We've done a pretty good job of meeting those needs. If you walk through, you'll see," added Whipper.

Lots of new equipment makes up the new facility, as well as some renovated items. Tours of the building showed a toxicology lab; a huge cooler with enough space to assist the entire county as well as surrounding counties; a freezer used for long-term storage; an X-ray/decomposition room including a privacy screen and window for viewing by families; and state certified alcohol lab.

"Lots of thought was put into it," said Whipper, an employee of the Lake County Coroner's office since 1984.

Whipper explained overhauling the building began last summer with Riley Construction of Waukegan as the general contractors.

The new morgue now meets or exceeds OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration) standards.

County Board member Ed Fojtik said the new facility is just what the county needs. "When you look at what's been happening, you better be ready," he said about the various disasters which have taken place around the world.

Whipper said the offices are opened now in the new facility, and the lab portion is to be operational within the next few weeks.

ComEd donates trees, shrubs to municipalities, schools

In an effort to assist local municipalities and schools with landscape beautification at their local parks and parkways, ComEd has been giving many trees and shrubs away to them.

A local nursery who had been leasing property underneath the ComEd transmission right of way decided to go out of business.

Rather than letting the nursery items remain unattended, ComEd offered all of them to the different groups as long as they arranged to have them balled and burlaped or moved with a tree spade vehicle.

Several of the schools have planned to move larger trees to their property this spring and dedicate each tree to a retiring teacher. Several of the items have found a new home on the new Mundelein Park and Recreation Dist. golf course, called "Steeplechase."

Some of the groups taking part in this program have been:

Mundelein Park and Recreation Dist.; Libertyville Park and Recreation Dist.; Lake Forest Park and Recreation Dist.; Washington Elementary School, Mundelein; Woodland Elementary School, Gages Lake; Mundelein High School; Village of Green Oaks; Grant Twp.; Lake County Div. of Transportation; Libertyville School Dist. 75; Northern Illinois Medical Center, McHenry (Hospital); Village of Fox Lake; Village of Round Lake Beach; Oak Grove Elementary School, Green Oaks; Richmond Elementary School, Richmond; Round Lake Area Park Dist.; Lambs Farm, Libertyville and Village of Mundelein.

This effort has been coordinated by Harlan Dam, public affairs director, ComEd.

Foster kids, foster hope

The number of children in need of foster home placement has reached epidemic proportions in Lake County. Between 1993-94 the number of children in the DCFS system increased by more than 50 percent. In addition, there has been a dramatic change in the needs of foster children. Alcohol and substance abuse has greatly contributed to the current foster care crisis.

Judge Margaret Mullen has organized a task force to address this crisis. This task force, the Foster Hope Network, is a combined effort of Judge Mullen, Catholic Charities, Central Baptist Family Services, Dept. of Children and Family Services (DCFS), Arden Shore and The Linden Tree Homes.

The Foster Hope Network has scheduled informational meetings for individuals interested in becoming foster parents. The meetings are scheduled as follows: May 2 at St. Mary's Catholic Church, 175 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest. May 10 at Warren Newport Library, 224 N. O'Plaine Rd., Gurnee. Meetings begin at 7 p.m. and will last for approximately one to two hours.

For more information, call any of the following: Barb Crociani at Catholic Charities, 249-3500; Jeannie Stoffel at Central Baptist Family Services at 356-1021; Elaine Germain at DCFS 356-1011; Jennifer Leahy at Arden Shore, 234-1730; Linda Baskin-Wilson at The Linden Tree Homes, 263-0015.

United Way of Lake County received a check from ComEd's employee run United Way campaign. Over 85 percent of ComEd's employees contributed to the campaign. From left: Harlan Dam, ComEd Public Affairs Director, Marly Rubin, ComEd Employee Campaign Co-Chairperson and Carl Johann, senior campaign association for the United Way of Lake County. The check from employees was for $173,719. In another display of community service, ComEd is donating trees and shrubs to municipalities and schools.

Impact coalition monitors growth, plans public forum

All persons interested in growth and development issues are invited to the first public meeting of the Impact Coalition of West Lake County at 7 p.m. Friday, April 28, at Grant Town Hall, Ingleside.

The program will include an update of current activities, and overview of issues and break-out sessions, announced Kim Eudy, co-chair.

The coalition currently is monitoring growth impact developments in the Loon Lake area, Antioch; Slocum Lake, Wauconda; and the Pritzker project in the Round Lake-Ingleside area.

Refreshments will be served. Eudy also announced that Carol Strauser, a Fox Lake businesswoman, has agreed to serve as treasurer pro tem and a clearing house for information. She can be contacted at 546-3203.

Balloon volunteers needed

The Lake County Family YMCA will be having a Hot Air Balloon Rally at the Wauconda Orchards in Wauconda Illinois on Saturday and Sunday, May 6 and 7. Volunteers are needed to direct traffic flow for the two-day event.

Some 18 hot air balloons will be launched at 6 a.m. Saturday and Sunday and 6 p.m. Saturday. The event will include seeing Lake County's only hot air balloon launch, listening and dancing to country western music, walking through the trade show, eating, pony rides and hayrides and just having fun.

Saturday's activities start at 6 a.m. and conclude at 8 p.m. Sunday starts again at 6 a.m. and concludes at 11 a.m. Sunday is the Balloonist Awards Banquet at 8:45 a.m.

Admission is $3 per person to attend, however volunteers can attend free. To volunteer, contact Karl Kopp, 360-9622 by April 26.

Township pay issue

LAKE VILLA TOWNSHIP—Highway Commissioner Jim Semmerling is upset the township board voted to change the payday for his employees. He said the township has no authority to change the payday for his employees who are his jurisdiction. He said the employees are to be paid on Thursday as specified in the highway department guidelines. He has asked the board change the pay period back to Thursday instead of Friday.

Work team to start

ROUND LAKE—The Look to the Future Foundation, a partnership of business and all four area mayors, has found the money to have a work team of six teens who will spruce up the homes of elderly residents. Commonwealth Edison, Hyatt Hotels and Glidden Paints provide the insurance and the equipment. Three $5,000 contributions from Cambridge Homes, Countryside Landfill and Motorola gives the foundation $15,000 needed to start the program. Harlan Dam of Com Ed said he hopes to get another $15,000 to get two work teams going. This is the first time the project has been tried in Lake County.

Pet survives house fire

ISLAND LAKE—Wauconda Firefighters successfully rescued a cat that had been found unconscious in a burning home. The fire was confined to a bathroom and attic and was put out within 25 minutes the afternoon of April 20. The firefighters applied oxygen to Twiggs, the cat, who was found on the basement floor. Twiggs is now alive and well.

Accident causes slow-downs

ANTIOCH—Tuesday started off pretty poorly for some early morning commuters. From 7:30 to 8:30 a.m., traffic was slowed down in both directions on Route 173 near Route 45 because of a three-car accident. No one was seriously injured in the crash, although, Timothy Eckland, 37, of Lake Villa was taken to St. Therese Hospital for minor cuts and bruises. Antioch Rescue Squad transported Eckland.

Firefighters become certified

FOX LAKE—Firefighters are learning to determine the 'hows' and 'whys' of a blaze at an annual Fire/Arson Investigation Course held in Fox Lake. The Heart of the Chain 'O Lakes is this years host for the two week training course, in which more than 50 firefighters from Northern Illinois and the Chicagoland area have joined together to become state certified fire investigators. Classes began April 17, and are being held at the Bingo Hall on Washington St. just south of the fire station. Besides a number of informative speakers, the sessions include exercises which incorporate burned-out vehicles and houses.

Residents oppose trail

LINCOLNSHIRE—Lincolnshire residents living in the upscale Rivershire development oppose the Lake County Forest Preserve District plan to build a trail through their gated community. Forest Preserve commissioners argue the developers and the Village of Lincolnshire knew of the trail since before the development was built and did not fully inform potential homebuyers of the trail. The Forest Preserve offered the residents an opportunity to come up with an alternative plan, but an alternative was not found. According to Forest Preserve commissioners, any more delays could jeopardize federal and state grant money earmarked for the trail project.

Police make vandalism arrest

LIBERTYVILLE—Libertyville Police arrested Blake Engle, 212 N. Second St., for a series of vandalism that occurred at the Crossroads Church, 1190 W. Winchester Road. On Sunday, April 23, the police and fire department were called to the church for an arson investigation. After investigating the scene and questioning Engle and another member of the church staff, police arrested Engle for criminal damage to property. Over the past two months Engle admitted to vandalizing an estimated $3,000 damage to the church. Engle was the maintenance person for the church and he had damaged an amplifier, cut cables outside the church and attempted to set the church on fire, stated Sergeant Erv Schamal.

McMahon resigns at WTHS

GURNEE—Pat McMahon is leaving Warren Township High School as its superintendent. Board of education members accepted McMahon's resignation by a 6-0 vote Monday. Board member Donald Bradley was not in attendance. McMahon informed WTHS staff he will be taking a position in Sterling Unit District 5 in a April 21 memo. Rumors had been circulating the previous day. He has been superintendent for five years and will be the new superintendent at Sterling, a unit district.

Class plants for Earth Day

MUNDELEIN—A West Oak fifth grade class got down and dirty planting 25 sapling trees in honor of the 25th Anniversary of Earth Day. Teacher Alice McAtee contacted Lake County Forester Paul Deizman to help the students plant the trees and to give them a little information about the need for trees and plants in the environment. The students planted the 12 inch trees outside the school building as a wind barrier for the school when they are full grown.

Stroll down Library Lane

GRAYSLAKE—The Grayslake Library board has requested the village change the name of East Street to Library Lane. Since East St. the location of the new library facility beginning construction this summer, is an imaginary street that currently only exists on a plat, the village board agreed to draw up a resolution to make the name change. The Library Board made the request because it felt a street named after a direction would cause confusion in locating the library.

Roller coaster to success

GRAYSLAKE—A Grayslake High School design team was one of only 13 to take on and complete The Great Roller Coaster contest. The team of four students finished seventh in the regional judging, one place out of qualifying for national competition, but took pleasure in the fact that 57 teams either dropped out or could not complete a design of the roller coaster of the future within the two-month deadline. The contest, sponsored by Six Flags, was intended to help physics students use their classroom learning for practical applications.

School to get tough on drugs

LAKE ZURICH—Lake Zurich High School students may soon be subject to random locker checks and anonymous accusations from their peers in an effort to ban drugs from the campus and village. These are among the recommendations made by LZHS Principal Dr. Wayne Erck as a way to eradicate drugs from the school and the village's it serves. Erck proposed a computer bulletin board be arranged which would allow students to anonymously leave messages about other students they suspect are using or possessing drugs. These messages would be monitored by para-professionals hired by the school.

Severed foot found in backyard

WAUKEGAN—Kenosha County authorities found the right foot of murder victim Stacey Frobels, 24, of Carol Stream, Ill. last week near the site where her hand was discovered one month ago. The severed skeletal foot was found by a resident of Bristol, Wis., less than six miles north of where Frobels' legs and skull. Lake County Sheriff's officials said the foot was found in a back yard around 400 yards from where the hand was found on the opposite side of the road from where authorities searched. The foot was brought to the Lake County Coroner's department morgue in Waukegan. Cook County Medical Examiner's officials said the foot matched the other body parts discovered.

Officers take evidence course to mock crime scene

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Botched and contaminated evidence. Sound familiar? It should for those who have been following the O.J. Simpson trial.

Armed with finger print brushes, cameras and measuring tools, officers attending an evidence training program converged at Ernie's Towing in Vernon Hills to scrutinize inch by inch a simulated crime scene.

Officers were on the hunt for finger prints, blood splatterings, hair follicles and patches of skin in their attempt to collect as much evidence as possible in crashed vehicles sporting bullet holes and various other dents caused by unknown weapons.

"They're applying everything they've learned into practical use," said Bob Wilson of the Northern Illinois Police Crime Laboratory. "This is nice because they get training in burglaries, homicides and assaults."

The 30 or so officers from 20 different law enforcement agencies have been attending an in-depth, two-week course on evidence training sponsored by the Criminal Justice Institute at the College of Lake County and the Northern Illinois Police Crime Laboratory in Highland Park. Officers from various departments including Antioch, Lake Zurich and Gurnee as well as agents from the Chicago Housing Authority are participating in the program.

If they succeed in the course, the officers return to their departments as evidence technicians capable of collecting evidence at automobile accidents, burglary scenes and other crime scenarios.

"It's strictly finding and collecting the evidence, so the investigators can re-create the crime," Wilson noted.

Four different cars were denoted as the crime scene. Officers were scanning for finger and foot prints, taking molds of dents in the vehicles, investigating blood and tissue samples, and measuring various angles of the vehicle.

"There's a lot to look for," said Brendan Arden of the Lake Zurich Police Department. "We're trying to put everything we learned into actual training. The hands-on training is different than what you learn in a book."

Arden said he was training so the Lake Zurich Police Department could have its own evidence technician on hand.

Likewise, James Ruth and Craig Somerville of the Antioch Police Department are in training so their department has trained evidence technicians as well.

"Locating, collecting and documenting evidence—that's what it is all about," Somerville said.

Ruth added, "It's given us a chance to apply classroom discussion to a crime scene."

The evidence they collect and document is then handed to investigators at the crime lab where it is analyzed, and the crime scene is then re-created.

Investigators and prosecutors then use the evidence to support their case at trial.

"If they do a good job, they're going to help solve the case," Wilson said.

And as O.J. Simpson is learning as he sits in court accused of a double murder, any mistakes in collecting evidence can hinder a successful prosecution.

Bombers accomplice: trust in our system

Publisher

Two days after the mind-numbing Oklahoma City bombing, the Wall Street Journal ran a diagram of a "more secure office" building.

Heavy roof, thick walls, sidewalk barricades to prevent cars from crashing into the building, no windows in the lobby, no trash receptacles or potted plants in the lobby, film on windows to absorb impact and prevent flying glass. Things like that.

Even as authorities continued searching for the perpetrators of the war-like attack, Americans struggled to regain their focus on reality. Life goes on. Life MUST go on. How can we protect ourselves and each other?

In the collective anger of the nation, Americans are saying, "Enough is enough." As prayers were said for the victims and their families, the cold, hard fact seeps in that the Oklahoma tragedy is another chip at our freedom, another slice out of the "openness" of our way of life.

As they are wont to do, politicians moved "boldly" to combat terrorism with bi-partisan zeal. Republicans appear ready to support President Clinton's Anti-Terrorist Act of 1995. New laws will surely limit immigration. The FBI will be granted broader wire-tap powers. New controls will be put in place on the financial holdings of foreigners.

Rep. Henry Hyde (R-Ill.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee where legislation will be initiated, likens the U.S. to a "hotel lobby." There will be debate over international terrorism vs. domestic terrorism. To suffering families and shaken citizens, terrorism is terrorism.

In that context, our nation has to be unstinting in its efforts to bring to justice and mete out swift punishment to the bombers. If there ever was just cause to support capital punishment, we witnessed the reasons in newspapers and on television of the horror in downtown Oklahoma City. Death is the only way to deal with the bombers.

Time has a way of easing the burden of disaster. It remains to be seen whether new laws will be enacted to curb acts of terror or if city buildings in time will be made "safer." Until then we can only steel ourselves with the conviction that we no longer can be trusting. Trust is the accomplice of the terrorist. That is sad. But that is reality.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

No need to apologize

Editor:

The excitement, furor, anguish and what have you that has been printed these past few months about the atomic bomb "mushroom cloud" stamp that signaled the end of World War II in the Pacific Theater with their devastating impact on both Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan, on Aug. 6 and 9, 1945, respectively by the first two atomic bombs used offensively by the U.S. as a war-ending effort will remain a moot point between opponents and proponents for a long time hence.

The survivors of both Hiroshima and Nagasaki, the Hibakusha, would of course be the first to vehemently decry this obscene use of nuclear power for human destruction and obliteration and the negative generational metamorphosis that has since ensued. The Hibakusha, of course, would be justified since they are "there."

Since the government and its present administration, along with the Japanese, thought that the atom bomb dropper Enola Gay was an insensitive issue, then here is another tidbit of enlightenment. On June 13, 1960, C.F. Buhl, SK1, a Navy scuba diver discovered one of the original Japanese midget submarines 75 feet below the surface of Keehi Lagoon, about four miles from the entrance to Pearl Harbor. After being brought to the surface and later to the Navy base for inspection, the live torpedo section was removed for proper disposal at sea. The remainder of the submarine was later returned "at the request of the Japanese government" and is now a war memorial at Eta Jima, Japan's Naval academy. One can only wonder what their plaque's interpretation of their weapon was on Pearl Harbor.

Let us not forget our fighting men and women, plus the innocent civilians that gave their lives in those past turbulent years of 1941 to 1945. Let them not be insulted by such bureaucratic maneuvers that would suggest that we should apologize. They were, and some still are, the living history of our country's efforts to defeat those that would have enslaved others. Let history ring true with not one iota of facts changed.

Save Kiley Center

Editor:

I have been circulating a petition opposing the closing of the Kiley Developmental Center in Waukegan. Having talked to over 200 people, I have not found one single taxpayer in favor of the closure. Every person that I have contacted readily agreed to sign the petition, without hesitation. Nobody wants to see Kiley closed.

At first I was just against the disruption of 400 lives. After talking to people I have now learned of the many dangers as well as the potential for abuse that face the retarded in the outside world. Where else would we find round-the-clock supervision in a safe, regulated, clean atmosphere? I learned that the Kiley Center prepares nutritious food and that the clients' health is well monitored. The parents have high regard for Kiley. Why destroy that which works? Group housing in a residential area does not work. It is not safe. It will not save money.

Please save Kiley Center on behalf of those who cannot speak for themselves. Let's hope that we do not see the center upgraded to house 40 prisoners when we could preserve a home for the 400 people already there.

Let's urge the General Assembly to keep the Kiley Center.

Against helmet regulations

Editor:

Thomas Jefferson put it best: "A wise and frugal government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another, shall leave them otherwise free...This is the sum of good government."

A wise and frugal government acts as a referee, preventing people from hurting other people. It should not become a parent; forcing and coercing individuals to do what it thinks is best for them.

The Jeffersonian principle of limited government is clearly violated by those who favor forcing motorcyclists to wear helmets against their will. This act of governmental parenting does not stop one person from injuring another. Mandatory motorcycle helmet laws violate individual liberty by forcing helmet use, regardless of how a person would like to ride a motorcycle.

Senator John Cullerton (D-Chicago) proposed a mandatory helmet bill in the Illinois State Senate. Contact your state legislators and ask them to vote against intolerable governmental infringement on freedom and against the mandatory motorcycle helmet law.

Christianity attacked

Editor:

Imagine my surprise to see two blatant attacks on Christianity in the same week! Curiously, it was the week held most holy by the Christian community. "The New Yorker Magazine" featured on its cover an Easter bunny crucified on a tax form; and in Chicago, two theaters released the movie "Priests."

Christian people were "treated" to a crucified rabbit as the cover of a popular magazine. This is blasphemous during the holiest week of the year when Christians, who believe Christ, through His crucifixion and resurrection, saved the world. See LETTERS page B5.

Solid waste woes eased in county

Pressures for adequate disposal of the solid wastes being generated in this locality have eased considerably.

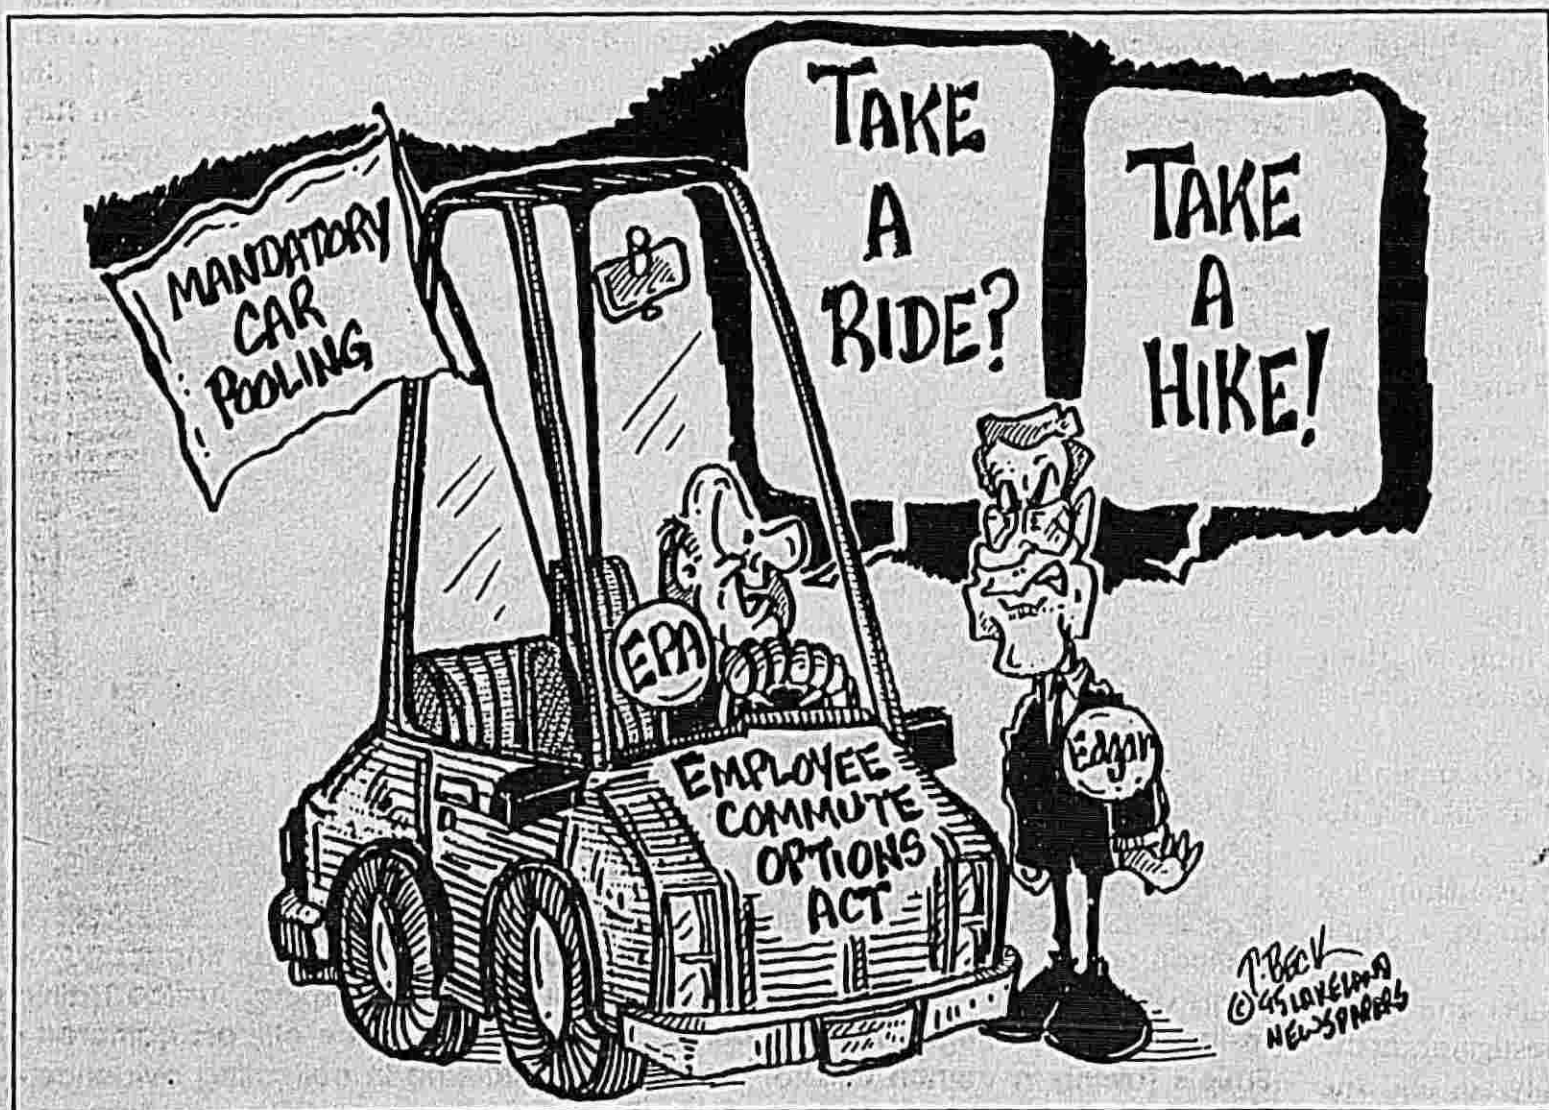

With the impetus of a friendly local government, the sprawling Browning-Ferris landfill near Zion will be expanded under a 20-year agreement with the City of Zion. Any timidity on the part of officials imposed by opposition to the landfill was brushed aside in the face of a $100,000 cash windfall for the city and a $500,000 annual payment for rights to operate.

On May 23, at a public hearing at the College of Lake County, USA Waste hopes to take a significant step toward expansion of Countryside Landfill on the outskirts of Grayslake in unincorporated territory. The hearing is being conducted by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

If all goes well for Countryside and the permitting process is successful, Lake County will have the distinction of being in the best shape for solid waste disposal of any of the six collar counties. Countryside also is pushing for a 20 year permit.

Browning-Ferris has agreed to devote up to 30 percent of its space to garbage from the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County which speaks for 36 municipalities and the county. Zion officials imposed 45 conditions on B-F to insure safety and proper operation of the facility that frequently has been a thorn in the side of neighbors and environmentalists over the years.

For the size of a county like Lake, two major landfills are better than one. We may have plenty of problems associated with growth and development, but disposing of solid waste won't be one of them.

PARTY LINES

Beaubien-Salvi clash looms for '96 primary

challenging State Rep. Al Salvi (R-Wauconda) in the 1996 Republican primary.

Beaubien reportedly is restless with the comparatively slow pace of county government and yearns for the greater challenges

Insiders say Beaubien will not be short of funds, recalling how he spent a reported $22,000 (mostly personal funds) three years ago to win election to the county board—and a job that pays $25,000 a year.

Salvi spent freely (an estimated $85,000 to $100,000) to defeat Nancy Masterson for the nomination in 1992 so he's no slouch when it comes to raising campaign funds.

Speculators also have raised the question that the lawyer-banker from Barrington might be interested in changing venues because of expected opposition next year for reelection—especially after his ethics gaff with the Michael Jordan Golf Center in Buffalo Grove and a rather listless record.

This one will be worth watching—closely.

Can't talk—Embattled trustees of the once little known Lakes Region Sanitary Dist. have put a gag order on their office manager, Joan Ferrigan, not to talk to the press.

Lakes Region has been thrust into the limelight because of the advent of the super-rich Pritzker family laying groundwork to build nearly 2,000 homes on a 875-acre parcel in west Lake County.

A citizens watchdog group, the South Grant Coalition, has accused trustees Terry Grom, Bruce Schrage and Bob Johnson of behind-the-scenes dealing with Pritzker aides.

Record turnout—One of the largest audiences ever to attend a Lake Zurich village board meeting is expected for swearing-in ceremonies Monday night for three new trustees.

Stick up for the people—Steve Gray, coordinator of a vocal citizens group against an asphalt plant in Fox Lake, expressed VOTER's (Voices Opposed To Environmental Ruin) battles are not frivolous. "Some people perceive myself and the group I'm in as being opposed to everything," said Gray. Not so, he explained. "We just feel that the issues lately have not been in the interest of the residents who live here," Gray said. In other words, VOTER's interest is for the benefits of the people above that of the developer.

Can't miss—Losers can be winners—if they're Republicans. That's the case of Martin Paulson and Edna Schade, who are enjoying chief aide status with County Clerk Willard Helander after unsuccessful runs for office last year.

Paulson and Helander are fellow Libertyville residents. Schade hails from Highland Park, where Democratic voters are in abundance.

Helander will be announcing another appointment in May—another Republican loser? Political activist Jack Martin, who lost his attempt for a Libertyville trustee seat, seems to fit the current criteria.

May 1 filing—Something he's never done before—inviting the suburban press to the Chicago mayor's office at 2 p.m. Monday, "to express appreciation for support." The gesture of hospitality by Richard M. Daley is giving credence to reports that "dah mare" might be taking seriously suggestions that he run for governor in 1998.

Bears talk—Waukegan's infamous McBubble near Lakehurst where the Chicago Bears hold indoor practices in cold weather has one more year of service before the Monsters of the Midway move into a new facility south of Rte. 60 near the Illinois Tollway. Mike McCaskey may not know where the Bears will play after 1999, but he knows where they'll be practicing after leaving Halas Hall in Lake Forest.

Does Illinois need Prop. 187?—United We Stand America-Illinois will host an audience participation forum on immigration and legislative issues entitled "Does American Need a Proposition 187?" April 29 at the Waukegan Library from 10 a.m. to noon.

Joe Daleidan, chairman of the Illinois Citizens for Immigration Reform will discuss the positive and negative features of the present system as well as the impact of not enforcing immigration laws. State Senator Adeline Geo-Karls will update the audience on legislative issues if Springfield adjourns properly.

More border patrols—A survey by Rep. John Porter (R-10 Dist.) indicates constituents want increased government support for border patrol, health research and the war on drugs. They don't support increased funding for Congress, the White House and foreign military aid. Porter received 14,328 responses to the questionnaire.

Tort bill passes house—A tort reform bill sponsored by Rep. Al Salvi (R-Wauconda) passed the Illinois House of Representatives, April 20. "The fear of what's known as an 'interference tort' has had a material and adverse effect on the availability of credit in Illinois," Salvi said. The bill will limit liability of creditors in cases relating to a credit agreement involving a person who is not involved in the loan. It will prohibit a third party from suing the bank under those circumstances. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Political perks—Mundelein Trustee-elect Ray Semple has noticed a definite increase in his popularity since his election victory. "I have a lot of new friends," he admitted. His new-found fame, it seems, is a bonus when it comes to getting cooperation on projects that often have nothing to do with village business. His efforts as a church committee member, for example, netted a sweet deal in supplies for a fellowship function.

Honored—What do you get as an outgoing member of the Lake Zurich Board of Trustees? The answer is your nameplate and a plaque. Both were presented to Jerry Blum, Kathy Schweit and Larry Colley at a dinner held April 24 attended by many village staff members. All three outgoing trustees will continue serving the village in positions on advisory boards, commissions and committees.

It's only politics—Several Lake Zurich Plan Commissioners who were fired last week complained their undoing was based on politics. Trustee Karen Demos-Rosenthal had a reply: "If people say it is politics, isn't that why they call us politicians?" Mayor Deborah A. Vasels said her decision to fire the appointed officials was based on poor attendance.

Vasels said her decision to fire the appointed officials was based on poor attendance.

Veteran disappointed—Former Round Lake Beach Trustee Dennis Kehrer was upset more voters didn't come out to the polls in the April election. Kehrer, a Vietnam veteran who put his life on the line for his country to fight for freedom, is incensed only about 15 percent of the people took the time to vote. He said every American has a duty to his country and at the very least should vote.

From Dem coffee boy to village trustee—Island Lake Trustee, Lake County Republican Central Committee Secretary as well as former Wauconda Township Republican Chairman Fred Bigham says he wasn't always riding on the back of an elephant. Several years before moving to Lake County Bigham was a big-time Democrat, with ties to the Chicago City Council. Bigham said he had a "city job" and worked as Ward Secretary for Bigham Alderman of the 33rd Ward Richard Mell. The "powerful" alderman, said Bigham worked closely with then mayor Jane Byrne. One of his various "city jobs" was as humble as being the "coffee boy" for former Mayor Michael Bilandik.

No noise zone—The Village of Grayslake has long been on record in favor of the Rte. 53 extension. The village feels the new road will be a bonus to commercial development as well as to relieve traffic congestion on Routes 120 and 45.

The one area that may receive a negative impact is the Prairie Towne subdivision on the village's south side. According to Village Manager Mike Ellis, the village government is trying to limit that impact as much as possible by presenting their own design for landscape buffering and noise barriers to the toll authority and IDOT, who have preset criteria for noise control tied to decibel level.

"Instead of waiting for IDOT to present a buffering plan, the village is drawing engineering plans for noise and landscape buffering. We are going to come to them with a plan and we're not going to worry about decibels," Ellis said.

Farewell—Patrick Wilson came to the Mundelein board meeting Monday night to bid a farewell to the three trustees who will be replaced next week. Wilson said he had worked with James Keeney and Gerald Caslavka for six years and it was a pleasure working with them. He also wanted to say good luck and farewell to Pam Kerpec who replaced Wilson last year as village trustee. He hoped that these three hard working individuals will continue to stay involved with the village making it a better place in which to live. On May 1, the Village of Mundelein will swear in Ray Semple, Duane Dudek and Ira Kosova as the village trustees.

urrection redeemed believers, are entering into Christ's Passion in order to celebrate His resurrection. This cover insinuates that Christ was no different than a rabbit—an obvious display of contempt for Christianity.

In releasing the movie "Priests," in spite of being protested across the nation, Miramax (a subsidiary of Disney) attacked Catholicism by attacking the priesthood. The movie invites the public to see the Catholic Church and Her teachings as the cause of priestly problems. What nonsense! It seems that this film has an agenda: To destroy the church, and to make money.

Enough is enough! No more attacks on Christianity.

Gasoline tax talk resurfaces

Editor:
Once again, the idea of a gasoline tax in Lake County has surfaced, the funds from which are to be used to help ease traffic gridlock, caused by all the over development.

This proposed tax has been referred to as a user-fee, but we all know that a tax is a tax!

If the roads are improved and traffic eased, the developers will fill them up again in short order, like they do the schools.

With these thoughts in mind, please write your state legislators and remind them that they are supposed to represent the voters, too, not just big business! NO to the gas tax!

Lake County 4-H presents public speaking awards

The Lake County 4-H clubs held a Public Presentations Contest, with 20 contestants entered in nine speech categories. The categories represented illustrated speech, extempore speaking, master of ceremonies, oral interpretation, original works, demonstration-general, foods demonstration, horticulture demonstration and horse illustrated talk. Each category was divided into junior, intermediate or senior, depending on the age of the 4-H member. The contest members' ranged in age from eight through 17, with six of the 26 Lake County chapters represented. Clarence Williams, an instructor from Antioch High School, was the judge and Patricia Henschen, a 4-H volunteer, was the contest coordinator.

For illustrated speech, Brittany Engler in the junior division and Bridget Engler in the intermediate division earned Grand Champion awards. In the extempore speaking and master of ceremonies in the intermediate division, Eric Bockelmann was the Grand Champion. The Grand Champion for oral interpretation in the junior division was Kelly Gregory, and for the intermediate division, Amy Henschen and Eeve Fernandez. Gregory earned another Grand Champion award in the

Henschen also earned her second Grand Champion ribbon in the intermediate division for foods demonstration, while Christopher Aaltonen was the Grand Champion in the senior division. In the horticulture demonstration, Andre Reiner was the Grand Champion, while Megan Gregory was the Grand Champion in horse illustrated talk.

The Best of Show award and Grand Champion, and the audience favorite was an original works entry by Laura Ludovice of the Warren Hot Shots entitled "Cooking Chaos," an original skit of a cook making a cake who kept getting interrupted and losing her place.

The Grand Champions and the Best of Show were selected to compete at the Illinois State Fair as delegates or alternates.

The evening was just one example of the many activities available to 4-H members. Any boy or girl from ages eight to 18 can call the Lake County 4-H office in Grayslake at 223-8627 to find out how to join a 4-H club in their area. —by TIM BOCKELMANN, Alpine 4-H Club.

"I have been honored to serve the last 10 years as Election Administrator, particularly under Linda Hess," Vanderventer said. "I knew that (termination) was going to be a reality, but I would still love to be there."

During her campaign for County Clerk, Helander pledged to work equally and fairly with the current administrators at the County Clerk's Office. She said she had no intentions of implementing a political purge.

"She's a nice person," Helander said of Vanderventer. "She's pleasant, polite and courteous, but a business decision is not based on friendship."

Helander said the reorganization of the former hierarchy at the County Clerk's Office aims to improve service and to maintain a cost-efficient department in preparation for the National Voter Registration Act.

She said her new team of appointees will focus on improving the system of voter registration, reworking the training of deputy registrars and election judges, and analyzing the voter registration database system.

"The responsibilities of elections are changing rapidly," said Helander, adding that she will announce her third appointment in May.

PET OF THE WEEK

Young at heart

"Jezebel" is a female Aussie cattledog mix. At 35 pounds, Jezebel is a plump, uncommon looking, smaller dog with a short black and tan coat. At eight years "young," Jezebel is young at heart and in the prime of her life. This active little lady loves to play and is ever eager to fetch sticks and balls. She adores going out for walks and prefers adult companionship and attention. One of the shelter's longest residents, Jezebel has been at the shelter since July of 1993, and lately she's been looking rather sad, as if she is giving up that anyone will ever want her.

Jezebel is in Cage 3. Cash $55 donation includes free spay/neuter, collar, leash, first shots, follow-up care and more. Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield. Hours at 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., several days a week. Call 945-0235 for further information.

Thanks: "Ashley," the spaniel mix that ran in the April 13 issue has been adopted. She was at the shelter for almost a year.

Local VFW posts play active role in community

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

To dispel the popular image of old men meeting monthly in a hall and simply reminiscing about old wartime stories, Veterans of Foreign Wars or the local VFW Post, are active participants in the community.

From Antioch to Lake Zurich, local VFW posts and their members play large roles in their community by supporting a variety of programs for the youth and the elderly in addition to supporting other war veterans who have become hospitalized or need further assistance.

"That's what the VFW is all about: To support the community in which we live and the hospitalized veterans," said Antioch VFW Post Commander Al Himber.

Like many other VFW posts, the Antioch VFW pays monthly visits to the Veterans Affairs Medical Center in North Chicago. They host bingo, offer prizes and hand out refreshments.

"We more or less try to provide entertainment to the hospitalized veterans," Himber said.

The Antioch VFW also supports the Cub Scouts by sponsoring Blue and Gold dinners. It delivers awards and flags to schools.

As a special treat this Memorial Day, One-Star Brigadier General George Oliver Hillard III is the guest of honor during the Memorial Day parade May 29 at 10:30 a.m. The general will also dedicate a Vietnam-era tank in one of the town squares. Other dignities to be on hand include Lieutenant Colonel Ross from the Air Force, Captain High J. McCullom of the Navy, State Treasurer Judy Topinka, State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis, State Representative Robert Churchill and Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug.

"We just try to keep people aware of the soldiers who have lost their lives in the line of duty," Himber said.

After the Antioch parade, the Lake Villa VFW Post has invited General Hillard to lead the Lake Villa parade as well.

Lake Villa also gives assistance at the local level as well as sponsors holiday parties, such as Christmas, Valentine's Day, Easter and Thanksgiving events, at the VA for the veterans.

"We all feel great doing things with the veterans at the hospital," said John Vavrusa of the Lake Villa VFW. "We try to assist the veterans in any possible way we can."

According to Grayslake VFW Post Commander Robert Wegge, the Grayslake Post sponsors a variety of local programs and festivals, educational workshops on government and naturalization, "get out the vote" programs, recreational safety programs and a number of youth activities.

Wegge said at each monthly meeting a query is made to any needy veteran family to which food and money are contributed. It also supports the VFW National Home, a boarding school for orphaned children and grandchildren of veterans. The Grayslake Post also actively seeks high school juniors and seniors for the annual "Voice of Democracy" scholarship program. Winners could win up to $20,000 in college scholarships.

Each year the Lake Zurich post hosts 15 to 20 veterans See ACTIVE ROLE page B21

VFW vets make time for hospitalized vets

It takes so little to put a smile on their faces — and for many, a smile is all they have left.

Whether it's for physical injuries or psychological reasons more than 300 U.S. veterans are admitted at the Veterans Affairs Medical Center in North Chicago. These former U.S. soldiers who have fought overseas or have served in the military during other troubled periods have defended this country in battle during the Second World War or as currently as Operation Desert Storm.

Some are regular patients and demand more extensive care, while others come in for check ups or stay there for brief periods after an illness, medical complication or surgery.

Countless social service organizations from the Boy Scouts to the Salvation Army pay do-good visits to the hospital throughout the year, but it's really something special for both the patients and benefactor when members from local VFW posts visit their fallen comrades.

VFW posts from across the county regularly visit the Veterans Affairs Medical Center in North Chicago. Some entertain veterans with bingo, other posts hold pizza parties, while still others, such as Vernon Hills Post 6693, bring ice cream to as many patients as possible.

"This really gets into what helping the veterans is all about," said Gary Garland of Vernon Hills Post 6693 which serves ice cream to VA patients once a month. "It's easy to write a check to the VA, but with this you see the guys, and smell and taste the hospital."

"It's a nice relaxing break. That and good ice cream," said Scott Weygand of Zion who is a temporary patient at the VA. "It's a lot of fun, and it breaks up the day."

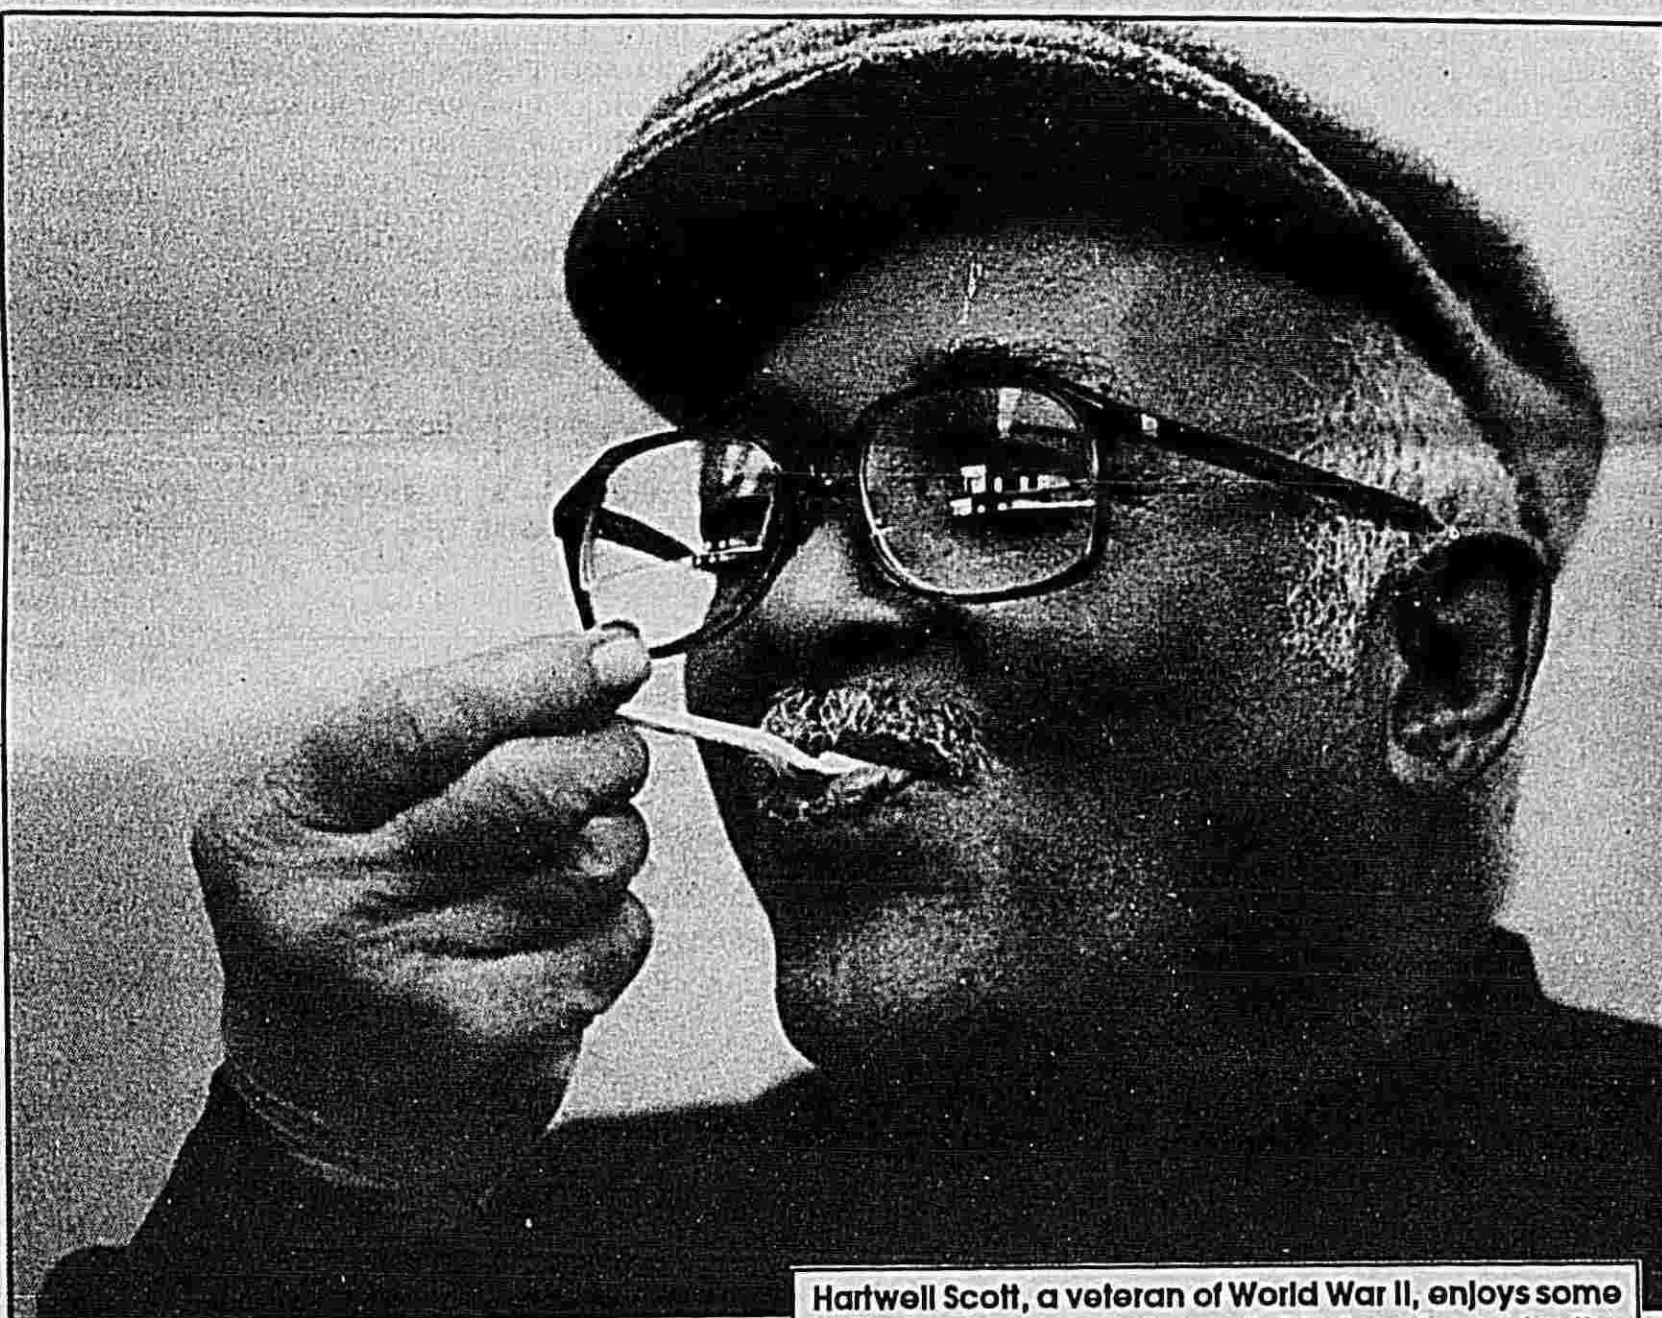

Weygand, known as the "Wheelie Man," is quick to entertain his fellow VA patients by doing wheelchair tricks. He also assists the VFW members when they arrive at the hospital.

A handful of Vernon Hills post members make the trip to the VA each month. Dishing out ice cream during Easter weekend were Garland, his wife and daughter, Shirley and Julie, and Vernon Hills VFW Post members Joseph Bohn, John Stiff, Al Israel, and Steve Haisley. With a cart full of ice cream, chocolate syrup, sprinkles, and whip cream, they wheeled from wing to wing handing out cups of ice cream.

"A lot of it is depressing. It's really an eye-opener," Israel said as some of the veterans sat motionless in their wheelchairs, while others stared aimlessly at televisions from their beds.

Some of the patients need assistance eating the ice cream. Others can't have it all because of their condition. But the ones who do enjoy the refreshing treat appreciate not only the ice cream but the presence of visitors.

"It's something you don't get all the time," said Hartwell Scott, a 69-year-old veteran of World War II.

Hartwell Scott, a veteran of World War II, enjoys some of the ice cream made available to veterans by the Vernon Hills VFW. "This really cheers us up and lifts our spirits," Scott said. "This really cheers us up and lifts our spirits."

Likewise, it does the same for those who are hosting ice cream socials, pizza parties or holding bingo.

"This is like giving them a hunk of gold," Garland said.

Stift added, "It's really heart jerking. You'll be amazed how much the guys appreciate it. Some have tears come to their eyes."

Some of the veterans are at the front door waiting when the different groups are scheduled to arrive with their treats and entertainment.

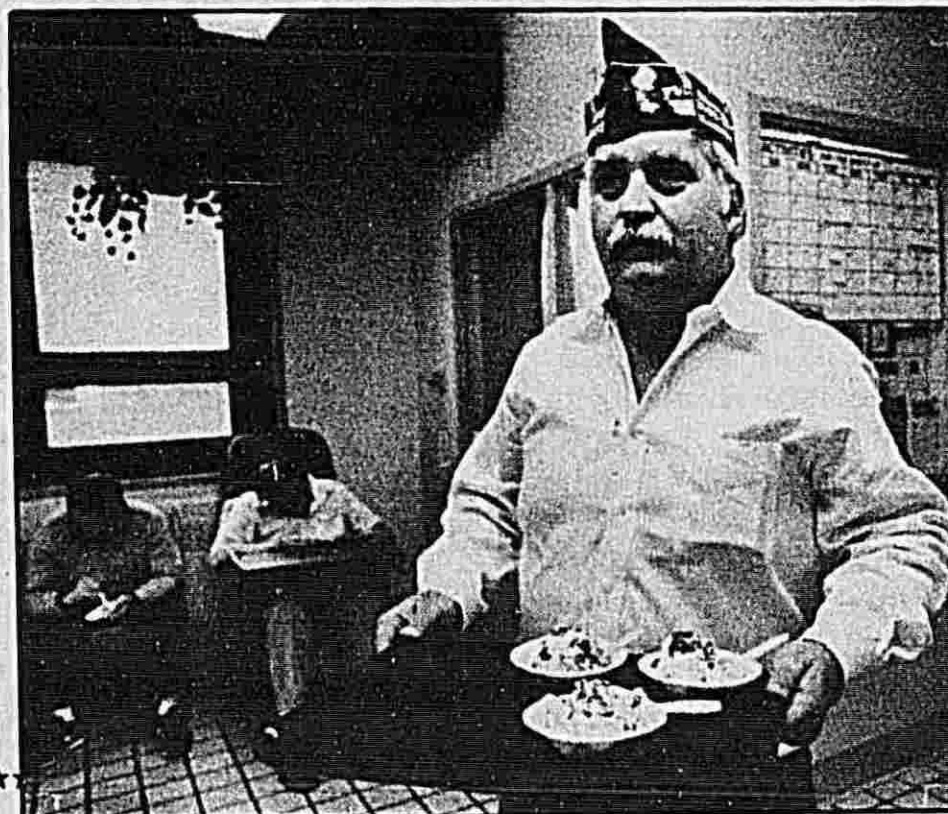

The hospital staff also appreciates the outside assistance as well.

Barbara Hoffman, recreation therapy assistant at the hospital, said, "They (veterans) really appreciate it and they look forward to it. I tell them, 'Tomorrow, we're having an ice cream social,' and their eyes light up."

Hoffman organizes picnics during the summer, visits during the year and the Adopt-A-Vet program, when groups visit and buy gifts for veterans during the holidays.

"Just visiting—that's probably one of the most important things to them," Hoffman said.

'Peter and the Wolf'

The Lake Forest Symphony under the direction of Paul Anthony McRae will present three "Peter and the Wolf" education concerts. This symphonic fairytale offers the children a perfect opportunity to learn the instruments of the orchestra and the various sounds they produce.

The brilliant narration and colorful orchestral music allow the children to easily recognize the theme characters: Peter (strings), the bird (flute), Grandfather (bassoon), the cat (clarinet), the duck (oboe), and the wolf (French horns). The Barat College Dance Department and the North Shore School of Dance will collaborate Prokofiev's opera to life.

The Symphony will travel to the College of Lake County April 28 for two school concerts sponsored by Abbott Laboratories.

A 10 a.m. performance will be held April 29 at the Lake Forest Intermediate School in Lake Forest. The entire family is welcome to participate in festivities with their favorite preschool - third grader. Following the concert at 11 a.m., the children will be invited to visit the musical instrument petting zoo where they will meet the musicians and learn about the uniqueness of each instrument.

Tickets will be sold in advance and at the door. Adults are $4 and children $2, seating is general admission. For more information contact the Lake Forest Symphony at 295-2135.

New children's theatre

Pheasant Run Theatre is proud to announce its upcoming production of a new children's play, "Rat Dog and Princess Toad meet the Frog Prince." Based upon the children's favorite, "The Frog Prince," by Hans Christian Andersen and Diana Martinez's original characters, "Rat Dog" and "Princess Toad." The production marks the first in a series of incredible adventures for Pheasant Run's new Children's Theatre.

In the first adventure, Rat Dog and Princess Toad journey via the Princess' imagination to meet the coolest Frog this side of the palace.

The story opens with Priscilla, a precocious 8 year old, and her favorite furry friend, Rocky, a cocker spaniel. When a street-wise narrator encourages Priscilla to use her imagination to become whoever and do whatever she wants, their adventures begin.

"Rat Dog and Princess Toad meet the Frog Prince," opens May 7. Performances will be every Sunday at 10:30 a.m. followed by a Kids' brunch, where audience members can meet the cast.

Ticket prices start at $6 per person with brunch packages, overnight packages and group discounts available.

Critic's Choice

Vanita Harbour as Nomathemba and Ntare Mwine as Bongani in "Nomathemba."

'Nomathemba': tale of hope

"Nomathemba"—the Zulu word for hope—is the title and prevailing theme of the musical play about contemporary Africa based on a book and lyrics by Ntozake Shange, Joseph Shabalala and Eric Simonson.

Directed in its world premiere by Simonson at Chicago's Steppenwolf Theatre,

"Nomathemba" is a simple, stirring story of a country shaking off the yoke of apartheid and discovering that the process is fraught with challenge.

The story develops through the eyes of a pair of young lovers. Nomathemba (Hope), unsure about the sincerity of her fiancée leaves her tiny village to seek happiness in the big city. She finds the way rough going: jobs are scarce and the men she encounters shallow. Vanita Harbour vivifies the part nicely.

Ntare Mwine plays Bongani as the smooth young romantic who becomes heartsick after Nomathemba's departure. For months he pines for her before setting out himself to the city in search of the only person who gave his life meaning.

As in an earlier, companion play ("The Song of Jacob Zulu") "Nomathemba" is graced with the singing voices of Ladysmith Black Mambazo, a male chorus that provides beautiful Zulu music, both a capella and to the accompaniment of drums and other African instruments.

"Nomathemba" will run through May 21. Ticket information is available at (312)335-1650.—by TOM WITOM

Adopt a wild horse

Approximately 125 healthy and trainable horses rounded up from fragile western rangelands will be offered for adoption at the Exposition Gardens in Peoria. The event is sponsored by the Dept. of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management.

Before being transported to satellite adoption centers in the East and Midwest, all animals are vaccinated, blood tested and dewormed. Each animal is inspected by a qualified veterinarian and given a clean bill of health before being shipped.

To qualify to adopt up to four animals, applicants must have a sturdy corral at least six feet high for horses, shelter, transportation and means of caring for the animals. The adoption fee is $125 per horse.

The horses will arrive at the Livestock Review on Friday, May 12, with viewing hours from 1 to 5 p.m. The scheduled hours for the horse adoption event will be from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 13, and if any animals remain, on Sunday, May 14, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ixtapa-Zihuatanejo The New Acapulco

PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Just north of the well-known city of Acapulco is quietly emerging a new place in the sun. This newest Mexican vacation destination is known as Ixtapa-Zihuatanejo.

Fifteen years ago, Ixtapa was mostly mangrove swamps and Zihuatanejo was a fishing village. Today Zihuatanejo is still a fishing village, but now it's got electricity, water and phone service. Ixtapa, on the other hand, boasts some of the most luxurious hotels in the world.

Most hotels of Ixtapa are located on the beach. Few, however, have private beaches since Mexican law says beaches must be public. This has caused these beach front inns to construct the most fabulous, and in some cases, the most outrageous swimming pools to be found anywhere. You'll find swim-up bars, waterslides, arched bridges and fountains.

Suggested hotels? The Krystal is a good bet for the young or young at heart. The Camino Real, built into a hillside, is a real work of art, with balconies the size of the rooms themselves. Set off by itself is Club Med. This one even has a mini club for the kids.

Restaurants? The Dolphin on Ixtapa Island is the place for red snapper. Bogart's is the "dress-up" eatery in town. Villa de la Selva has the atmosphere, though the food is nothing special. Good Mexican food is hard to find! The best bet would be the main restaurant in the El Presidente Hotel.

Things to do: Take a drive up the coast to Playa Quileta. From there, you can get a boat to Ixtapa Island, about 10 miles offshore. You can also take a boat to Las Gatas Beach, still part of the mainland, but accessible only by boat. You'll find some great open air seafood stands there as well as some very friendly Mexicans.

You'll have no choice but to end the day with a sight you'll long remember: an Ixtapa sunset.

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

This time, the joke's on me!

As any of you who are faithful readers of this column know, I like to steal the majority of my humorous subject matter from the escapades of family and friends. It sure beats having to make it up every week. And, for the most part, these bizarre stories are true. In fact, I usually don't bother to change the names, because these people are far from innocent and do not need to be protected. Actually, it's me who has needed protection occasionally after printing something my family didn't like, but that's part of my job. Yes, folks, each week I write tales that could affect my very life if I aggravate the right person. But I take these risks for you, the reader. (And mostly because it's fun!)

Or at least it was fun until recently. How can I put this delicately—I think I ticked off God. That's not easy to do, but somewhere, somehow, in my column or just in my daily life, I must have poked fun at him. So, he decided to give me a little(?) scare and I must admit it worked. (Well, it sort of worked—I figure it must be a sign but I'm not sure what it means.)

Now, remember, what you are about to read is true—I am NOT making this up (by the way, I stole that last line from Dave Barry, but I feel fairly safe in assuming he, unlike God, doesn't read this column).

Here goes. My husband and I, along with our two youngest children, went to a local fast food restaurant on Saturday night. It was a fairly uneventful dinner, which means baby Samantha did not choke on her french fries, or touch her brother's food (in which case, he would have been unable to eat it, because SHE TOUCHED IT!).

After dinner, I asked my husband to pull up in front of the nearby drugstore, since we needed diapers and some baby Tylenol. He stayed in the car with the children, and I went inside to do the shopping.

Pretty boring, so far, huh? Wait—I'm just getting to the good part. All of a sudden, after I'd found the diapers and began looking for the Tylenol, I felt a terrible pain in the center of my chest. Whoa, I thought, talk about a bad hamburger. I knew I shouldn't have ate at "_____" (fill in the name of any fast food restaurant). Thinking it was just heartburn, I continued my shopping, but the pain got worse every minute. By the time I made it to the checkout aisle with the three items I'd come there for, my chest felt as though it was being crushed in a vise grip and the pain was nearly intolerable. All I could think was that I had to hurry up, pay for my goods and get outside so I could say goodbye to my husband and children before I bit the dust. (I had always pictured my death scene as a little more dramatic than dropping over in line at the drugstore with an armful of diapers.)

There was only one person in front of me in line, but of course she was one of those irritating shoppers who gets up to the cash register and then can't decide what she wants to buy.

While I'm standing in line wondering where that bright light is that everyone sees before they go, this woman is pondering whether or not she should buy the Power Ranger stickers, and was it the red ranger or the white ranger that her son liked. Or maybe it was the green ranger. Normally at this point I would have muttered an obscenity under my breath, but by then I was having trouble breathing.

Finally, it was my turn at the cash register, and I assume I looked strange because the checker kept staring at me as though I were a drug addict with a gun in my pocket. As soon as she put the change in my hand, I grabbed the bag of stuff I'd bought and stumbled out the door. My husband was waiting with the car running. Clutching my chest, I opened the car door, got in, turned to him and gasped, "I think I'm having a heart attack."

(TO BE CONTINUED NEXT WEEK.)

Cooking by the Book

A compendium of best recipes

"America's Best-Loved Community Recipes," a Meredith book issued under the Better Homes & Gardens Books imprint, is a sure-fire way to ease meal planning. Here's a keeper the book's editors have culled from "Central Cuisine."

Ruby date bars

3 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
1 8 oz. package chopped, pitted dates
1 1/2 cups water

3/4 cup sugar

2 tsp. finely shredded lemon peel

1 Tbl. lemon juice

1 cup packed light brown sugar

1/2 cup margarine or butter, softened

1/4 cup shortening

1/2 tsp. salt

1/2 tsp. baking soda

1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon

1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour

1 1/4 cups quick-cooking oats

In a large saucepan, combine the cranberries, dates, water, granulated sugar, lemon peel and lemon juice. Bring the cranberry-date mixture to a boil over high heat, stirring frequently. Reduce the heat and simmer, uncovered, about 12 minutes or until the mixture is thickened, stirring occasionally. Cool slightly.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Grease a 13x9x2 inch baking pan. In a large mixing bowl, combine the brown sugar, margarine or butter, and shortening. Beat with an electric mixer until the mixture is light and fluffy. Add the salt, baking soda and cinnamon.

Add the flour, about 1/2 cup at a time. Once the flour is incorporated, stir in the oats (the mixture will look crumbly). Set 2 cups of the oat mixture aside for the topping. Press the remaining oat mixture evenly into the prepared pan.

Evenly spread the cranberry-mixture ontop of the oat mixture in the pan. Sprinkle with the reserved oat mixture. Bake in the 375 degree oven for 25 to 27 minutes or until the topping is light browned. Cool on wire rack. Cut into 2 x 1/2 inch bars.—by TOM WITOM

James R. Baker
HypnotherapistMovie Pick
Depp in top form in 'Don Juan'

Johnny Depp dumped his mundane teen cop role a few years ago to become one of Hollywood's leading young actors whose specialty is playing misfits with romantic hearts.

He made us sad in "Edward Scissorhands," had us smiling amid the pathos in "Benny and Joon," touched our hearts in "Gilbert Grape," and drew our admiration for his acting talents in "Ed Wood."

His latest release, "Don Juan DeMarco," has these talents finely meshed with the outstanding ones of two of our older, finely honed, dramatic legends, Marlon Brando and Faye Dunaway.

"DeMarco" is a touching story about a self destructive lover of fantasy.

The story starts with Depp, dressed like one of the Three Musketeers, on top of a billboard threatening to end it all. Of course they call for a psychiatrist to talk him down.

The head healer turns out to be a very large, much older, Marlon Brando, despite his 400 plus poundage he still has that seductive appeal.

Brando's better half, played with finesse by Dunaway, gets into the act too, as they both end up better for their confrontation with Depp.

Depp and Brando unearth the best in each others' talent repertoire, while Dunaway is able to match both of them in their bizarre emotional appeal.

Although Depp is supposed to be the reincarnated lover of all times, you'll never be privy to that side of our hero, sad for those who are hoping to see Depp in a romantic conquest. Let's just say, the producer of "Don Juan DeMarco," opted for a more realistic climax.

"DeMarco" features a lot of comedic chemistry being bantered back and forth between Brando and Dunaway to the audience's delight.

The entire film is an unusual and fun experience and, surprisingly, a film with such highly sexual overtones is done in such good taste, it's rated PG-13.

Maybe we saw "De Marco" on one of our more benevolent days, but because this is a good date movie for young and old lovers, with the unusual ingredient for such flicks, marvelous acting, we'll go all the way and give it five out of five stars.—by GLORIA DAVIS

'Celebrate Nature' at annual Smith Symposium

"Celebrate Nature" with Abbott Laboratories and the Friends of Ryerson Woods at the Lake County Forest Preserves' 12th annual Smith Symposium. Held on Sundays, May 7, 14 and 21 at the Ryerson Conservation Area near Deerfield, the Symposium offers bird and wildflower walks, and nature workshops led by experts from across the Midwest.

Join naturalists and nationally-renowned authors Donald and Lillian Stokes for the keynote presentation on the "Amazing World of Birds," Sunday, May 7 at 1:30 p.m.

Among the workshop topics offered are: "Mechanics of Avian Flight" presented by Eldon Greij, publisher of "Birders World;" "Hummingbirds," presented by Dave Willard, bird collection manager for the Field Museum; "Breeding Birds" and Dr. Scott Robinson, Ornithologist with the Illinois Natural History Survey; and "Identifying Trees in Spring" with Susanne Masi from the Chicago Botanic Garden.

A tour of the Wetland Demonstration Project in Wadsworth lead by Professor Scott Hickman of the College of Lake County will show how this unique restoration is helping the overall health of the Des Plaines River.

Free bird and wildflower walks begin at 7:30 a.m. and end before the workshops begin. Workshops are $5, $3 for Friends of Ryerson Woods members.

The fee for the May 7 keynote presentation by the Stokes is $6, $4.50 for Friends of Ryerson Woods members.

Reservations are required and can be made by calling 948-7750.

Libertyville Civic Center to host senior-friendly products fair

Lucile Stelken of One Classic Place Retirement Community, will host one of the booths during the "Independence Day in May" senior-friendly products fair to be held at the Libertyville Civic Center located at 135 Church St. in Libertyville, on Tuesday, May 2 from 10 to 2 p.m. Sponsors for the event are The Senior Services Coalition of Lake County, Lake County Council for Seniors, and the Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging.

Attractions at the event for older adults will include user-friendly products and services, demonstrations by occupational therapists, a traveling fashion show featuring designer-looks in adaptive clothing, information and referral services and a host of information of interest to seniors. Refreshments will be served throughout the day and lunch is available. Door prizes will be awarded.

Among the vendors who will be available at the fair are Finders, a referral service for seniors regarding home repairs and remodeling; PACE public transportation; AARP; the Lake County Health Dept.; HOST, an agency dedicated to helping seniors find tenants to share their homes; Hearing Associates who will provide two audiologists to test hearing; Edna b. adaptive clothing providing dignity; Rehabilitation Associates of Riverwoods, who will provide physical and occupational therapists to demonstrate adaptive equipment, Catholic Charities, and a variety of area hospitals, retirement communities, home health care agencies, medical claims assistance agencies, vision enhancers equipment agencies and hospice services.

Two of the more unique programs and services that will be represented are "Woman of the Cloth" and "Canine Companions for Independence," offered Stelken. "Janna See FAIR page B14

Fair

Kimel, who is the founder of 'Woman of the Cloth' will provide an array of functional and stylish clothing designed specifically for people with a disability. Kimel will meet individuals with disabilities and/or their caregivers in their homes and suggest modifications to off-the-rack garments already owned by the prospective client. With her years of experience as a wardrobe supervisor modifying costumes to facilitate actors with rapid offstage costume changes, she's well-equipped to give such guidance to people with disabilities. It has been her goal since 1992, to help those with disabilities gain greater independence by helping them modify their clothing.

"Another unique agency represented in the fair is the 'Canine Companions for Independence.' The skillfully trained animals perform various tasks to assist their masters such as picking up a phone, papers, or even a dime. We feel this fair will be an outstanding opportunity for seniors to see some of the new items available to them, to familiarize themselves with area retirement communities and to enjoy a day out among their peers," concluded Steinken. "With various Lake County Senior Groups providing entertainment, the delicious food that will be available and the congeniality of friends and neighbors, it promises to be a day of fun, as well as information-gathering."

Forest preserve programs receive national recognition

The National Association of County Park and Recreation Officials (NACPRO) named the Lake County Forest Preserves "Senior Day Celebration," and the "Lake County Museum Expansion Project" as recipients of NACPRO Recognition Awards. The awards will be presented at the NACPRO 1995 Awards Banquet held in conjunction with the National Assn. of Counties (NACo) annual conference in Atlanta, Georgia this July.

The NACPRO Recognition Awards honor public agencies for outstanding and unique achievement in the field of parks and recreation. The Forest Preserves received a NACPRO Park and Recreation Departmental Award for its grand salute to seniors. Each summer for the past 23 years, thousands of seniors from Lake County have headed to the Seniors Day Celebration at Lakewood Forest Preserve for a free, fun-filled day of musical entertainment, refreshments, informational exhibits and activities. Event costs have been covered by corporate and business sponsorships, in-kind donations, and exhibitor fees.

The Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum received a NACPRO Areas and Facilities Award for its expansion project. The museum, located in Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda, is a unique and adaptive re-use of a 1920s dairy farm. The expansion added a 4,000-square-foot wing for exhibits, artifact storage and educational programming, and connected three existing museum buildings. Museum attendance has almost doubled since the wing opened in 1992. Further improvements and expansion are currently underway at the museum.

This year's Seniors Day is scheduled for Wednesday, June 21, and sponsors and exhibitors are being sought by the Forest Preserve. Corporations and businesses interested in sponsoring Seniors Day can underwrite the cost of any portion of the event or provide a special service for the day through in-kind contributions.

Major sponsors for the event receive special benefits. All donations are tax-deductible and will receive program recognition. For more information on becoming a Seniors Day sponsor or exhibitor, call Mark Long, marketing and special events coordinator, at 367-3676, ext. 125.

Several heart-hitting facts

• Know the warning signs of a heart attack.

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting more than a few minutes.
2. Pain may spread to the shoulders, neck or arms.
3. Chest discomfort with lightheadedness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur. If you have any of these symptoms, the American Heart Assn. says "Get help immediately!"

• Don't flirt with a heart attack. The American Heart Assn. says to reduce your risk: stop smoking; control high blood pressure; eat a low-saturated fat, low-cholesterol diet; maintain proper weight; and exercise regularly.

• About 500,000 Americans have a stroke in a given year and about 150,000 of them die, according to the American Heart Assn.

• About one in three adult Americans has high blood pressure.

• An estimated 58 percent of adult Americans have blood cholesterol levels above 200 milligrams per deciliter, a level at which the risk of coronary heart disease begins to rise sharply, says the American Heart Assn.

RSVPs recognized during National Volunteer Week

Few organizations are more deserving of a tribute than the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP). As part of the National Senior Service Corps—RSVP, over the past 25 years, has quietly gone about the business of helping strengthen America's communities and challenging our traditional notions of aging. April 26 was National RSVP Day, and Americans proudly paid tribute to the program's more than 450,000 dedicated members and their accomplishments.

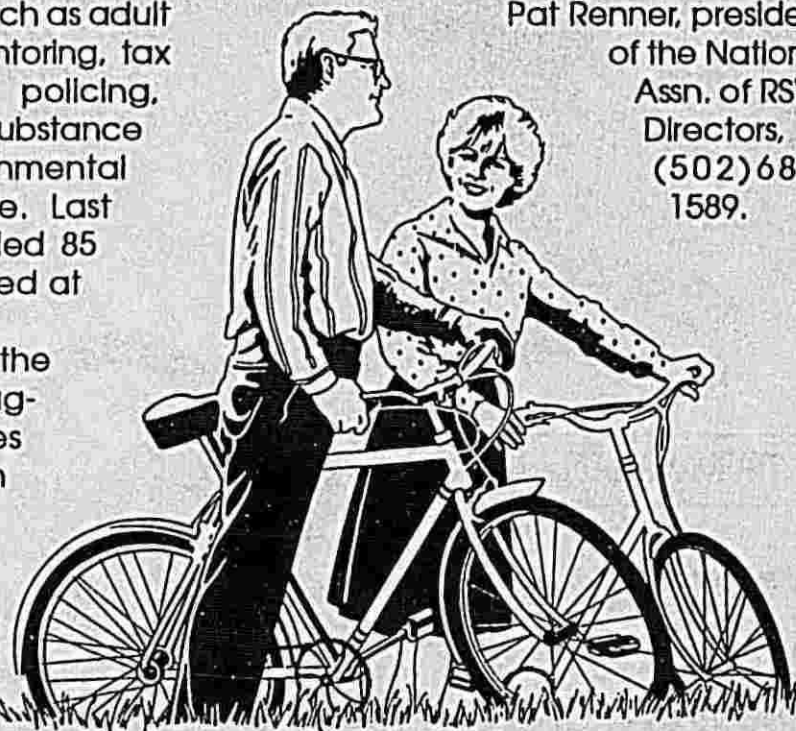

RSVP matches the skills of senior Americans with urgent community needs across the country. Today, RSVP members provide services such as adult basic education, youth mentoring, tax consultancy, community policing, home repair, health care, substance abuse counseling, environmental surveys, and in-home care. Last year, RSVP members provided 85 million hours of service, valued at more than $1 billion.

Senior service meets the needs of communities struggling with limited resources while helping seniors remain active, productive, and healthy. As Eli Segal, CEO of the Corporation for National Service, which oversees the Seniors Corps, puts it "Today's investment in senior service will be realized in future savings, because keeping seniors productive keeps them healthy and independent—delaying, shortening or even preventing time spent depending on others and on society."

National RSVP Day will focus attention on senior service and how it benefits communities and seniors. It is one of the major events up to the White House Conference on Aging, May 2 through 5. May is National Older Americans Month.

For more information about events being planned in the Lake County areas, contact Judith Kusheloff at (202) 606-5000, ext. 268 or Pat Renner, president of the National Assn. of RSVP Directors, at (502) 683-1589.

Alzheimer center has models open

Models are now open at The Wealshire, a free-standing facility exclusively designed for and devoted to Alzheimer's patients, due to open in June on 20 wooded acres in Lincolnshire.

According to developer Arnie Goldberg, the goal of The Wealshire is to provide a home-like living environment for people with Alzheimer's Disease and related dementia.

Architects Behles & Behles of Evanston worked with the Institute on Aging and Environment at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee and with Rush Alzheimer's Disease Center, Chicago, to develop an architectural program which would enhance this feeling of home outlined by Goldberg.

The residential concept begins at the exterior of the 76,000 square foot Wealshire, which is constructed of brick and limestone trim and is scaled to reinforce the memories and associations of home.

Inside, instead of long, anonymous hallways found in most medical institutions, the 144-unit Wealshire is divided into smaller households for 16 to 20 people. Each household contains an elegantly furnished living room, dining room and kitchen.

Staff members act as companions and help patients dress themselves, use the washer and dryer, prepare meals in their own kitchen, and do other habitual tasks. Each home has accessible outdoor space and gardens, where residents can safely walk and be cued on finding the path back to their own home.

A caring and knowledgeable staff and meaningful social programs are the other part of the equation that improves quality of life for patients.

Goldberg, with 20 years experience in nursing homes, conceived the idea for his cutting edge facility after realizing that 50 percent of nursing home patients had Alzheimer's and that their physical surroundings weren't appropriate for treatment.

"Although the jury is still out on how architectural design influences Alzheimer's, one element is irrefutable: A positive environment which helps reduce frustration and confusion enriches the quality of life for people with Alzheimer's and related diseases," he said.

The Wealshire is located at 150 Jamestown Ln., Lincolnshire. For more information call 883-9000.

Active role

from the hospital for a July 4th picnic in addition to its other year-long programs. Post members and veterans from the hospital gather to play games and barbecue for the day.

"When they're in the hospital, they don't get the opportunity to enjoy the outside," said Frank Tierney of the Lake Zurich Post. "Our guys just love showing up and cooking hot dogs for the guys. Every year we put vets back on the bus who leave with tears in their eyes."

He added, "There's comfort in talking with other veterans. There's an instant bond."

Some VFW posts are larger than others, but the smaller ones also try to be as active as the larger ones.

"We've got a small post, but we still do all we can. I think we hold our own," said Cliff Phillips of the Gurnee VFW Post.

The Gurnee VFW finds itself teaming up with other organizations such as the American Legion in sponsoring youth groups, providing scholarships, making donations to the Warren Township High School prom and holding fundraising benefits for needy people, such as cancer patients. It also holds clothing drives for the veterans admitted to the VA.

"Because of our numbers, we try to work hand in hand with other posts and organizations," Phillips noted, "We find it's better to give than to receive."

In Vernon Hills, the VFW Post just received color guard uniforms to present the flags at Stevenson High School football games, parades and other special events. It holds monthly ice cream socials at the VA, and it sponsors a veterans fishing derby each spring.

The post is also working with the Village of Vernon Hills in building a Veteran's Memorial in a new Arboretheater currently being constructed in the village. Nestled in an outdoor garden, the memorial will feature walls dedicated to each branch of the armed forces and a flag memorial.

As it turns out, veterans and VFW posts truly take to heart and live by the motto of "Honoring the dead through service to the living." VFW posts are also actively seeking new members.

So the next time you find yourself purchasing a poppy from a VFW member on a street corner, remember who the proceeds benefit.

Vets

She noted that the simple parties are truly welcomed because the patients only eat at the assigned breakfast, lunch and dinner hours. In addition, some of the veterans are not capable of getting snacks at the snack shop, which makes the visits all the more appreciated.

"Food is a big hit at the VA," Hoffman said, "but they just like the company, too."

Nevertheless, the simple fact that people take the time to remember those who have fought in the name of this country makes life at the hospital all the more bearable. For the VFW posts, it's extra special because they have shared similar experiences on battle fronts and in fox holes.

"If it weren't for these caring people, there wouldn't be any extra enjoyment here," Scott said. "It means a lot to us," he added with a gratifying smile.

WHERE TO EAT OUT

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Longhorn Steak House is better than ever and 'back to basics'

In the past 4 1/2 years, the dynamic team of Paul Gasior and Chef Ron Skow have turned the Longhorn Steak House into THE place to go for great dining in the McHenry & Lake County area.

"We are a very energetic, positive combination," said Gasior. "We feel the economic times and the growth in the area are all very positive; our restaurant and banquet facility reflect this. We're very cost and quality conscious and giving people what they're looking for in these times."

Steakhouses were first developed out in the country, said Gasior, and the Longhorn offers that concept. They are proud to serve hand selected cuts of beef trimmed lean to meet today's needs of health-conscious diners. The fresh seafood menu has been expanded to include yellow fin tuna, swordfish, fresh salmon and grouper. The very large portions and full salad bar reflect the Longhorn's "back to basics" philosophy.

Gasior has recently been elected vice-president of the McHenry County Restaurant Association. The Longhorn has tripled their business under the direction of the Gaskow Dining partnership and has received the Gold Plate Award of the county.

The new banquet hall, the Lakemoor, is one-half mile east of the restaurant and seats 850. Both facilities are scheduled for the addition of outdoor seating. Hungry diners will be happy to know that construction on Rte. 120 has been completed and both establishments are now easy to get to.

Longhorn's Mother's Day celebration will be at "The Lakemoor." Come and experience the newest facility of its kind in the county. Brunch Buffet from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. features carved ham, beef, baked chicken, potatoes, vegetable, french toast, bacon, sausage, fresh fruit, pastries, and much more for only $12.95 for adults and $4.95 for children under 10. The Dinner Buffet features carved prime rib, ham, baked chicken, fresh fruit, potatoes, vegetable, sweets & pastries, and much more for only $15.95 for adults and $5.95 for children under 10. ## Great dining at the Backyard Steak Pit Sit back and relax in the Western Style, candlelit, casual dining atmosphere of the Backyard Steak Pit. Whether it is steaks or seafood, our chefs will prepare your meal to order. And, with the huge number of selections, even the fussiest eater will be delighted.

Begin your meal with one of the "Startin' roundups." Topping the lineup is the onion loaf, which is sliced onions deep-fried into a block. The half loaf serves two to three people, while the full loaf serves four to six. Try our out-of-this-world homemade soups, prepared daily.

According to co-owner Keith and Mike, they are particularly proud of both the steak and seafood entrees, which the restaurant specializes in. They also feature drink specials throughout the week.

All of their steaks are grilled on an authentic charcoal briquette grill. They hand cut top choice of prime beef daily to assure freshness and quality. Steak dinners start at $10.95, and include baked potato, salad bar, Texas or garlic toast.

Seafood lovers will be in paradise. The 10-ounce cold water lobster tail served with drawn butter is fresh from ship-to-shore, to you. The filet of cod fish is a loin cut steamed and also served with drawn butter. The menu includes red salmon filet, mahi mahi, and breaded shrimp.

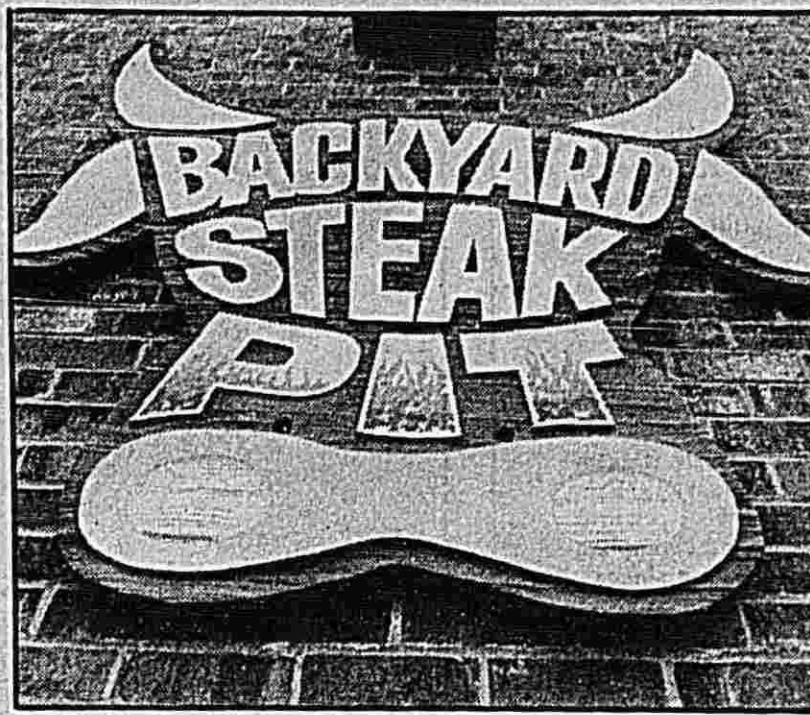

Other treats on the menu include the corral combos. Combinations of lobster and steak, shrimp and steak, ribs and chicken, or ribs and steak. For lighter fare, try one of the grub on a slab sandwiches served with French fries, dill pickle spear, and cole slaw. Priced from $4.95 to $5.95, the sandwiches are a real deal. Children under 12 benefit from the children's menu, featuring a variety of delicious meals to choose from.

Wind up your meal with a homemade dessert. A dessert tray is offered to each table with over 6 selections to choose from.

The Backyard Steak Pit has banquet facilities available for parties up to 70 people, with packages available.

The restaurant is open Monday through Thursday, from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. On Fridays and Saturdays, from 4 to 11 p.m., and on Sundays from 4 to 9 p.m.. The restaurant is conveniently located on 1818 N. Grandwood Drive in Gurnee, just one mile west of Gurnee Mills.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Couples will be making sound financial decisions this week involving the use of joint assets. An intellectual project captures your attention later in the week. This weekend, get-togethers with friends are favored.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Bold, decisive moves are favored in business this week and you're up to the challenge. Couples enjoy a renewed sense of romance and commitment, along with some flights of fancy. Visiting friends is favored.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) It's a good week for meetings with agents about creative projects and other such ventures. Your wanderlust needs to be indulged, so make travel plans now for a future date. Self-discipline is the key to business accomplishment.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Once you get some household duties out of the way early in the week, you'll have fun enjoying leisure pursuits. Some are able to take some time off from work. Those who are parents could very likely be consulting with a teacher.

LEO (July 23 to August

22) The unexpected could interfere with your business routine this week. An appointment is changed or canceled altogether. This weekend, home-based activities with the family bring joy and peace of mind.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) It's a good week to go after what you want in business. However, you must avoid being overly aggressive in your pursuit of success. Avoid financial risk-taking later in the week. You're able to help a partner with a joint project.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) It's a busy but productive week for you on the job. You'll hear some positive news about a financial matter that lifts your spirits now. In romance, you need to bolster your courage and make the first move.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) If you're beset by a backlog of chores, this would be a good week to tackle them and finally get them out of the way. Your self-confidence is high and you'll succeed in what you undertake. The weekend favors quiet times.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You could assume a responsibility in connection with a humanitarian activity. Group activities are also favored. Later in the week, something occurs on the domestic scene which requires your expertise to solve.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Extra motivation this week leads to a career accomplishment. While out shopping midweek, something captures your fancy. However, you'll be tempted to spend too much and should pay close attention to your budget.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) There are things you want to get done at home and you may have to say no to that very tempting social invitation. However, the latter part of the week is good for getting together with friends and having good times.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You'll speak out this week at a group meeting, which takes everyone by surprise. It's a good time to act on your plans and ideas. You'll be conservative and cautious where money is concerned.

Hospital program teaches kids coping skills

Skills Training for Kids, a program that teaches seven- to 12-year-olds how to cope with life stresses, strong feelings and self-confidence issues is now offered at St. Therese Medical Center.

The program is both educational and therapeutic and is offered in a four-part series that meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 4 to 8 p.m., for four weeks.

The topics are: Regulating Emotions (learning to identify and control feelings of anger, sadness, jealousy, etc.); Building Self-Esteem (developing self confidence, an identity and a useful value system); Developing Problem Solving and Coping Skills (learning relaxation techniques, brainstorming and problem solving); and Improving Interpersonal Relationships (developing better communication, empathy, assertiveness training and skills to improve family relations).

The participant may enroll for one or all four week-long sessions. Thirty minutes will be set aside each day for homework.

Dr. Richard Bolnick, child psychologist on staff at St. Therese and Neuropsych, an independent private practice clinic in Libertyville, has developed the program and will supervise master's level clinicians and experienced mental health workers in conducting the program.

One of the unique aspects is the requirement of parent involvement. Every Monday and Wednesday at 7 p.m., a parent, family member, or significant adult must attend a one-hour session to learn about the skills being taught and how to reinforce them.

Dr. Bolnick feels the adult involvement is extremely important and therefore youngsters will not move into the next set of skills if an adult does not participate on his/her behalf.

Dinner is provided to each participant Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

If the child does not have transportation to the medical center, a hospital driver will pick the youngster up from school and bring him to the session.

Financially, the program is covered by most insurance companies as well as by Public Aid.

For more information, call St. Therese at 360-2002 and ask about Skills Training for Kids.

HEALTHWATCH

Lakeland Newspapers

Managed care gives coverage to more

Health care reform as proposed last year promised to greatly increase the number of Americans with access to health insurance. That promise, of course, faded with the failure of the reform effort in the last Congress. Yet, without government involvement, the nation's health care system is undergoing a transformation that may succeed where lawmakers failed.

The marketplace, as usual, is providing a stronger incentive for action than government regulation ever could. Large employers who offer more than one type of health plan, have been encouraging their employees to switch from fee-for-service insurance to managed care plans. There is a simple motive: a desire for greater control over costs. Managed care provides that control. For example, the accounting and consulting firm KPMG Peat Marwick found that between 1988 and 1993 premiums increased 40 percent less for HMOs than for traditional indemnity insurance plans. A study in 1994, by the consulting and research firm Lewin-VHI, found that managed care plans can save as much as 23 percent over fee-for-service plans.

The transition to managed care is accelerating. Benefit consultant A. Foster Higgins & Co. Inc. surveyed more than 2,000 employers nationwide, and found that 63 percent of their workers were enrolled in managed care health plans like HMOs, PPOs and point-of-service plans last year. That is up from 52 percent in 1993. Employees who are being asked to pay a greater share of their health coverage, as well as their bosses, are seeing the advantage of managed care. Most of these types of health plans offer high quality care along with more comprehensive coverage, lower out-of-pocket expenses, and smaller premiums than traditional fee-for-service health insurance. Workers and employers know a good value when they see one.

This rapid migration to managed care, however, needs to be expanded to help the 41 million Americans who are uninsured gain access to coverage. The managed care explosion is making that task easier by slaying the myths associated with these types of health care plans. More people are discovering and spreading the word that managed care is an attractive alternative to fee-for-service insurance. More important, this trend in the large employer market has created a demand among smaller employers for similar health plans. Some insurers are responding with new managed care products tailored for small- to medium-sized companies. That is significant because, according to the U.S. Census Bureau, 84 percent of the uninsured live in households headed by working adults who are likely to be employed by companies with fewer than 100 employees.

Employees who are being asked to pay a greater share of their health coverage, as well as their bosses, are seeing the advantage of managed care.

—Michael F. Seibold

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois is among the first to identify the need, and has designed an affordable health plan called BlueAdvantage specifically for companies with 10 through 99 employees. It contains a managed care plan modeled after Blue Cross' popular HMO Illinois, but its network of physicians is in a smaller geographic area. Employers, therefore, get a quality managed care network that serves the areas where their employees live. They are not forced to pay for the more extensive networks required by large employers with facilities and employees spread over a wider area. It is expected that plans like BlueAdvantage will make the cost of providing health care benefits more affordable for more employers, many of whom may never have thought it possible to offer their workers a benefits package.

Given the pace of managed care's acceptance, and its tremendous cost-saving potential, there are no longer any excuses for employers not to offer a health plan to their workers. Those employers who hold out may soon find themselves at a serious competitive disadvantage in attracting and retaining the best employees.

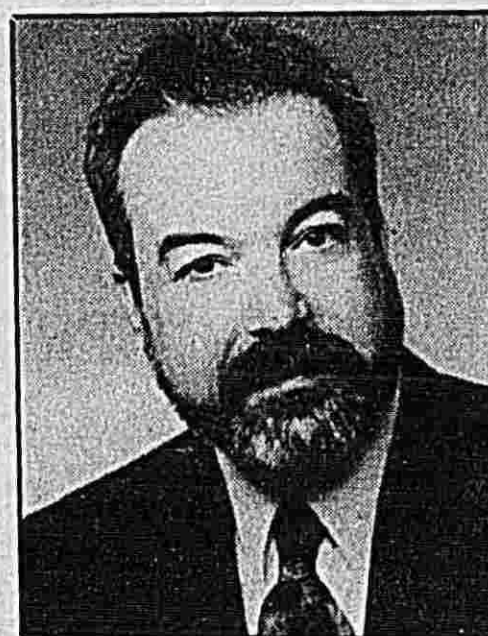

While there is still a need for some government action in the area of insurance reform to eliminate inequities like preexisting condition restrictions, it appears that the private sector may soon make moot much of the government's role in expanding health care coverage. Letting the marketplace do its job has always been the uniquely American way to solve problems.—by MICHAEL F. SEIBOLD, senior vice president, Marketing and Health Care Management, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois.

Bennett named director of 'The Wealshire'

Paul H. Bennett, a recognized authority in the medical, social, and financial needs of the elderly, has been named director of education and community relations for The Wealshire, the new $12 million Alzheimer's care center due to open in June in Lincolnshire.

The announcement was made by Wealshire developer Arnie Goldberg, who said: "We are extremely pleased to have someone with Paul's background in this key role. His experience in long-term care, community associations, and health care make him an outstanding asset to our facility."

From 1992 to the present, Bennett has been long-term care consultant for CNA Insurance Companies, Chicago, where he worked with physicians and nursing homes to insure quality and cost-effective services for patients covered by CNA. Before that he was center director for United Charities Case Management Unit, Chicago. In this role, Bennett supervised a staff of 46 who provided services to the elderly for the Illinois and City of Chicago Departments of Aging.

Paul H. Bennett

In addition to his career experience, Bennett has authored several articles on Case Management and he has been a speaker at numerous conferences on the aging. He is a member of the American Society on Aging, the National Assn. of Professional Geriatric Care Managers and an at-large delegate to the National Institute on Community-based Long-term Care of the National Council on the Aging.

A resident of Skokie, Bennett has served on the school board of Skokie School Dist. 68 since 1991. In this volunteer role, Bennett and other board members handle negotiations and determine policy and procedures.

The Wealshire (pronounced Wellshire), on 20 wooded acres in suburban Lincolnshire, is a free-standing facility exclusively designed for and devoted to Alzheimer's and dementia patients. Instead of long, anonymous hallways found in most medical institutions, the 144-unit Wealshire will be divided into smaller households for 16 to 20 people. Each household will contain an elegantly-furnished living room, dining room, and kitchen. Staff members will act as companions and help patients dress themselves, use the washer and dryer, prepare meals in their own kitchen, and do other habitual tasks.

Each home will have accessible outdoor space and gardens, where residents can safely walk and be cued on finding the path back to their home.

For information about The Wealshire, call 883-9000.

Learning more about your baby's first year

That little bundle of joy that looked so tiny and helpless just two months ago is now beginning to open his eyes widely at the sight of your face. The lines of a smile are forming on his cheeks as he starts to coo back at the sound of your voice. Your baby is on his way to exploring a whole new world of sights and sounds. And, both of you can't wait until he's able to get down in the trenches and play!

Even though your baby is small, he's awake and more alert for longer periods of time. Lake Forest Hospital offers "Baby's First Year Awake and Active: Baby's Learning Begins" on Wednesday, May 17 at 7 p.m. in the hospital's Conference Center. Parents and their babies are invited to come and explore a variety of play activities to share together.

The program features topics that all new parents are concerned about, including when to introduce solids, child safety, changing sleep habits and what's common and uncommon about feeding schedules.

Led by Martha Lepman and Amy Smith, child education professionals at Dearhaven, Lake Forest Hospital's child-care facility, you will learn what kinds of activities will stimulate your child's growth and how to potentially develop his/her curiosity and motor skills. Parents will also discover that making and selecting the right toys builds creative play that you can enjoy along with your child.

"Whether you're a first time parent or second, you know that there are many books on the market pertaining to early child development that can be quite confusing," states Lepman. "In addition, your friends may have different views on how they are bringing up their baby, which may not be the right way for you. We're here to assist parents by answering any questions they may have and to help them separate fact from fiction in raising their child," adds Lepman.

Subsequent class for 4 to 8 months old and 8 to 12 months old will follow every other month. To register for this program or future "Baby's First Year" offerings, call 234-6112.

Wishes fulfilled

Make-A-Wish child Wendell of Chicago got a visit from the Easter Bunny at a brunch for children from the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Northern Illinois at Gurnee Mills Mall. For the event, Lambs Farm also donated 10 percent of its sales on Easter baskets from its Gurnee Mills store. Also present were Lambs Farm Executive Director Gerald Friedman, Gurnee Mills Vice President and General Manager Harry Stecher and Make-A-Wish executive Director Linda Giovacchini.

Forest offers stress class

"Stress Management for Counselors and Their Clients," a professional educational workshop, will be presented by Forest Health Systems from 1 to 5 p.m., Thursday, May 11, at the Novick Auditorium of Forest Hospital, 555 Wilson Ln., Des Plaines. Registration begins at 12:30 p.m.

Program presenter Allan Markle, Ph.D., will address work-related stress burnout, techniques for coping with stress, anxiety disorders and relaxation techniques.

Markle is an associate professor of psychology and psychiatry at Finch Univ. of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School, and also coordinates the Behavior Dysfunction Clinic at the Veterans Affairs Medical Center in North Chicago.

Cost of the workshop, which is approved for four hours of continuing education for social workers, is $15. Reservations are required. To register, or for further information, call 635-4100, ext. 363.

Hospital presents survival lecture

"Adolescent Survival Strategies: Mothers and Daughters," will be the topic of a free lecture presented on the evening of Tuesday, May 23, by Highland Park Hospital as part of its Lifespan Challenges for Women series.

Board-certified psychiatrist Stephen G. Galston, M.D., will discuss eating disorders, psychiatric and behavioral concerns; board-certified family physician and adolescent specialist Judith S. Bensinger, M.D., will relate common medical issues; and board-certified obstetrician and gynecologist Michael D. Benson, M.D., will discuss teenage sexuality.

The lecture will take place at 7 p.m. in the hospital's education center. Check-in begins at 6:30 p.m. Seating is limited and advance registration is recommended. Call 480-2722.

Hospice care business grows

Hospice care for terminally ill patients is a growing business. That's because it not only provides care, support and comfort to patients and their families in the final stages of illness, but it also saves money for individuals and taxpayers.

Hospice care has grown from about 1,200 programs four years ago to nearly 2,000 programs across the country today, according to Rosemary Crowley, executive director of the Illinois State Hospice Organization. Crowley said this is because more and more third party providers are including hospice care as an optional health care plan benefit—and more employers are selecting this benefit as part of their coverage.

Hospice care appeals to many people because it is such a compassionate and humane option for terminally ill patients.

"Our goal is to help patients and their families enjoy a better quality of life for their last few months on earth," said William Johnson, M.D., team physician for EHS Hospice's Meridian team, one of Advocate Health Care's three Chicago-area hospice teams. Instead of spending their final days in a hospital undergoing a constant barrage of tests and procedures, terminally ill patients can enjoy the comfort of their homes, visits from family members and pets at any hour, and still be assured their pain and symptoms will be managed.

In addition to an improved quality of life, hospice patients and their families realize a cost savings in forgoing aggressive treatment that may prove futile.

"When patients and families have the support of a hospice program, they might choose not to pursue that kind of treatment," said Nora Knapik, vice president of service operations for EHS Home Health Care.

Yet the biggest cost savings in hospice care comes from keeping people at home rather than in the hospital. According to the U.S. Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), while terminally ill patients without hospice care are hospitalized an average of 21 of the last 60 days of life, those enrolled in hospice programs spend only about three days in the hospital during this period. In a 1992 study, the Illinois State Hospice Assn. reported that the average Medicaid costs for terminally ill patients in the last 60 days of life were $5,625 for those enrolled in a hospice program, compared to more than $13,000 for those using conventional, non-hospice medical care.

Hospice care was one of the first federally funded managed care programs in the United States, beginning as a Medicare pilot project in 1983 that became permanent in 1985. While Medicare pays certified hospice programs on a per diem basis (with rates adjusted according to the geographic wage index), the hospice pays all bills related to symptom management of the terminal illness.

So in addition to providing all services and managing the care, the hospice bills Medicare directly with no out-of-pocket expenses for the patient.

"One of the wonderful benefits for patients and families is that there is no deductible and no co-payment," said Knapik.

AB/C Council sponsors conference

The Lake County Board of Health's AB/C Council will present an advocacy conference entitled "Concerns, Communication, Collaboration, an Advocacy Conference for People with Disabilities and Their Families and Advocates" at the College of Lake County in Grayslake on Saturday, May 6 from 8:15 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The keynote speaker for the conference will be Karen L. Meyer, an independent consultant and weekly broadcast reporter on disability issues for WLS-TV, ABC Eyewitness News.

Participants can choose up to five of over 20 presentations throughout the day which will provide information, hands-on experiences and skill development on issues related to advocacy and disabilities. There will be accommodations provided for people with disabilities and there will be sessions throughout the day presented in Spanish.

For further information, contact the AB/C Council at 360-6704.

Preparing for surgery with Condell education program

A new education program for perspective patients scheduled for surgery or gastro-intestinal procedures is being offered at Condell Medical Center. The program includes important information that will help patients understand hospital routine and prepare for the recovery period after they are discharged from the medical center.

"No Surprises—Prepare for Surgery" is a presentation that will help patients understand hospital routine and prepare for the recovery period after they are discharged from the medical center. Both children and adults are invited to meet with members of the medical center's surgical services staff every other Monday beginning May 1 at 7 p.m. on the Condell Medical Center campus in the Dorothy Keene Allen Conference Center, 900 Garfield Ave. in Libertyville. For further information, or to register for classes, call 362-2905, ext. 5100, Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. There is no fee for the classes, and companions and members of the family are invited to attend with patients.

Breast cancer support group formed

Being diagnosed with breast cancer is an emotional turning point in a woman's life. The Oncology Dept. at Lake Forest Hospital offers a free Breast Cancer Support Group that provides information, education and emotional support to women diagnosed with breast cancer. Led by an oncology nurse and medical social worker, the group will meet on the first and third Wednesdays of each month from 7 to 8 p.m. in the Conference Center of the hospital. The next meetings are scheduled for Wednesday, May 3, "How to Get Every Dime Your Insurance Company Owes You," and the regular support group on May 17.

For further information about the Breast Cancer Support Group call 234-5600, ext. 6445.

Made her Easter

To a beautiful, thoughtful young woman: This past Easter was the most beautiful Easter this 82-year-old grandmother ever had. I was sitting in our car outside of the Jewel store when this wonderful young woman I didn't know came up to me and handed me a bouquet of flowers and said that I reminded her of her grandmother. Everyone should know that there are good people in this world, too. I hope this sweet, young woman had a very happy Easter and all my best wishes for the future.

Save us

God save us from tyrants such as County Board Chairman Depke and his lackeys like Ed Fotjlik, who now seek to impose another burden on us all in the form of a new gasoline tax to assist the developers in the continuing rape of this county.

Here for good

Hey, Spring Grove, this is Round Lake. What part of no don't you understand? We told you before you can't have Mary Davis. She's the Round Lake superintendent now and always will be, as far as we're concerned. How come you need a superintendent in Dist. 11 and 157? You couldn't hold a superintendent if you tried!

Deal with it

I'm calling in response to 'Other Solutions'. Why is it that other solutions include getting rid of kids who live in Waukegan? It wasn't their decision to be put there, it was Gurnee's, and they were all too happy to take the money. Now that Gurnee's schools are too crowded due to over development, the caller wants to get rid of the Waukegan students. What about the Park City students, Wildwood, Wadsworth, etc. If you get rid of all the students who don't live in Gurnee, you wouldn't have enough taxes to pay for the existing school. By the way, I currently live in Gurnee and feel that the boundaries were made and now Gurnee should deal with it and find a solution that's good for everyone.

Extra duty

I'm visiting from Florida and I wanted to compliment the garbage man. We had the trash can too close to the highway and traffic knocked it over and put it into the ditch. God love him, he stopped in the bad weather and picked most of the stuff out of the ditch. I don't think he had to do that, but he was very kind to do it and should be commended for it.

That's life

This is to the person calling in about the bus driver. If you think about it, the bus driver has a route to do and a lot of kids to take home. He can't stop at every home to make sure parents are home, that's the parents' responsibility. He should be provided an alternate home to go to, or be home at the time you should be. That's life!

Controlled anger

The defeat of the Dist. 46 referendum has prompted some emotional responses in the Letters to the Editor. It stirred my emotions of anger, but I'll try to say what I want without being too negative, cynical, sarcastic, or condescending in my comments. If I was part of the great affluency of Grayslake, I would have gladly voted yes. As it is, my children are so important to me that my husband and I have chosen to subsist on one income so that I can be a full-time mother to them. This includes a lot of volunteering at school and for extra-curricular activities. We have chosen this, and I'm not trying to draw a saintly picture of total self-sacrifice or put down working mothers, but the bottom line is I feel very indignant when characterized as an uneducated, unconcerned parent taking lavish vacations, eating out twice a week and driving a brand new car.

Be realistic

To the mom in 'Unsafe practice', there are so many latchkey kids today that for a school bus driver to stop and make sure someone is home is just not realistic. If you're caught in traffic, you need to pull over and call to have a neighbor/friend meet your child, or come up with another alternative. It's not the school's responsibility to make sure there's childcare when your child gets home. This is your responsibility. You need to get realistic and grow up. Don't expect everyone else, at taxpayer's expense, to babysit your kids and make sure parents are home.

Plan ahead

I'm calling in response to 'Unsafe practice'. This is the ninth month of the school year. In the beginning of the year, the kids are sent home with a notice saying to put down an alternate person and to talk to your neighbors in case something like this incident happens. The school bus can't be driving people See LIPSERVICE page B31

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

GET it off YOUR CHEST (708) 223-8073

Lakeland
Newspapers

around. It's too bad that it happened and her 7-year-old was left alone for 10 minutes, but she should've had an alternate. Doesn't she read the mail her kid brings home, and would have brought home nine months ago? Let's get real, people, and let's all God Bless Oklahoma City.

Whining parents

For the past two weeks, some irresponsible, self-centered parents have called in whining and trying to avoid the responsibility of parenting. One parent couldn't make it back from Schaumburg to pick up her kindergarten daughter and wanted the bus driver to check the house before dropping the girl off. The other parent got caught in a traffic jam and found her 7-year-old daughter outside waiting. She, too, wanted this service. This person even went on to say that this was an unsafe practice on the school's part. I think the unsafe practice was that she didn't plan ahead for this. I can't believe what I'm reading. When are parents going to take responsibility for their own families? My tax dollars in Grayslake go to educate, not to operate a temporary childcare service for irresponsible parents. How can we expect children to be responsible and independent, when some parents in Grayslake can't do it? Where are their priorities? I'm outraged that these whining parents expect the schools to do their job. You decided to be a parent, and it's about time you be one.

Favoritism?

All right, Lipsevice, I have a beef. How come the police blotter never seems to mention the children of politicians who get busted for drunk driving? Call the Round Lake Beach Police Department, and you'll find that Ralph Davis' stepson was busted on election night for driving under the influence. Yet it doesn't appear in the police blotter. Is this favoritism for politicians?

Find alternative

I'm calling regarding 'Unsafe practice'. I can't believe this person would expect a school with 200-800 first-graders to be responsible for her coming home late. She needs to have a friend or neighbor as an alternate plan in case this happens again. It's absurd that she expects the school to take this responsibility. We all need to focus on our responsibilities as parents and stop putting all of it on the schools.

Pro guns response

statement of re-reading the Constitution. In the encyclopedia, it states, "Amendment 2: A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms may not be infringed upon." This doesn't mean army. Definition number three of militia is: a body of citizen soldiers as distinguished from professional soldiers. You were partially right that "every human being on earth" has that right. Only the human beings in the United States have this right. As far as the concealment of firearms are concerned, there are additional laws concerning that subject. I'll skip the narrow-minded macho part, because that's not true. Teenagers and young children cannot buy handguns like penny candy legally. The laws that are on the books now are good laws and must be enforced. Remember Democracy? Yes, do write your local Congressman and everyone else. Yes, use your political voice, it makes a difference. No, I'm not a member of the NRA. This particular opinion's motivation was an encyclopedia, dictionary, and the caller who authored 'Gun nuts'.

Take care of kids

I live in Fox Lake near where the punk used to live who burned down Jack Klesgen's house. They still have 14-15 kids climbing in and out of their house through the basement windows, one of them with fluorescent green hair. I'd like to see something done about this. Until then, if I see one of them in my yard, I'll deal with it my own way.

Get used to it

I just read Lipsevice and 'Unsafe practice' and would like to comment on this. First of all, the bus driver is not responsible for making sure your car is in the driveway. If this happened, kids would get home at 6 o'clock at night. Plus, they can't check everybody. The school is responsible for your kids from school to your home, and that's it. The rest is your responsibility, so get used to it. If your child is 7 years old and you don't have an alternate plan, get one.

Look at the facts

Dear 'Values threatened,' before you accuse the voters of not caring about the children of Dist. 46, let's look at the facts. Half of your letter talks about home values. Personally, I am not overly concerned about home values. Since you have such humane concerns, have you thought about the impact that a tax increase would have on Grayslake's retired population, who live on fixed incomes? I doubt it. (No, I'm not one of those retired people.) Have you also checked surrounding school districts to find out what money really needs to be spent for an education? I did. Most surrounding districts have no business administrator. The superintendent fills that position. Our business administrator's $70,000 a year salary could hire two more teachers. If we're so short on space, why does the District rent classes to SEDOL? What about waste? One employee told me waste is a big problem. The new superintendent agreed to move in district and did not, but had her contract renewed anyway. Most teachers are doing a great job, but are underpaid not because of low taxes, but mismanagement. If you think more money guarantees improvement, think again. Chicago has poured millions of dollars into schools, and they're still poor. The tax cap the board complains about simply limits them to reasonable increases in line with our economy. When the district is honest with us and makes wise use of what they have, then let's talk about tax increases. By the way, I do have children going to school in this district.

Check brake plate

I live in the Wauconda area and was reading the paper and would like to comment to 'Help with squeak'. I, too, had the same problem. They replaced my brakes and rotors and said the squeak would continue on. After awhile, it was driving me crazy and it was time for an oil change so I went to a mechanic in Crystal Lake, who said the brakes needed to be replaced. I told them I just had the brakes changed. He told me it was actually the plate that needed changed, not the brakes or rotors.

Not the whole truth

I'm from Lake Zurich and was looking at your April 21st paper and an article titled 'Hospital produces baby care video', a new video created by Highland Park Hospital. I got one just like it from Hoffman Estates Medical Center because it's a mass-produced video by a company called Triple R Enterprises. They give them away at Hoffman Estates. The article said the video is believed to be the only video of its kind produced by a Chicago-area hospital for its patients. Obviously, that's wrong. Anyone would know this is a mass-produced video that hospital's stick their name on with a label on the front and back.

Baseball warning

To all Avon Township Youth Mustang baseball players: Did you know that there is a stacked team that you'll be playing against? Their name is the Mariners, hand-picked by your second vice-commissioner of baseball. I'd call the commissioner and complain about this. I thought baseball was for kids.

Finally

Well, congratulations to the powers that be in Mundelein. They finally got around to painting their fire hydrants. I've been a resident over 15 years and they needed paint in the worst way. Hurray, Mundelein has woken up. Amazing, but true. Maybe the election woke up the people in village hall.

Keep the park

I'm calling from Round Lake Beach in regards to my sons playing basketball in Countrywalk, a park district park. I understand there's people in that area that don't like it because other children from Round Lake come there and play basketball. I don't feel this is right. Now they're trying to close this park. I feel that our tax dollars pay for this park. I feel that before the Round Lake Beach officials let the contractors build more developments, we need to have four or five more parks like this so our children can have places to go and things to do, before they start getting in trouble.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Bill limits local losses

SPRINGFIELD—State Sen. Tom Dunn (D-43) has passed legislation that protects local governments from business who receive property tax abatements and then leave the area. According to Dunn, there is more and more competition between states and cities for new businesses, but there are no incentives for the businesses to stay. Dunn said that Senate Bill 703 requires businesses that accept tax abatements or incentives, from a city or county, to pay the incentives back if the agreement is broken.

Consultant will bring your garden to you

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Your lawn is plain and boring, making you want to do something about it. The problem is, you and your spouse work all day long and the last thing you want to do is make a special trip to the nursery just to buy something that creates even more work for yourself.

Enter Gardens To You, a Gages Lake specialty firm that saves you a trip to the garden center by bringing the consulting and the raw material to your door. Owned and operated by Marianne Porreca, the business is now entering its third year of delivering beautiful landscapes without the customer ever leaving the leisurely confines of the home.

"My prices are comparable to a greenhouse. I can't match prices of a discount store but then my level of service is much better," Porreca said.

Her level of service comes from experience in the business. Over the past 18 years, Porreca has been involved with, managed in, or owned a gardening business. To supplement her real world knowledge, she has also taken college horticulture classes to get new ideas on technique. Her initial one to two-hour consultations also take place at the convenience of the customer.

"Most of my consultations are late afternoon or at night. I work seven days per week," Porreca said.

A typical consultation actually begins with an interview. From the interview, she is able to provide written directions as to where and what to plant to achieve the feeling the owner is looking for in the yard. If the owner wants to carry out the rest of the work alone, the job stops at consulting. She works up her concept of the landscaping and mails it back to the client.

"Most people do it on their own. They just need that little push," she said.

But if the homeowner wants the expert to take it all the way, Porreca gets down and dirty, planting things herself. Homeowners don't have to feel limited by not going to the nursery. Short of large items, like trees bigger than seedlings, her business lives up to its name. Porreca can arrange to have the garden center deliver the larger items. "Anything they can get at a garden center, I can bring to their house," she said.

Gardens To You, which also provides ongoing garden maintenance and lawn mowing services, can be reached at 223-7271.

Midwest economy makes 'soft landing' unlikely

The strength of the Midwest economy makes it a long shot for the U.S. economy to achieve a "soft landing" after 1994's strong growth, according to senior economist Diane Swonk of The First National Bank of Chicago.

Without a soft landing, both inflation and interest rates will rise, Swonk said in her monthly First Forecasts newsletter.

A soft landing occurs when the economy slows without slipping into a recession and without heating up inflation. The Federal Reserve board, which determines the nation's short-term interest rates, uses an annual growth rate of about 2.5 percent at its goal for a soft landing. In the fourth quarter of 1994, the Midwest economy grew 8.0 percent and the national gross domestic product grew 5.1 percent.

"The economy in the Midwest and the nation has slowed in the first quarter, but that won't last," Swonk said. "Underlying fundamentals are much stronger than first- and second-quarter economic reports will indicate."

"In fact, both inflation and growth will heat up as the year goes on," she said. "It's only a matter of time before the Fed feels compelled to raise short-term rates again."

The First Chicago-Great Lakes

Index (GLI) will grow a projected 3.6 percent in the first quarter—0.8 percent ahead of the nation—Swonk said. The First Chicago-designed GLI measures the total output of goods and services within the five-state region of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

"January and February home buying and building declined and a strike at General Motors tempered gains in vehicle production," Swonk said. Production won't pick up in the second quarter, and GLI growth will slow to 2.4 percent and GDP to 2.0 percent.

Even so, there will be pockets of strength such as the equipment sector, exports and commercial construction. And the auto industry will shift back into gear by the third quarter and manufacturing profits will help push the GLI to a full-year gain of 4.1 percent and the GDP 3.3 percent ahead, Swonk said. In other words, they'll both overshoot the Federal Reserve's soft landing threshold.

"Soft landings require a fine-tuning of the economy and a great deal of luck," Swonk said. "The forecast for a modest uptick in inflation and a rise in the Fed funds rate is a conservative one."

Cherry Electric gets ISO 9000 certification

Cherry Electrical Products is now recognized as "ISO 9001 Certified" by the International Standards Organization.

In announcing receipt of this highly respected and coveted status, Grant T. Hollett, Jr., president, Cherry Electrical Products, said, "Achieving certification meant we had to endure a strict inspection of everything—from how we document our procedures to how we design, market, engineer, fabricate, inspect and package our products."

"Certification gives us another great selling advantage. Even though a prospective customer may not know us, when they hear we are certified, it will make a big difference," Hollett said.

More than 50 countries, including the U.S. and the entire European community, have endorsed what are known as the ISO 9000 Standards. These worldwide standards provide a uniform way of determining whether manufacturing plants and service organizations implement and document sound quality procedures.

Hollett explained that ISO

9000 is actually a general descriptive name used for a collection or group of quality procedures that apply to all kinds of companies. The specific section of guidelines within ISO 9000 that apply to Cherry Electrical Products is ISO 9001. The ISO 9000 system includes five individual, but related, standards. ISO 9001 is the most comprehensive standard, and of all the ISO 9000 standards, ISO 9001 is the most detailed, difficult and demanding to pass.

There are more than 20,000 European companies that have already met those standards and are certified. At the present time, there are less than 3,000 companies with certified locations in the U.S., according to the Center for Energy and Environmental Management (CEEM), in Fairfax, Va., considered the specialist in keeping information on ISO 9000.

The Cherry Corp. manufactures proprietary and custom electric switches, electronic key-boards and displays, and semiconductors for original equipment manufacturers in the U.S. and around the world.

Students aren't exempt

Students looking forward to summer jobs will usually not be able to claim the "exempt" status on their income tax withholding forms, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Like many low-income people and part-time workers, most students could exempt themselves from income tax withholding in the past. But tax law changes that took effect in 1987 mean that most high school and college-age workers now need to have tax withheld from their paychecks.

If a person can be taken as a dependent on someone else's return, and that person has combined wage and non-wage income of more than $650, then he or she will be unable to claim exemption from withholding. Non-wage income includes such things as interest and dividends. That means if you make more than $650 for the year, and just one dollar of it is interest, you won't be able to claim the "exempt" status on your W-4, the IRS emphasizes. A person who has wage income only can usually claim exemption from withholding on the W-4 if his or her wages in 1995 total $3,900 or less.

Most students can avoid an unexpected year-end tax bill by claiming single status with one allowance on Form W-4. Publications 505 and 919 have more information on income tax withholding. To get a free copy of these or any of more than 100 other booklets, call the IRS toll-free at 1-800-829-3676.

Churchill named to bank board

Four months into 1995, State Bank of the Lakes has moved firmly into its second 100th year of community banking with full-service locations in Antioch, Lindenhurst and Grayslake.

At the recent shareholders' meeting, bank President and Chairman of the Board Randy Miles, announced a 1994 profit after taxes of $1,934,724, a figure down from the previous year, citing the strain on profits to 1994 centennial activities, construction and rising interest rates during the second half of the year.

"We have been able to maintain a primary capital ratio of 9 percent not considering any unrealized losses from market value adjustments," said Miles. "I expect 1995 to be somewhat better in the profit area but there still remains some market uncertainty with interest rates and bond prices."

"Certainly as our customer base builds in our new market area around Grayslake, we expect profit and returns to increase to our usual levels or higher."

We're extremely pleased to announce the appointment of William A. Churchill to our distinguished board of directors.

He graduated from Grayslake High School, earned his bachelor of arts from Drake Univ., 1974, and Juris Doctorate from Univ. of Miami, Fla. in 1977.

He is a member of the Grayslake Police Commission and board member of Ayon Centre Cemetery. His numerous past civic positions also include many years of coaching AYSO soccer and other children's sports teams.

William A. Churchill

The present law firm was established by R.W. Churchill in 1903, followed by Bill's father, George O. Churchill, eventually including the now State Rep. Robert W. Churchill and William A. Churchill.

Miles said "Bill Churchill is just a great addition to our board and really compliments what we are trying to accomplish as a true community bank. He has been in Grayslake all his life and has seen the banks in Grayslake go through many changes. With his help, we intend to provide the same stability and leadership in Grayslake that this 100 year old community bank has provided for so long in the Antioch area. We are very pleased that Bill is on our team."

Confused about pricing your sale?

It's always the same old thing—the seller wants the highest price possible for their home, while the buyer wants the lowest price and the best buy on the market. This scenario really gets even more complicated when the seller has invested a significant amount of money to "customize" the home and wants to recover the investment. Careful pricing strategies can maximize your market position or make our home "stale goods" in the marketplace.

Motivation is the critical question when pricing. As a seller, can you afford to "miss" the market cycle by overpricing? Are you predicating another purchase based solely on what proceeds you think you will have from the sale of your present home? Dave Knox, leading real estate trainer, cautions sellers to interview the agent first and then determine pricing. A good market analysis will indicate if the market is rising, falling or staying pretty even. Study the expired listings, as they will tell a story about properties that did not sell due to pricing.

Condition of a property and the location can be overcome with an appealing price. High prices, according to Knox, are usually the result of a seller who does not understand the principals of cost and market value. The cost factor is the actual amount a seller has paid for a property plus the capital improvements made to the property. Value is what "one" person might pay for a property as opposed to the "market" value. Market value is the pricing that would appeal to masses of buyers that would result in a sale.

There is no relationship between cost and market value, and a hard lesson for a homeowner. When people buy a home for a certain price, they assume they should get more when they go to sell it. This really depends on the status of the marketplace at the time of sale, and not what a seller assumes.

In an appreciating market, this works out great, but in a regressive market, the opposite occurs. Getting back the improvements that you've made to your home can be tricky. If you knew when you made the improvements that you were going to move, would you have invested the money? The answer is generally "no." If the homeowner knew that the investments were not recoverable upon the sale, chances are many of the improvements would have been skipped.

Sometimes a seller will feel confident because they have an appraisal that is higher than the price they are asking. Questions to ask are: How recently was the appraisal done? Does it reflect the recent market shifts? Was the appraisal done for a market refinance? The appraisal that really counts is the one for the buyer's loan amount. If it doesn't "appraise" out, the lender will want to reduce the loan amount and lend less, and the buyer will most likely question the value of their purchase. Price the property right for the market place and get it sold!

Apparel slump may be ending with cold

It has been a tough year for the apparel industry, but there are signs in the Midwest that the slump may be ending as warm weather approaches. Approximately 60 percent of Chicago- and Milwaukee-area residents plan to spend as much or more on apparel for the summer season than they did last year, according to a new study commissioned by Gurnee Mills Mall. The study revealed that more than half (55 percent) of Chicago- and Milwaukee-area residents planned to purchase less spring apparel this year than they did last spring.

"Consumers in the region are more enthusiastic about the new summer fashions, which may be contributing to shopping optimism," said Harry D. Stecher, vice president and general manager of Gurnee Mills. "Our research shows that twice as many consumers approve of the apparel in stores this year compared to last year's fashions."

The number of tax refunds consumers are expecting is another factor that may help to overcome the buying slump. The Gurnee Mills study revealed that 55 percent of Chicago residents and 62 percent of Milwaukee residents are expecting a tax refund this year. Nearly everyone (90 percent) anticipating a tax refund plans to spend all or some of that money. Fueling the fashion surge is the fact that 44 percent of them plan to purchase more warm weather clothing this year.

The survey also shows that 51 percent of Chicagoans and 53 percent of Milwaukee residents are finding it harder to get by and pay their bills this year than last year.

The Publisher
Lakeland Newspapers

I ran my ad in the Fox Lake Press and the other 13 Lakeland Newspapers and the apartment rented within the two week run. I always get good response from your paper.

D.S., Barrington.

"My washer and dryer SOLD the same day the paper came out. The caller saw it in the Round Lake News. Thanks Lakeland for the quick response!"

R.F., Libertyville.

"The response was overwhelming! We had to cancel our ad after the first week on our Fox Lake house. We only wished we had 30 houses to rent for all those who called."

Thank you Lakeland Newspapers!"

C.L., Lake Zurich.

"I was delighted that I got quite a lot of calls after placing my ad in the Lakeland Newspapers. I got the house rented right away."

K.C., Niles.

"I always have good luck with your papers. I've run ads with the Fox Lake Press for eight or nine years and have always rented the apartment right away."

B.S., Mt. Prospect.

"We often place our Real Estate advertising with Lakeland Newspapers because we know by placing them in the Classifieds we are covering all the areas we need. When our busy office needed additional personnel, naturally, we placed our ad with Lakeland Newspapers. The response to our ad was remarkable. It provided us with a variety of people to interview as well as those to keep on file for the future."

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Please help me out with a problem I am faced with. I am a high school graduating senior and in the process of writing a resume and filling out employment applications. I have been asked for references but since I have no work history in my past I am at a loss for what to use as references. Some of these applications are asking for as many as four references. What do you suggest? Thanks for your time. T.G. - Deerfield

A: Dear T.G., It may appear to be a rather difficult task to come up with references if there is no prior work history; however, at this point concentrate on character references. You most likely will find that you have a few choice individuals who will attest to your character being sound. Here is a list of a few:

1. High school Guidance Counselor
2. Teachers
3. Clergymen
4. Friends or family who have known you for many years

You may remember that you mowed lawns for a specific family who would be willing to give a reference on how responsible or meticulous you are about your work. There may have been a family that you did babysitting for quite some time ago who may be willing to tell an employer how reliable and dependable you were. Whomever it is that you intend to use as a reference, the most important thing to remember is to contact any person that you plan to use. You don't want to have these people caught off guard by having them receive a call asking about someone they may not remember at that instance. How do you go about contacting them to ask for this? You may want to contact your high school Guidance Counselor by telephone and ask if he/she would help you by writing a letter of recommendation for you to use with potential employers. Offer to come by and pick it up to expedite the situation. Contact teachers in the same respect. If unable to reach them during the summer months due to school being out of session, contact your administrative office. Most often, they know where to get in touch over the summer months and perhaps they would leave your telephone number for the teachers to call you back. Contacting clergy speaks for itself, and friends of the family .. well, if you contact them by telephone or go to visit, all you have to do is ask! While I am in the market for employment, would you at all mind if I were to use you as a character reference? That way ... no surprises! Good luck to you!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

BLACKBERRY

If yours is a family that is searching for a floor plan that will give you more for your building dollar, the 1260 square foot Blackberry might just fill the bill. Economical to build and maintain, this three bedroom home combines excellent use of the available space with an easy flow of movement throughout the entire floor design.

An attractive covered walkway takes you into the recessed entry. Here the sleeping areas are all concentrated on the right side of the home. Two identical bedrooms face the front. They are close enough to the master suite for concerned parents to easily check on younger children. For a young family, perhaps one of these bedrooms can be made into a nursery and the other into a sewing room, musical study, or a small home office. The choice is yours.

A full bathroom separates the two front bedrooms from the handsome master suite. Amenities here include a good sized walk-in closet, private bathroom with shower, and the convenience of an independent vanity. There are extra storage areas in the hallway.

The remainder of this floor design conveys an openness not usually found in a house this size. The spacious living room gives you plenty of space to arrange your furniture and entertain friends and family. The big walk-in kitchen has lots of room for the cook in the house to maneuver while preparing meals. An eating bar is handy for those informal times, and adjoining the living room is a more formal dining area. If the weather gets warm enough, fire up the barbecue on the back deck, which is accessible through sliding glass doors.

An added advantage, is the door from the garage to the kitchen. You can drive right in and unload directly into the kitchen area. A small utility space is positioned at the rear of the garage.

For a study kit of the BLACKBERRY (404-13), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

CLC Lancers in league dogfight for loop crown

Conference doubleheaders may give them, but they may also take them away.

College of Lake County's baseball team experienced both ends of twinbills as the Lancers beat Elgin twice but 48 hours later lost to Waubensee twice. The team went from the lead in the Skyway Conference to a four-team race in the regular season's final weeks.

The Lancers downed Elgin 5-1 and 7-1 but lost to Waubensee 5-0 and 2-1.

Tom Anselm won his third win in four decisions for CLC in game one against Elgin, scattering 6 hits, striking out 1 and walking 2.

Kurt Salata paced the offense with 2 hits and an RBI while Steve Taylor and Eric Blaha both had singles.

Dan Dunlavy, a Grant High grad, won the second game as he fanned 4 and walked 2 in a 5-hitter. Jeff Randall had 2 hits as did Blaha and Salata had one hit, a 2-run double.

Waubensee's Jeremy Burdeau and Lance Surridge stopped CLC in the doubleheader. It was Waubensee's first sweep of CLC since Hanson returned to the helm.

"They are our No. 2 and No. 3 pitchers. I feel very fortunate to beat CLC. Gene is a great coach and I consider it an honor. The conference is now a four-team race," Waubensee Coach Dave Randall said.

Both teams were 5-3 in league play before key conference doubleheaders last weekend. "Now we have to go in thinking we have to sweep Oakton," Hanson said.

The first game was tight until the Chiefs scored 4 runs in the seventh inning as Scott Cartier was tagged with the loss. The Chiefs had a double, bunt single, walk and back-to-back 2-run doubles and a sacrifice for the outburst.

The Lancers were one-hit in that game - the only safety a single by third-hitter Blaha.

In the fifth, Taylor was hit by a pitch, Bret Bowles reached on a fielder's choice and Scott Ellenwood sacrificed. But a pop up ended the inning.

CLC looked like it had a chance to score early in game two. The Lancers could not capitalize on a pair of first inning walks.

A single, double, hits-batsman and a sacrifice fly accounted for the first Waubensee run.

Aggressive baseball paid off for the Chiefs in the third. A walk, a stolen base, a bunt single and delayed steal added up to the winning run.

Salata and Taylor drew walks in the fourth and Tom Junkel was hit by a pitch. But another pop up killed another CLC rally.

CLC dented the scoreboard for the first and only time in 14 inning day in the sixth. Jeff Randall walked and pinch-runner Casey O'Connell scored on a double by Taylor. But Taylor was thrown out at third by Waubensee's right fielder.

Bob Olson doubled in the seventh but the Lancers could not get the key two-out hit.

"They are improved. They put the ball in play and do not make a lot of mistakes," Hanson said of Waubensee.

"When you don't hit the ball, you don't win. We put absolutely no pressure on them. I was worried about our hitting because we were popping up so much. We were not just popping up, but not hitting the ball," Hanson lamented. "We were in position to score runs and we did not do it. It is sad

Carmel's tough road continues

It is not that Carmel High has not had luck in East Suburban Catholic Conference baseball games.

It is just the luck has all been bad.

The Corsairs were still looking for that elusive first win following a 4-3 loss to St. Viator Monday. The winning run was second in the seventh inning on a bases loaded, one-out walk.

Carmel was swept by Marist and Notre Dame for an 0-7 ESCC record, 5-9 overall.

"We played pretty sound defensively and did a lot of things well," Coach Chuck Gandolfi said of the Viator game.

Scott Scripture and Mike Burens keyed the offense but it was Eric Ames who was pegged as the losing pitcher.

"We are playing very good competition. We want to rise to their level," Gandolfi said. "We are playing pretty much with seven juniors starting."

Carmel hits the road again April 29 with a doubleheader at Benet before facing St. Patrick away May 1.

O'Dwyer, Baczek to earn playtime with Jets

Matt O'Dwyer and Todd Baczek will be together again next week, but instead of wearing the purple of Northwestern it is time to don the green and white of the New York Jets.

O'Dwyer was the first pick of the second round of the NFL draft. Baczek was not drafted but worked out a free-agent deal with the American Football Conference team.

"It was kind of funny how it ended up. When their line coach (Bill Muir) came, they showed a lot of interest in both of us," Baczek said.

The draft day came and went at Baczek's Arbor Vista home without the thrill of an announcement. But it was a different case for O'Dwyer, the 33d pick overall.

"We were happy that he got the 33d pick. It is a great honor considering the thousands of kids who play. It is a great opportunity for him," O'Dwyer's coach at Stevenson High, Bill Mitz said.

"I was not worried - I knew I would be drafted sometime. I'll continue to do the same thing I have done the last five years - to do my best and work hard," O'Dwyer said.

He said the 1985 Bears' Super Bowl winning team as a team he looks up to.

"We changed a lot since we were first here," he said of Northwestern football. "But I wish we had more victories."

O'Dwyer and Baczek both were regulars on all-conference teams for Stevenson and Carmel High, respectively. Now they will be trying to earn the respect of new Jets coach Rich Kotite. Kotite brought many assistants with him from Philadelphia, including the offensive line coach.

The Jets were a team in need of offensive linemen. They lost three to free agency and picked up the Lake County Duo. Both left Thursday for mini-camp.

O'Dwyer had been seen as first-round pick by Pittsburgh, but stayed on the board until the Jets selection.

Baczek said he expects to play at about 295 pounds at guard.

He has no regrets about his Northwestern days.

But for now, it is time to pack up the Jets souvenirs and head East.

School proms conflict with sporting events

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Lake County's annual boys track invitational may be without some of the better teams this year.

Due to high school proms scheduled on the same night of the Lake County Invitational May 5, Antioch will not be represented at the track meet, and Carmel will not be in full force. Both schools have emerged as among the top five track teams this year. It is still questionable whether Zion-Benton, another rising track team, will be represented at the meet as well.

Stevenson High School is hosting the Lake County Invitational, and SHS Athletic Director John Martin said the event was scheduled over a year ago.

"We announced last spring that we were scheduling this for May 5. I have contracts from all over the county. I'm just missing a few," he said.

Antioch track Coach Norm Hahn said he has been trying to get the invitational changed to a Thursday to accommodate schools that have prom on Friday nights in May. Antioch is holding its prom May 5.

"I'm really disappointed. I've been trying to get it changed," Hahn said. "So far, three of the top four schools will not be there. It's probably our best chance ever to win the county meet."

Carmel track Coach Jim Halford finds his competitive team in the same boat.

"It's disappointing. We looked forward to playing Antioch. Thursday would be perfect for us," Halford said. "It would have made for a really nice meet if everybody was there."

Martin contends scheduling county-wide events in May is difficult because of prom.

"No matter what day you pick, one school is going to have a conflict," Martin said. "There's prom on every weekend in May. In other words, there's not a good weekend in May to have prom if you're an athlete."

Lancers softball in title hunt

It is a mission the College of Lake County women's softball team has had in the back of its collective thinking since last month.

Now, the mission is almost a reality.

"We lost the first conference game to Morton 8-2 after surrendering six runs in the first inning. We then played them to the fifth inning of the second game before it was suspended. We want them to comeback and have to finish that game," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

The Lancers took large strides to that goal with a 14-4, 8-6 sweep over Elgin on Monday. The wins give CLC a 6-1 Skyway Conference record, with a twinbill left with Oakton May 2 at home. A split means another chance at Morton.

Boston qualifying brings marathoners to Races

Records in Lake County Races events may be in jeopardy when the 15th annual race begins April 30.

The runners report to Edina Park in Zion at 8:15 a.m. and the race course is 26.2 miles through eight north shore communities.

"Most of the top runners try to qualify for the Boston Marathon," Gretchen Bercaw, Lake County Races executive director, said.

Nearly 1,000 marathoners are expected. The race is one of two Boston marathon qualifying events. The other is in Chicago in October. They will be shooting for a 2:16:55 in the men's marathon and 2:50:35 in the women's marathon.

Christina Meyers of Wilmington, North Carolina is among the leaders in the women's marathon candidates. She ran a personal best in 2 hours, 51 minutes. Potentially the best Lake County runner is Beth Onines of Lake Zurich. She was eighth last year in 3:26:43.

The men's winner two years ago, Mitch Craib of Greensboro, North Carolina, is expected back. He won the race in 1993 in 2:27:45. Dave Polin, of Buffalo Grove was third in 1994 in 2:38:16.

Events include: marathon, half marathon, 10K, marathon relays, 3.5 mile fun run and walk and team competition

Jenny Spangler leads the half-marathon women's runner. Ann Schaeffers, a 30-year-old from Schaumburg, is a 1996 Olympic Marathon Trials qualifier.

The Races continue to support Glenkirk, which provides quality lifetime support and services for individuals with developmental disabilities.

The finish will once again be at Ravinia Park. Last year's half-marathon winners were Fred Schuler in 1:09:27 and Laurie Mizener in 1:20:27. Marathon winners were Allen Douglas in 2:36:24 and Donna Perkins in 3:03:39.

As in the past, a full lineup of weekend presentations will take place as well as final registration April 29 at the Sheraton North Shore Inn at Northbrook. Topics included Skin Cancer Prevention at 12 p.m. by Anthony Terese, M.D., Deep Water Running by Louis Montgomery at 1 p.m.; Conquering Running Injuries at 2 p.m. by Dr. Gary Friend, medical director of Lake County Races and Excellence From Behind the Pack by Russ Fry at 3 p.m.

The presentations are open to the public.

CLC settles for third place in league race

A return, if ever a brief one, to winning baseball helped College of Lake County gain a third-place finish in the Skyway Conference race.

The Lancers finished behind co-champs Oakton and Morton by splitting with Oakton Monday. CLC won the first game 5-4 to keep its title hopes alive but lost the second game 5-2. CLC ends league play at 6-4.

"We made some headway in the first game but then we slipped back in the second game," CLC Coach Gene Hanson said.

Bret Bowles was the winning pitcher in the opener while Scott Schupp suffered his first loss of the season in game two.

"We were down 4-0 after the first two innings, but Bret is the type of pitcher who gets stronger as the game goes longer," Hanson said.

After giving up 8 hits the first two innings, he gave up just one the rest of the way.

Matt Pulaski had 3 hits in the win with 2 doubles, a single and an RBI. Eric Blaha had a single and RBI and Bob Olson had an RBI triple for two third-inning runs.

Schupp, of Grayslake, had posted a 4-0 record before Monday's game.

"I am not the ace, I just try and do my job," he said.

Schupp said he has improved on his fastball this year.

The Lancers team, winners of 25 games heading into the final week, continues the duo which had their first baseball experiences in Grayslake some 10 years ago. Schupp and Steve Taylor played for the Grayslake Mohawks team.

Sunday was another blue one for the Lancers as they dropped a non-conference doubleheader to Blackhawk. CLC lost a 2-0 lead as Blackhawk scored 4 runs in the eighth inning off CLC relief pitching.

The second game was more of the same as the Lancers lost an early 1-0 lead on two runs in the seventh. Josh Williamson was the hard-luck loser in the first game.

"He pitched OK but we gave up six walks and a hit batter scored as well as the tying run scored on walk," Hanson said.

CLC, 25-17 overall, travel to DuPage April 29 before hosting the Skyway-N4C challenge April 30. CLC plays at 12 p.m.

Rivera paces Carmel to 3rd place at Lake Forest Invite

Carmel's track team came two points short of surpassing its goal as the Corsairs took third at the Lake Forest Invitational.

Antioch cruised by the nine-team pack with 136 points, while Carmel settled for third (103) just behind Glenbrook South (105).

"Although we figured to finish in second or third, we came two points short of what we hoped we could do," said Carmel Coach Jim Halford.

Junior sprinter Ruben Rivera led the Corsair crusade with first places in the 100-meter (:11.1) and the 400-meter (:50.9). He also earned a second place in the 200-meter (:22.7) and in the long jump.

"He definitely had an outstanding meet for us," Halford said. Mike Garbutt and Tine Hidalgo registered their personal bests in the 800 with times of 2:00.9 and 2:01.4 respectively.

Halford said the surprise of the day was the first-place win of the 3,200-meter relay team. A last-minute shuffle forced Halford to rearrange the relay team. John Horan, Tony Twerak, Tim Roder, and Shane Cannon came in with the winning time of 8:36.

"That was an extra bonus for us. I was ecstatic about that," Halford said.
